LODGE PLANNED—The Ohio Department of Natural Resources announced today that architects have been named to design a vacation lodge and cabins at Deer Creek Reservoir State Park. The reservoir was built by the U.S. Army Engineers as a part of the Scioto River basin flood control project and was completed in 1968. Recreational facilities already completed by the state include a swimming beach and a camping area as well as boating facilities.

State Names Architects For Deer Creek Park Lodge

Deercreek State Park's development as a full facility recreation area took another step forward today with the announcement by State Representative Myrl H. Shoemaker (D-Bourneville) that Natural Resources Director William B. Nye has selected an architect to prepare a conceptual design for a vacation lodge at the park.

Shoemaker said he has been advised by Nye that the Department of Natural Resources (DNR) will ask the State Controlling Board to release funds to have conceptual designs developed for lodges at both Deercreek and West Branch state parks.

Deercreek, a 7,006-acre park, is in Fayette and Pickaway counties about 20 miles west of Circleville. The 8,002-acre West Branch State Park is near Ravenna in Portage County.

The concept study for the recreation facilities at Deercreek will be done by two Columbus architectural firms, Phillip Markwood Architects, Inc., and Acock, White and Associates, Inc.

The work will include selecting a specific site at the park for a lodge and overnight vacation cabins, and determining the size of the complex and what types of service facilities, such as water and sewage treatment, will be necessary.

The size of the lodge may range from 90 to 120 rooms, depending on the configuration of the land at the site selected. The number of cabins to be built will be determined by the size of the site.

"The study will produce an artist's conception of the lodge and cabin complex, show the type of materials to be used and provide an estimate of the construction costs," Shoemaker said.

Deercreek, where a 232-site Class A camping area was opened last May, "is well on its way to becoming a full-facility park to meet the growing recreation needs of Central Ohio," Shoemaker said.

"The park is easily accessible from anywhere in Central or Southwestern Ohio," he noted. "It's within 50 miles of Columbus, Dayton, Springfield and Chillicothe, and is less than an hour's drive from more than two million Ohioans."

In addition to the camping area, Deercreek has a 1,700-foot sand beach on the 1,277-acre Deercreek Lake. The lake also is a popular fishing and boating spot. The park has two boat launching ramps and there are 123 boat tie-ups available from March 1 through November 1.

DNR recently began accepting reservations for rental of the "Harding Cabin" at Deercreek. The cabin was the summer home of Harry M. Daugherty, a Washington Court House native who was U.S. Attorney General under President Warren G. Harding.

The cabin, on the east side of the lake near the park office, was said to be a secluded gathering place for friends and supporters of Harding.

Shoemaker said the new park facilities will be financed with revenue bonds so the people who use the facilities will absorb most of the cost of building and operating them.

He said the new projects are a continuation of what has been done by the administration of Governor John J. Gilligan since 1970 to improve Ohio's state parks system.

"Nearly 5,000 acres of parkland has been purchased since 1970, and there have been numerous improvements such as additional campsites, cabins, hiking trails, and boating, swimming, and picnicking facilities," Shoemaker said.

The new lodges at Deercreek and West Branch will be the seventh and eighth overnight lodges in the Ohio state parks system. The existing lodges are at Burr Oak, Hueston Woods, Punderson, Salt Fork, Shawnee and Mohican state parks.

Recession Seen By Administration Economic Adviser

WASHINGTON (AP) — The nation is headed toward a recession and the Ford administration might as well admit it, says an administration economics adviser.

"Let's call a spade a spade," said Paul W. McCracken in a telephone interview Wednesday. "I think we are probably in the early stages of what could turn out to be a V type recession."

That means a recession which is sharp but brief and looks like a "V" on a graph, in contrast to prolonged declines in economic activity, McCracken explained. He indicated he thought the worst would be over by mid-1975.

McCracken said unemployment could approach 7 per cent and the decline in economic output about 4 per cent next year. Another administration economic adviser, L. William Seidman, said his best guess on unemployment would be about 6.5 per cent.

McCracken, a former chairman of former President Richard M. Nixon's Council of Economic Advisers, now serves as a part-time consultant to Treasury Secretary William E. Simon. He also recently was named by President Ford to help compile his new economic program after the economic summit meetings.

While McCracken said it was a moot point to argue whether the economy is in a recession, as President Ford has claimed it is not, "my judgment is that we're probably moving into one."

McCracken, a professor of economics at the University of Michigan, does not rank as an official administration spokesman, and the administration continues to shy away from describing the current economic condition as a recession.

Seidman said in a separate meeting with newsmen Wednesday that it is hard to put a label on the economy at the present time. For some industries, such as furniture and steel, he said there is no recession. For housing, he said there is a deep recession.

"Inflation certainly is the No. 1

enemy, but stagflation is right behind it," said Seidman. "It's better to say we have two problems."

Stagflation is a term currently being used to describe a condition of economic stagnation and inflation. "The current lack of growth in the economy is a problem," said Seidman.

McCracken said his forecast of recession does not mean he is criticizing Ford's economic advisers, who he said are "doing an excellent job." He said he agrees with the administration's economic policies, including the 5 per cent income surtax proposal, but added he does favor a further easing of the tight money policies of the independent Federal Reserve Board.

Defense Lawyers Hammer At Dean As Opportunist

WASHINGTON (AP) — John Mitchell's defense lawyer in the Watergate cover-up trial focused today on differences between John Dean's trial testimony and what Dean told the Senate Watergate committee 16 months ago.

William G. Hundley reminded Dean that he had testified at the trial about a long telephone conversation he had with Mitchell on June 22, 1972, in which he reported on the progress of the FBI investigation of the Watergate break-in.

In his second day of cross-examining Dean, Hundley noted that Dean never mentioned the Mitchell conversation in his Watergate committee testimony. Mitchell is a former attorney general and is one of five defendants in the trial.

Hundley also pointed out that Dean never mentioned the conversation to a federal grand jury.

Asked by Hundley to explain, Dean said, "The first time I was asked about that was in this courtroom."

Hundley then turned to another conversation Dean had testified he had with Mitchell.

At the trial, Dean said he talked to Mitchell on the telephone on June 28, 1972.

Hundley reminded Dean that he had told the Watergate committee his conversation with Mitchell on the 28th was at a meeting and not on the telephone.

Mitchell later had told the committee he was out of town that day.

Dean said he subsequently recalled that he attended a meeting in Mitchell's office on June 28 but that Mitchell wasn't there and that he had called him later when the former attorney general returned to Washington.

In his cross-examination of Dean on Wednesday, Hundley sought to portray the former White House counsel as ready to sacrifice anyone to save his own skin when the Watergate cover-up began unraveling.

"John Mitchell never asked you to bite the bullet for him," Hundley said to Dean during cross-examination on Wednesday.

Hundley tried to get Dean to admit that he had tried to get Mitchell to step forward to take responsibility for the Watergate break-in.

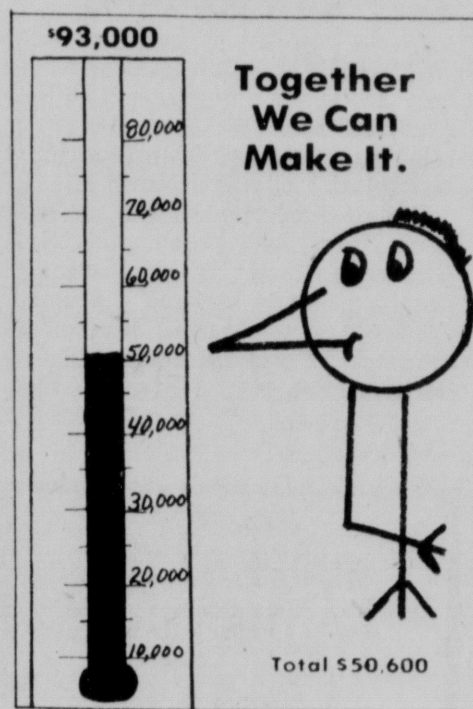

"You didn't have any information that Mr. Mitchell was responsible for the bugging," Hundley told the former White House counsel. "Yet you joined in a plan to have him step forward because that would save you."

Hundley was the second defense lawyer to cross-examine Dean, the leadoff government witness in the trial

Nixon Re-Enters California Hospital

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP) — Former President Richard M. Nixon, facing possible surgery, has re-entered the hospital here because home treatment for his phlebitis condition proved ineffective, his doctor says.

Nixon limped slightly but was unassisted as he walked through a rear service entrance to be admitted Wednesday night to Memorial Hospital Medical Center for the second time in three weeks. A spokesman for the hospital in this coastal city bordering Los Angeles said the former president was expected to be released by the end of the week.

Nixon apparently made the 50-mile trip from his San Clemente home to the hospital by car.

There had been no advance announcement that he was returning to the hospital. Jack Weiblen, hospital vice president, said Nixon was brought in after dark to reduce publicity.

"He covets his privacy," Weiblen said of Nixon, who resigned as president last Aug. 9.

Dr. John C. Lungren, Nixon's longtime personal physician, said Nixon was taken to the hospital after anticoagulant drugs proved ineffective in treating inflamed veins in Nixon's left leg.

"For the past few days oral anticoagulation medication has been inadequate," Lungren said in a statement to newsmen late Wednesday night.

He said a diagnostic radiology test called a venogram had been performed on the 61-year-old former president after his arrival and showed a "near total occlusion or blockage of blood flow" in the area of Nixon's left thigh.

Lungren noted that several blood clots were found in the swollen leg, but he added that "these clots could be old or fresh."

Nixon received anticoagulants Coumadin orally and heparin intravenously during his first hospital stay, 12 days ending Oct. 4. But only

Coumadin had been prescribed for him while he was convalescing at his oceanfront villa at San Clemente.

"If we're not capable of proving adequate prophylactic anticoagulation by oral Coumadin, then the possibility of surgical intervention must be considered," said Lungren. He has treated Nixon since 1952.

Lungren gave no indication what the surgery would involve or when it would be performed if results from Nixon's current hospitalization prove unsatisfactory. Other medical spokesmen were not immediately available to comment on the nature of such surgery.

During Nixon's recent hospitalization, a blood clot caused by the phlebitis moved from his left thigh, through his heart and lodged in his right lung. The decision to discharge Nixon from the hospital Oct. 4 was taken after Lungren determined the clot no longer posed a serious danger.

Lungren performed a lung scan on Nixon Wednesday night and concluded that the right lung was stable and "there was no evidence of any new involvement."

Markets

NEW YORK (AP) — Stock prices moved broadly lower for the third straight day today amid profit-taking and fear the country was entering a sharp recession.

The Dow Jones average of 30 industrial stocks at noon was off 11.27 at 633.76. Losers swamped gainers, 1,004 to 158 among 1,484 issues traded on the New York Stock Exchange.

Brokers said comments by Paul W. McCracken, economic adviser to Treasury Secretary William E. Simon, that the country was entering a "sharp" recession from which it would not emerge before mid-1975 spurred today's falloff in prices, which already had begun for technical reasons after the previous runup.

On the American Stock Exchange, the market-value index fell .68 to 67.91 as the most-active stock, Giant Yellowknife, a gold stock, advanced 1 1/4 to 13 3/4.

Arraignments Held In Common Pleas Court

Ten persons indicted by the last session of the September Grand Jury appeared before Judge William Ammer in Common Pleas Court for arraignment Wednesday. Five men also appeared during the session of court for sentencing.

Not guilty pleas were entered by Donald Eugene Donaldson, Ashville, for passing bad checks and Michael Eugene Hettinger, Laurelville, for felonious assault. Both cases will be heard at a later time but the court did not set a specific date.

Sylvia Denise Jenkins, Columbus, pleaded not guilty to perjury. Miss Jenkins was a juvenile at the time of her alleged crime but was brought to the adult court by Assistant County Prosecutor James R. Kingsley.

Two not guilty pleas were entered by Dennis Lee Boltenhouse charged with the rape and kidnapping of Darlene Sowers.

Donald E. Green, Charles Porter, and Cecil Green, all of Columbus, pleaded not guilty to charges of grand theft and breaking and entering. The men were indicted by the grand jury charged with taking tie plates from the C and O Railroad at Ashville.

Guilty pleas were entered by Pat M. Streitenberger, Route 1, Kingston, for two charges of forgery. The court ordered the adult parole authority to prepare a pre-sentence report of her.

John Thomas Neal also entered a not guilty plea to receiving and concealing stolen property. He will appear for trial at a later time.

Appearing on a secret indictment, John L. Monro, entered pleas of not guilty to all the charges against him for possession of hallucinogens for sale.

Also appearing on secret indictments were Thomas Dreher and Alan Hatcher. Both entered not guilty pleas, Dreher to breaking and entering and Hatcher to grand theft and breaking and entering.

Gary Congrove, charged with grand theft at Reynolds Metals, asked the court for a continuance so he could obtain legal counsel.

A final not guilty plea entered during the arraignment portion of the court session. James Edward Smith, pleaded not guilty to breaking and entering and grand theft. These charges also came from Reynolds Metals.

Appearing for sentencing after a conviction of breaking and entering Dr. R.S. Hosler's office in Ashville was Barry Smith, Route 1, Stoutsville. The court had ordered a pre-sentence report to be prepared earlier and had considered the findings on it before sentencing Smith to six months to five years in the Ohio State Reformatory for Men at Mansfield. The court suspended the prison term and placed the defendant on probation for three years.

After negotiations with county prosecutor Richard L. Gerhardt, William Fugate entered pleas of guilty to four charges of breaking and entering. Gerhardt then agreed to the dismissal of two other charges against Fugate including safecracking and theft. Judge Ammer sentenced Fugate to four concurrent terms of 1-5 years each in the Ohio State Penitentiary.

Melvin Lansing of Fayette County was sentenced to a term of six months to five years in the Mansfield Reformatory for passing bad checks. The court suspended the prison term and placed Lansing on probation for three years and ordered him committed to the Pickaway County Jail for 60 days.

The court ordered a six month to five year sentence on Richard Hensel officially beginning June 25 to coincide with a sentence passed in Montgomery County. Hensel was charged in Pickaway County with a bad check dating July 25, 1970.

A 10-20 year sentence in the Mansfield Reformatory was suspended against William Allison for possession for sale of hallucinogens. Ammer placed Allison on probation for three years and ordered him to serve 30 days in the county jail upon his graduation from high school.

The engine, placed in a friend's garage at the time of the theft, was valued at $337.

Police Charge Motorist With DWI

Carlene Carver, 34, Route 2, Laurelville, was arrested for driving while intoxicated following her single car accident 12:55 a.m. Thursday on W. High St.

She was treated at Berger Hospital for facial injuries suffered in the crash.

According to Circleville Police, she was driving east on W. High St. and drove off the railroad tracks attempting to make a right turn onto Western Ave.

Her 1974 model car fell into a deep ditch and sustained extensive damage.

Three Charged With Shoplifting

Three Route 1, New Plymouth, residents were charged with shoplifting by Circleville Police 4:46 p.m. Wednesday after they were found with $67.92 in merchandise apparently taken from the Buckeye Mart.

Police also found merchandise in their car allegedly taken from Murphy's, King's, and Penneys.

The trio were apprehended by Buckeye Mart security personnel after they were seen concealing and leaving the store with the items.

They are Charles, Donna, and Shirley Doherty.

NOT PITHY—David Stoer, Route 1, Williamsport, pulled these two fall radishes from his quarter-acre home garden Tuesday and discovered that they have a combined weight of about five pounds. Stoer sowed them with turnips July 25.

President Takes Campaign Into Heart Of Midwest

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Ford is venturing into America's breadbasket after signing legislation of intense interest to farmers that expands government regulation of the $500 billion-a-year commodities futures exchanges.

Aides said Ford planned to issue a statement today at Des Moines, Iowa, on the bill he signed into law six hours before the Wednesday midnight deadline.

The Iowa capital was the first stop in another day of campaigning for Republican candidates in Ford's effort to avoid what he calls "a veto-proof Congress."

From Des Moines he was heading for Melvin, Ill., and a fairgrounds celebration honoring retiring House GOP Whip Les Arends. After that, he scheduled appearances at two receptions and a Republican fundraising dinner in Chicago.

The legislation signed by Ford Wednesday night establishes an independent agency topped by a five-member commission to oversee trading of futures contracts. It also brings under regulation contracts that are exempt from various laws but still are subject to the rules of the largely self-governing exchanges.

In commodity future trading, farmers and other producers sell goods for delivery at some future date at a guaranteed price which they think will give them a fair return.

The annual Halloween Carnival, sponsored by the Ashville-Harrison P.T.A., will be held Saturday, in the school auditorium. A jitney supper will be served from 4:30 to 7 p.m.

A carnival will be held from 7:30 to 9 p.m. with games, prizes etc.

There will not be a regular October meeting of the organization. The next meeting will be held Nov. 21.

Saturday evening and overnight guests of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Bumgarner were her nephew and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Young of Bremen, Ind. Other callers were Mr. and Mrs. Carl Bumgarner and Doug. Young reported that this was his first visit to the Pumpkin Show in 42 years and the first visit for his wife.

The October meeting of the Auxiliary of the Ashville Community Post No. 730 of the American Legion was held at the Ashville Coffee Shop on Oct. 14 at 7:30 p.m. The following members were present: Ethel Siegle, Janice Stansbury, Mary Costlow, Ruth Cline, Edith Brown, Jane Wilson, Faye Sowers, Sonya Seymour and Dorothy Courtright.

Guests for the evening were Mrs. Pat Olaker, Seventh District of Ohio President and Mrs. Dorothy Worf. Mrs. Olaker reminded members of several events planned soon. On Nov. 10 at 2 p.m., the Fall Round Table will be held at the Circleville Post.

The "Gift Store" at the Veteran's Hospital will be held on Dec. 4 and 5 at 8 a.m. Their tree lighting ceremony will be on Dec. 9. Money was sent with her to be used for birthday gifts and candy for the Veterans at the Chillicothe Hospital.

At the November meeting each member is to bring a gift to be sent to the hospital as a Christmas gift for a Veteran.

Mrs. Ernestine Craig returned home this past weekend after visiting with her sister-in-law and brother-in-law in Grotoes, Va. A point of interest was the visit to "Walton Mountain". The Hamner Home at Skyler, Va., is the setting for the Waltons television program.

Mrs. Craig talked with Mrs. Hamner, mother of Earl Hamner, creator of the series.

Mrs. Hamner told her over 40,000 people have been there to visit the area. A fence has been installed to prevent the visitors from carrying off mementos of the location. Mrs. Craig was asked by Mrs. Hamner to sign the guest book. Only those asked are privileged to sign the book.

Inflation In Disguise

Newsmen and other westerners stationed in Moscow for any length of time report the Soviet Union also is afflicted with inflation, but in a less obvious way than the West. There are no published indices on gross national product, rate of inflation, unemployment or average workers take-home pay.

As far as officialdom is concerned, there is no such thing as inflation in the Soviet Union. Officially, there are also no periodic shortages of grains and other farm products. But even the central planners must find some way around obvious dislocations in the market place.

One of their favorite inflation-fighting techniques is to eliminate lower-priced items in favor of "improved" — and higher priced replacements. Thus the cost of living inches up at the same time "posted" prices remained unchanged.

This is not a very subtle game, and no doubt few Soviet consumers are fooled. But the important economic rule in the Soviet Union is that only capitalish is afflicted with ills like inflation. Within the USSR the phenomenon obviously is nothing more than a reflection of a rising standard of living.

Poetic Pause

ON THE LINE
By BOB CONSIDINE

NEW YORK — Mary Brooks, Director of the Mint, sends us this modernistic prayer:

"Slow me down, Lord.
"Ease the pounding of my heart by the quieting of my mind.

"Steady my hurried pace with a vision of the eternal reach of time.
"Give me, amid the confusion of the day, the calmness of the everlasting hills.

"Break the tensions of my nerves and muscles with the soothing music of the singing streams that live in my memory. Help me know the magical, restoring power of sleep.

"Teach me the art of taking minute vacations — of slowing down to look at a flower, to chat with a friend, to pat a dog, to read a few lines from a good book.

"Slow me down, Lord, and inspire me to send my roots deep into the soil of life's enduring values that I may grow toward the stars of my greater destiny."

While we're on this wave band, here is a sobering credo found scribbled on the back of an envelope among the effects of the former chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission Gordon Dean, who was killed in a plane crash:

"LESSONS LEARNED:
"1. — Never lose your capacity for enthusiasm.

"2. — Never lose your capacity for indignation.

"3. — Never judge people, don't type them too quickly; but in a pinch never first assume that a man is bad; first assume always that he is good and that at worst he is in the gray area between band and good.

"4. — Never be impressed by wealth alone or thrown by poverty.

"5. — If you can't be generous when it's hard to be, you won't be when it's easy.

"6. — The greatest builder of confidence is the ability to do something — almost anything — well.

"7. — When that confidence comes, then strive for humility; you aren't as good as all that.

"8. — And the way to become truly useful is to seek the best that other brains have to offer. Use them to supplement your own, and be prepared to give credit to them when they have helped.

"9. — The greatest tragedies in world and personal events stem from misunderstandings. Answer: communicate."

A new record for expressing gratitude may have been set recently when a young San Franciscan, Richard P. Johnson, arrived at Miami International Airport after serving four years in a Cuban prison. He and three others had been released by Castro in the wake of the visit to Cuba by Senators Jacob Javits and Clairborne Pell.

"I can't put into words how good it is to be home," Johnson cried.

It was a movingly patriotic declaration, particularly in view of the fact that he had just been handcuffed by the FBI on a 1970 charge of helping to steal a light plane, which ran out of fuel over Cuban territory after a flight from Miami. (The Cuban government charged him and the pilot, Phil Burris, with carrying narcotics.) Johnson is free on a $25,000 bond posted by his parents. The least the D.A.R. could do would be to provide counsel.

Prof Says America Must Face Reality

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — An Ohio State University professor says the United States is in a temporary stage before finally facing up to the problems of reality following an era of "blind and unthinking materialism."

Dr. Paul G. Craig, professor of Public Administration and Economics, said he is optimistic about the long-range prospects for economic growth in America, despite the present declining standard of living in the U.S.

"There's no reason to think that after a period of adjustment...this country can't continue to grow as it did before," Craig said.

Addressing the Fourth Annual Women's Day at Ohio State University's Fawcett Center For Tomorrow, Craig said, "Americans had a blind faith in our ability to do everything we wanted to do, to get everything we wanted to get."

Craig said the national and world situation—inflation, the devaluation of the dollar, the oil embargo and needed environmental protection programs—have forced Americans to face reality.

"The era that is coming is going to be one of less material and more aesthetic concerns," Craig said. But growth, though of a different kind, will continue, he added.

Craig said he based his optimism for long-range growth on the present changing systems, structures and attitudes in world society.

Craig listed several facts that will affect the economic future in the U.S. The highly productive age structure and nearly zero population growth will allow for greater production and reduced consumption of goods, Craig explained, allowing more goods for fewer people.

Decreased proportional military spending, down from 10 per cent in 1969 to 6 per cent this year, will free that proportion of federal funding for other projects, Craig said.

The decrease in population also affects the state and local budgets, as schooling has been the largest single costly item since World War II, Craig said.

the labyrinth of the brain of Edward A. Hanna, off-beat Mayor of Utica, N.Y.

"Utica is a lousy place to live," he exploded the other day, in an angry assessment of the city of 91,000 population. He urged young Uticans to get out, find a fresh start in some happier clime.

He was roundly cheered by his supporters. He calls them, "my little people."

Why doesn't Hanna leave? Maybe it's because the city pays him a salary of $1 a year.

Projects, such as the interstate highways system costing $4 billion a year since the late 1950s, are nearly completed, Craig said, releasing funds for other needs.

Craig explained that all these factors will allow for continued economic growth in the U.S. He added, however, that Americans and the world will have to curb "aspirations beyond attainment."

"It's the greening of almost everyone that has led to world inflation" and other world problems, Craig said.

Thousands Of Lottery Tickets Stolen

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)—William Horrigan, head of security for the Ohio lottery, says thousands of lottery tickets have been stolen over the past 10 weeks, and hundreds of persons have won $20 prizes by presenting invalid tickets.

Horrigan said Tuesday he will recommend to the commission the hiring of a security staff of 10 persons to investigate the thefts of a total of 12,848 tickets and the fraudulent ticket claims which careless agents have paid.

Meanwhile, the lottery commission announced that eight persons will participate in the Buckeye 300 drawing in Lima Thursday.

Horrigan said there have been 98 burglaries since the first lottery tickets were sold Aug. 12.

There have been about 100 cases a week of fraud in the claiming of lottery prizes, he said.

The fraudulent claims were estimated at $14,000.

The commission has been reimbursing agents for all the prize money they have paid out, Horrigan said, but eventually all the illegally disbursed prize money will have to be paid back to the commission.

A commission official said there have been 14 instances of ticket number alterations.

And James Skelly, public relations director, said there have been some instances in which ticket agents reported tickets stolen then tried to claim prizes with some of the tickets said to have been stolen.

Horrigan said these cases are still under investigation, and no arrests have been made.

Skelly warned that tickets should be purchased only from authorized sales agents.

"If you buy a ticket from a guy on the corner, chances are it's stolen, and if it's stolen, it's valueless," he said.

Those getting a crack at the $300,000 to prize in Thursday's drawing include Robert L. Bailey of Toledo; Joseph Morganstern, Mansfield; Albert John Dvorsack Jr., Maple Heights; Carol Mitchell, Coshocton; Maria Szerencsy, Cleveland; Francis Boyer, Columbus; Emmett H. Wiley, Chesterland; and Daniel L. Deats, Lima.

Prizes of $60,000 and $30,000 also will be awarded, along with the $15,000 minimum each Buckeye 300 participant receives.

Wally Gant, a bachelor fishmonger from Yorkshire, England, officiated as best man for the 50th time in 1964. He first did the honors in 1931.

A 43-year-old ex-convict arrested Saturday for window peeping has been linked with the "shallow grave" slaying June 4 of a Columbus man, whose body was discovered along Big Walnut Creek near Ashville by youthful swimmers.

Three people were killed in auto accidents, two in Circleville, during the Pumpkin Show.

A hearing on a petition to clean and straighten Clements county ditch was set by Pickaway County Commissioners. Estimate of the work was $3,646. The ditch starts in Atlanta and ends at a branch of Hay Run.

Circleville Fire Chief Talmer Wise, equipped with a magnet attached to two lengths of women's hose, gathered 12 pounds of scrap metal from Circleville streets following the Pumpkin Show.

He Dug In Those Claws

YUBA CITY, Calif. (AP) — As Mrs. Shirley Cartosdelli, wife of Sutter County under-sheriff Frank C. Cartosdelli, drove down Yuba City streets recently, she wondered why everyone was pointing to her car and waving something other than a hello. When she got to her shopping center she discovered the reason.

In the luggage rack atop the car was the family cat. It was his favorite napping spot, but he didn't count on taking a ride. It took 10 minutes to pry him loose.

"The meat prices have really brought out the hunters this year."

Speaking Of Your Health

by Lester L. Coleman, M.D.

In the 30 years that we've been married I don't remember a day that my husband has not taken some kind of laxative.

During the past three months nothing seems to be very effective. I wonder if the laxatives have finally caused some permanent damage to his intestines.

Mrs. E. R., Ohio

Dear Mrs. R.: Letters from readers constantly reveal misconceptions about bowel habits.

Preoccupation with the need for "regularity" may well be the end result of advertisements.

In the absence of any gastrointestinal disease it is difficult to believe that reliance on laxatives for 30 years was necessary. Even the commercial manufactures warn that constant dependence on their product should be avoided.

In many sub-cultures, fatigue, headaches, irritability and insomnia are all attributed to constipation.

In most instances, the chronic laxative habit could be avoided by well-balanced meals, sufficient roughage and an adequate amount of water. I doubt that the dependence on laxatives itself has been responsible for the change in your husband's bowel patterns. Rather, it is necessary to study his intestinal tract to rule out other causes for his new type of constipation.

X-ray studies and sigmoidoscopy (rectal examination) are imperative for his complete safety.

My aunt has been told she needs an air test for her brain. Can you explain this?

Miss H. W., Minn.

Dear Miss W.: The test is known as pneumoencephalography. A small amount of air is painlessly injected into the spinal column.

The air diffuses around the brain and outlines it when it is X-rayed. This test is only one of many highly sophisticated methods of studying the brain.

Scanning devices, especially by EMI, a machine using radioisotopes and X-rays, can now reveal, with great accuracy, changes within and around the brain.

Aging To Become Major Problem

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — "Aging, that is growing old, is a problem in our society," an Ohio State University professor of psychology said Tuesday.

By the year 2000, one person out of six in the United States will be in the group of "older American" said Dr. Dorothy W. Jackson.

More people are living longer, Dr. Jackson said. As a result, the lives of the aged living now are different than those of the past century. The aged and their families must be taught to cope with the resulting differences and problems, she added.

The most significant change is in the marriage relationship, Dr. Jackson said. Couples now spend more years together without children and must learn to re-establish a husband-wife relationship.

Old folks must learn to cope with the physical changes of aging, the changes in role from parent to grandparent, the feeling of a loss of personal power and identity, the fear of loneliness following loss of a mate, the changing world and lifestyles around them, and the fear of senility and the fear of dying, Dr. Jackson said.

Society can cope with these problems, Dr. Jackson said, but only individual personal awareness will change the negative attitudes and myths about the over-65 generation and the process of growing old.

Speaking to a group of women attending the Fourth Annual Women's Day at Ohio State University's Fawcett Center For Tomorrow, Dr. Jackson asked each of them to think about their attitudes towards their aged parents or grandparents.

Dr. Jackson said most Americans picture old folks as sickly, accident-prone and unable to live on their own. She said this negative picture serves as a self-fulfilling prophecy in too many cases.

Conversely, many Americans revere the "golden age myth" which says the "best is yet to be" late in life, Dr. Jackson said.

In reality, neither picture is true, Dr. Jackson stressed. Americans must establish a realistic picture of being old and realize that there are more options available to the aged and their families than those defined by tradition and past relations.

Chrysler Earnings Decline

DETROIT (AP) — Chrysler Corp. has reported a third-quarter profit of $11.2 million in U.S. and Canadian operations and increased sales revenue worldwide. But the firm wound up losing $8 million for the quarter because of overseas losses.

The North American profits were offset by losses totaling $19.2 million overseas, Chrysler said.

The figures announced Tuesday show Chrysler still in the black for the year so far. The nine-month earnings are $21.4 million, an 88 per cent decline from $181 million a year ago, and a per-share drop from $3.42 to 38 cents.

It was only the second quarter in 3½ years that the nation's third largest auto maker reported a loss. General Motors and Ford Motor Co. plan to report their third-quarter results next week.

The loss came despite record revenues for the period. Sales totaled $2.8 billion, up from $2.3 billion for the third quarter of 1973.

Trading of the firm's stock was temporarily halted on the New York Stock Exchange Tuesday. It closed at 10¼, a low for the year.

Chrysler Chairman Lynn Townsend said the firm has been unable to recover $249 in material and labor costs added for each car since January 1972 despite price increases averaging about $1,000 since 1974 models came out a little more than a year ago.

Try To Fight City Hall

BELGRADE (AP) — Franc Cretnik, 64, was not flattered when the Social Security Service ignored 23 years of his life, thus preventing him from obtaining old-age insurance.

He was born in 1910, but a mistake in administration registered his birth year as 1933.

The administration privately confided to him that he looked a bit older than a man in his 40s but explained they had to act on the strength of documents rather than on personal impressions.

A ruling in an official document of the service specified that Cretnik had 30 years and 9 months of proven works period, which rules out the possibility of his getting old-age pension, since he was born in 1933. If he is dissatisfied with the service's ruling he is free to lodge an appeal.

"I would like to have been born later and thus be of age as is written. But the clerk in charge is away and I have to realize my rights without waiting for him, but this seems to be a difficult task," Cretnik says.

Hough Free On Appeal

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — James Hough, the flamboyant intermediary in the return of two stolen Rembrandt paintings, was expected to be released from jail on a $30,000 appeal bond today.

The 1st Ohio District Court of Appeals on Wednesday ordered the bond while Hough's conviction for extortion, harboring a felon and receiving stolen goods is appealed. He was sentenced to 3-20 years in prison.

Hough was found guilty of illegal activity in representing thieves who stole the paintings, valued at $1.5 million, from the Taft Museum last December. The $100,000 ransom was recovered with the arrests of three men.

The three pleaded guilty to lesser charges and testified against Hough.

City Schools Schedule Conferences

Fritz F. Jacobs, Superintendent, announced today that the Circleville City Schools will conduct the first of three scheduled parent-teacher conferences on Tuesday afternoon.

School will be dismissed at 12:10 for elementary and 12:50 for junior high and high school to allow the remainder of the day for scheduled conferences.

Conferences are by appointment only and are scheduled in advance of the conference day. Other parents not scheduled on this date will be scheduled at a later date.

The program is designed to offer the opportunity for direct parent-teacher understanding regarding the individual student's potential and achievement and to create a better understanding of the objectives of the school program.

During the past two years the conferences have been held and have proved to be quite successful.

Other conference days are scheduled for Dec. 4, and March 13, 1975.

Man Relives Gettysburg Battle

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—If the rumor should arise that a restless spirit is roaming the Gettysburg battlefield, believe it not.

That will be Warren Motts pursuing his hobby.

Motts, a professional Columbus photographer, has spent uncounted hours summer and winter, day and night, weekend after weekend for the last four years clicking his camera on the site of the famous Civil War battle.

His goal is a fully documented, illustrated lecture on the three-day battle from the viewpoint of the men who fought it. He figures it will be another six months before he reaches that goal.

It all began when he had to talk to a group of amateur photographers at the Y.W.C.A. "I got this idea of telling them how to photograph their vacations from a different point of view than the usual tourist," Motts said. "I thought of the Gettysburg thing as an example."

Following his own idea to Gettysburg, Motts found a majority of the photographs there "historically beautiful but poor photography." Gettysburg park officials, the Library of Congress and the National Archives officials gave him the same enthusiastic response to his idea of redoing the battle.

"I decided if I was going to do it, it had to be right," Motts said. "I didn't want historians looking at my work and saying it was photographically beautiful but poor history."

Motts read scores of books on the Civil War and checked incidents and locations against the Gettysburg terrain and farmsteads.

Carrying a Union soldier's canteen, wearing "an old pair of combat boots with bad soles" to simulate the footgear of the men who marched to Gettysburg, Motts "started out at sunrise at Marsh Creek, where the battle started."

He walked through the major events of the battle in sequence, moving from the various points at which troops were located. He visited the battlefield in the summer when heat and humidity compared with that the troops faced. He went back in winter when fields were bare to get a better sense of hills and streams and ravines.

"One of the most thrilling things," said Motts "was when I went through Pickett's charge, walked across that open field to the farthest point they penetrated.

"I stopped under a tree and it started to rain—just as one of the soldiers said it did that day."

Motts has no present plan to publish his photographic history.

"My main goal is to put something together to make you feel you were there and something I could leave for my kids and their kids," he said.

MR. AND MRS. GEORGE J. LEATHERWOOD

Cook-Leatherwood Rites Read In Ashville Church

The wedding of Miss Pamela Joan Cook and Mr. George Joseph Leatherwood took place 6:30 p.m., Aug. 24th, in Zion United Methodist Church of Ashville. The Rev. John Currens performed the double ring ceremony for the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Cook, Route 5, Circleville and the son of Mr. and Mrs. George Leatherwood, 133 W. Main St., Ashville.

Mrs. Gary L. Fortner, organist and Mr. Richard Cook, vocalist, presented a program of nuptial selections preceding the ceremony. The altar was adorned with vases of yellow and white pompon mums with smaller matching arrangements on the organ console. Candelabra with bows and greenery flanked the altar and the pews were decorated with white, green and yellow ribbons.

The bride was given in marriage by her father and mother. For her wedding she selected a formal length gown of white organza with a full sleeved empire bodice, delicate pink flowers of Venice lace at the high neckline, wrists and deep crystal pleated flounce on the skirt. The bride's lace edged mantilla of bridal illusion was held by a lace caplet. She carried a cascade arrangement of white miniature carnations, baby's breath, yellow roses and leatherleaf atop a Holy Bible.

Maid of honor, Miss Jody Harris, wore a floor length gown of yellow with short puffed sleeves and lace and ribbon at the empire waist and high neckline. A picture hat matched her gown and she carried a cascade bouquet with miniature white carnations, yellow pompon mums and baby's breath.

Bridesmaids were Mrs. James Smith, sister of the bride and Mrs. Roger Cook, sister-in-law of the bride. They were gowned as the honor attendant in green and carried matching bouquets with green pompon mums.

Flower girl, Miss Brenda Kay Knapp, wore a yellow dotted swiss floor length gown made by the bride. She carried a basket of flower petals. Mrs. Jeffery Singleton, sister of the bride, presided at the guest book.

Mr. Gregg Peck of Circleville performed the duties of best man for his friend. Ushers were Mr. Garry Cotton and Mr. Bill Welsh, both of Ashville.

The bride's mother wore a formal length light green gown with long sleeves and white accessories, and a corsage of miniature white carnations with yellow roses.

The bridegroom's mother wore a red, white and blue dress with an empire waist and long skirt, and blue accessories. Her corsage was of red and white miniature carnations and roses.

A reception in the social room of the church immediately followed the ceremony. The four tiered wedding cake was decorated with yellow sweet peas, bride and groom figures placed between layers and topped with yellow and white pompons and a cross. Yellow and white pompons and greenery encircled the cake flanked with silver candleholders with yellow tapers.

Hostesses were Miss Linda Leatherwood, Mrs. Kelly Leatherwood, Miss Cathy Noecker and Mrs. Ralph Willoughby.

For a wedding trip to Tennessee and Kentucky, the bride wore a blue and white printed dress with white accessories. The couple now resides in Circleville.

The bride graduated from Teays Valley High School and Eastland Vocational School of Cosmetology. She is currently employed at Bev's House of Beauty in Ashville.

The bridegroom, also a graduate of Teays Valley High School, is a student at Circleville Bible College.

Special guests at the wedding were grandparents of the bride, Mr. and

Circleville Instructor Wed In Warren Church

Miss Wendy McGee, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James A. McGee, Warren, and Mr. William B. Clutterbuck, son of Mr. and Mrs. William J. The bride was given in marriage by her father. For her wedding she

Circleville Club Will Observe National BPW Week

Circleville Business and Professional Women's Club is observing National Business Women's week. In 1928 the celebration was begun by the National Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs, the largest and oldest group organized for working women.

To help salute the combined energy of all working women, the local club has planned two events.

On Thursday at 6:30 p.m. a dinner session will be held at Pickaway Arms with the legislative committee in charge. William A. Stout will be guest speaker. Margaret Remy, chairman, is being assisted by JoAnn Brink and Maxine Wilson.

A brunch scheduled for 10:45 a.m. Saturday will also be at Pickaway Arms.

Halloween Party Held By Saltcreek Town, Country Club

Members of Saltcreek Town and Country Club arrived at the home of Edith Everett, Route 1, Laurelville recently in Halloween costume for a party and brief business meeting. Co-hostesses were Beverly Carper and Lois Jones.

Wanda Seimer led the 18 members in the Pledge to the Flag of the United States of America and the Junior Club Pledge. For devotions Beverly Carper read the 23rd Psalm.

Prizes for costumes were awarded to Jean Speakman, Donna Strous, Wanda Seimer and Phyllis Ross.

It was agreed to have a ham and bean dinner on Nov. 23rd at the Saltcreek Twp. School with serving from 4:30-8 p.m. Members voted to make a donation to war veterans for Christmas.

The next meeting will be observance of Guest Night in the home of Mrs. Donald Maxson, Route 4, Chillicothe.

Wedding Vows Read Oct. 12th

Walter Mansberger and Marie Holiday, both of Lancaster, exchanged wedding vows Oct. 12th in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Paul H. Cornwell, Route 5, Circleville. The Rev. Alonzo Hill officiated the ceremony.

The bride wore a formal length blue gown with long fitted sleeves of lace.

A reception in the Cornwell home followed the ceremony. The bride's table was centered with a three tiered cake decorated with blue roses and topped with bride and groom figurines. Enhancing the table was a fall foral arrangement.

Guests for the dinner and the reception were: Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Murray, Chillicothe; Mr. and Mrs. Paul E. Cornwell, Orient; Mrs. Virginia Cornwell, Circleville, mother of the bride; the Rev. and Mrs. Alonzo Hill, Circleville and Dale Cornwell, and Paul H. Cornwell, Route 5.

Mrs. Roland Cook and grandmother of the groom, Mrs. Edward Leatherwood.

selected a formal length gown of ivory cotton lace in Victorian style with satin ribbon on the sleeves and around the empire waistline with a front bow. Her picture hat was enhanced with a lace brim and veiling falling softly down the back. She carried a dried Williamsburg bouquet of strawflowers and baby's breath accented with blues and browns.

Miss Gail McGee of Columbus, sister of the bride, wore an ivory and blue flowered gown and a blue picture hat. She carried a bouquet of dried flowers predominately blue and green.

Bridesmaids were Miss Debbie Pryce of Columbus and Miss Sandy Myers of Willoughby. They were gowned identically to the honor attendant and carried matching bouquets.

Mr. Robert Clutterbuck, Cleveland, brother of the bridegroom, was best man. Ushers were, Dr. Charles A. Bush, Dr. Charles R. Bush, Dr. H. Craig Slesman and Mr. Scott Andrews, all of Columbus.

A reception at El Rio Restaurant in Warren followed the ceremony. The couple now resides at 584 Stinchcomb Drive, Columbus.

The new Mrs. Clutterbuck graduated in June, 1974, from the Ohio State University. She is employed as a home economics teacher at both the junior and senior high schools of Circleville. Mr. Clutterbuck is a senior in the college of medicine at the Ohio State University.

Wedding Vows Repeated In Ashville Church

MR. AND MRS. CARL C. SCHEIN JR.

St. Paul Lutheran Church of Ashville was the setting for the marriage of Miss Janet Arlene Derr and Mr. Carl C. Schein Jr., 2:30 p.m., Sept. 22nd. The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Alva Derr, Route 1, Ashville and the late Mr. Alva Derr. Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Carl Schein, Route 2, Circleville.

The Rev. H. L. Strauch officiated the double ring ceremony before the altar adorned with a large centerpiece of orange gladioli flanked with candelabra decorated with large orange bows and greenery, orange gladioli, baby's breath and greenery as were the pews. A bouquet of Fuji mums, in memory of the bride's father, was placed on the piano.

Mr. Edwin Hann of Obetz, cousin of the bride, was organist.

The bride was given in marriage by her mother and brother, Mr. Jeffrey T. Derr. For her wedding day the bride made a gown of organza over bridal satin with Irish lace motifs on the long full sleeves, high collar, bodice and skirt. The cuffs and chapel length train were accented with matching lace and organza ruffles. The empire waistline was trimmed with Irish lace. Her headpiece of matching lace motifs held blusher and cathedral length veils. The bride carried a cascade bouquet of white roses, yellow miniature carnations, baby's breath, ivy and sprengeri. Her only jewelry was an opal and diamond necklace, a gift of the bridegroom.

Miss Julie Derr served her sister as maid of honor. She wore a peach colored floor length gown of crepe de chine with a sweetheart neckline, short petal sleeves and A-line skirt with a ruffle at the hemline. She carried an arm bouquet of dried baby's breath, wheat sheaths, peach sweetheart roses and yellow miniature mums.

Bridesmaids were Miss Christy Ranft, cousin of the bride, and Miss Jane Schein, sister of the bridegroom. They were dressed identically to the honor attendant in yellow and carried matching bouquets. The attendants wore opal necklaces, gifts of the bride.

Mr. Mark Schein performed the duties of best man for his brother. Ushers were Mr. Jeffrey Helser, Mr. Jay Derr and Mr. Jack Derr, brothers of the bride, and Mr. John Schein, brother of the bridegroom.

The bride's mother was attired in a street length dress of crepe in shades of orange, yellow and beige. Her corsage was of white roses, miniature yellow carnations and baby's breath. The bridegroom's mother wore a street length blue knit dress trimmed with gold buttons. Her corsage was identical to that of Mrs. Derr.

A reception in the hall of the church followed the ceremony. An arch decorated with greenery and bells was the background for the bride's table. The four tiered wedding cake was accented with yellow roses and topped with miniature bride and groom figurines. Silver candelabra flanking the cake were enhanced with sprengeri, baby's breath and miniature yellow mums.

Hostesses were Mrs. Barry Fox, Mrs. Gary McDonald, Miss Cathy Miller and Miss Christy Miller, all cousins of the bride.

For a wedding trip to Michigan and Canada the bride wore a street length dress of melon colored knit accented with contrasting collar and cuffs. The couple now resides at 5187 Orchard Court, Groveport.

The bride is a graduate of Teays Valley High School. She attended the Ohio State University and is presently employed as a dental assistant.

The bridegroom graduated from Westfall High School and Wilmington College where he received a BS in agriculture. He is employed by Van Camp Agri-Systems, a division of Van Camp Contracting.

Out-of-town guests at the wedding were from Columbus, Reynoldsburg, Dayton, Hebron, Obetz, New Holland, Piketon and Sabina.

Dear Abby:

By Abigail Van Buren

Old Story With Fancy Words

DEAR ABBY: Chuck and I have been married for 20 years. I was 17 and he was 18 at the time, and we were very much in love. I still am, but I'm not so sure about Chuck.

Recently Chuck expressed the need for less togetherness and more freedom to explore and develop ourselves as individuals. We talked it out and he admitted that his basic need was sexual experimentation. Chuck says he doesn't want to deceive me, but his need has now become an obsession.

We have three children and everything to stay together for. Chuck suggested one night out a week for both of us and no questions asked. I don't want another man, and I'm afraid if I agree to such an arrangement, Chuck might find someone else.

Please advise me.

CHUCK'S WIFE

DEAR WIFE: Chuck has suggested in highfalutin language that you both swing with others. To my way of thinking (and regardless of what married swingers say) this would signal the beginning of the end.

DEAR ABBY: I have had the same beauty operator for about three years. I like her work very much, but she does something that I find very irritating, and I am amazed that somebody hasn't called her on it.

She addresses her patrons by their last names. "Johnston, I'll be with you in a moment. Smith, you're not dry yet. Jones, take the first dryer."

Perhaps most of her customers are either used to it, or they don't mind, but I find it rather rude.

Am I being petty? Or shouldn't a hairdresser address her patrons as either Miss or Mrs.?

CALL ME MRS.

DEAR CALL ME: A hairdresser (and anyone else who performs a personal service) should address clients as "Miss" or "Mrs." unless she is asked to address them in some other way. If it irritates you, tell her. No sense getting hotter under the dryer.

DEAR ABBY: I sure hope you can help me. I am 14, and already I am ruining my life. My problem is I am always lying to impress people, shock them, or just to get attention, I guess. If I tell the truth, I stretch it so much, it's not the truth any more.

I have told some terrible lies that got a lot of people into a lot of trouble. Once I scratched my own face up, and told everyone that my mother did it, just to get people to feel sorry for me. I don't take drugs or anything like that. I just lie and make up stories. I'm such a good liar I almost believe some of the things I make up. Please help me to stop lying, Abby. I don't have a friend in the world.

DON'T SIGN THIS

DEAR DON'T: Chronic lying is a symptom of a deeper emotional problem. You need professional

Darlene Rathburn Honored With Bridal Shower

A bridal shower honoring Miss Darlene Rathburn was held recently in the home of Mrs. Sharron Rathburn of Ashville. Co-hosting the event attended by 35 guests was Miss Bonnie Rathburn.

Peach and yellow, the colors selected by the honored guest for the wedding, were used to decorate a cake and the home.

counseling. If your school has a psychologist, ask to see him (or her). If none is available, ask your mother to arrange an appointment with someone at your local mental health clinic. The person who knows he has a problem and seeks help is well on the way to solving it. Good luck.

Gilligan, Rhodes Lock Horns

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) As the campaign for governor enters its final weeks, all but one of the published polls give incumbent Gov. John J. Gilligan the edge, but shows James A. Rhodes coming up fast.

Rhodes, 65-year-old former two-term Republican governor, calls it a "neck and neck" race. A Columbus Dispatch poll shows Rhodes with an edge, but terms the race too close to call.

Other polls, possibly outdated within two weeks, show Gilligan running as much as 11 percentage points ahead, but even Gilligan's staff doesn't believe the margin is that much.

"I would say that is a little high," said Robert Tenenbaum, Gilligan's press secretary.

Most of those familiar with polling think the spread should be around 6 per cent. Except Rhodes, that is.

"We're going to win," he said flatly.

Rhodes has received the endorsement of two major newspapers, but other major newspaper endorsements to date have gone to Gilligan.

Rhodes has been hitting hard on an $80.5 million surplus in the budget

Statewide Dental Care Program Set

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Some $2 million will be used to underwrite a statewide dental care program for Ohio school children and six regional Pediatric Pulmonary Care Centers, if a plan is approved by a U.S. District Court in New York, Atty. Gen. William J. Brown announced Tuesday.

The funds are part of Ohio's $3.7 million settlement with five drug companies. A 1968 lawsuit was filed by the Ohio attorney general, along with the U.S. Department of Justice, several other states and individual consumers, against the companies for allegedly fixing the price of tetracycline from 1953 to 1966.

Tetracycline, one of the first widely prescribed broad-spectrum antibiotic drugs, is used against bacterial infections, particularly respiratory diseases.

The $2 million represents money remaining in an "unclaimed consumer fund" left after consumers who thought they had been overcharged for the drug filed claims.

If the proposals, selected by a five-member council, are approved by the court, the money will be equally distributed between the two programs.

The Metropolitan Health Planning Corp., of Cleveland would receive $1 million to provide a system of dental education, with the assistance of the Ohio Dental Association, on a no-cost basis to every school district in Ohio.

The pulmonary care centers, to be located in Akron, Cincinnati, Cleveland, Dayton, Toledo and Columbus, would receive funds to develop and support a network of treatment centers for chronic pulmonary disorders in children.

INTERNATIONAL HARVESTER

found nine days after Gilligan denied any existed, a turnaround the governor blamed on bad staff information.

In a series of radio commercials entitled "Days to Remember," Rhodes recounts the surplus announcement, the closing of state parks and the passage of the state income tax, which he said was sold to benefit schools.

In a speech in Mayfield Heights, Rhodes said seven Ohio schools were in process of closing and that many more will have to close by Jan. 1 "unless they get the state income tax money that the present governor promised them."

Generally Rhodes cites those items to support his overall charge that "Gilligan is guilty of widespread mismanagement of state affairs."

Gilligan has argued that before he became governor mental patients in state institutions lived in "unbelievable, deplorable conditions without proper care."

In four years, he contends, the situation has been turned around, with more doctors, nurses and ward attendants to see that those who can't take care of themselves have somebody to do it.

The state income tax, he said, put schools on their best financial footing in years, although they will have problems because inflation keeps eating away at their financial support.

Of his accomplishments, Gilligan said, "They are not as easy to see as a highway, a bridge or a lodge in a state park or something."

"It is true that Mr. Rhodes, during his years in office, borrowed more money than any governor in the history of the state and spent it on highways, bridges and various kinds of physical improvements of the state which were highly visible and highly tangible."

"Our effort has been to improve the quality of services in the field of education or in the kind of care that we give the mentally ill and the mentally retarded in mental hospitals, or in our community centers."

When all these things are judged, Gilligan contended, "One has to agree that it makes Ohio a better place to live and a better place to raise our children."

Rhodes has argued that state mental hospitals had more psychiatrists when he left office than they now have. He called Gilligan's statements "puffery."

The former governor also argued that the Gilligan administration doesn't understand bond issues. Many improvements his administration accomplished, he said, couldn't have been done without them.

Gilligan, he said, "will have to double the income tax to provide everything he has promised."

Williamsport News

By EILEEN EASTERDAY, Phone 986-3481

Well, now, let me tell you there is no question about it, I fell madly in love during the Pumpkin Show. The object of my adoration is debonair, sparkling eyed, eleven-month-old Jason Paul Lambert who has a smile that walks away with your heart. He has that "downeast" New England charm and charisma of his papa who just happens to be Francis Paul Lambert and mama is our own Norma Louise Easterday Lambert, a very popular Round-towner.

Norma is a former talented baton twirler with the Tiger band. The Lambert trio and daughters Cherie and Lisa Lehman drove in from their Norwich, Conn. digs to be a part of the great Pumpkin Show. They were the house guests of parents Forrest and Leona Easterday from Tuesday until this Monday.

Another heart stealer, little four-year-old Miss Holly Minor of Kingston, our niece and the daughter of Roger and Jackie Easterday Minor, guested with us from Thursday until Saturday and enjoyed all the sights, sounds, fun and games of the big P.S. And we thoroughly enjoyed Holly.

Also our guests for the big show were Maria Martha Arguello (our daughter from Nicaragua), Ana Arguello and Maria Isabella Abir (also from Nicaragua). All three girls are freshman this term at Mount St. Joseph College at Cincy.

The girls had one word to describe the Pumpkin Show and I quote "Delicious". Whatever was made with pumpkin they tried in the true spirit of it all. We sent pumpkin cookies back to school with them for the Sisters and classmates. The girls just couldn't believe their eyes when they saw the tremendous crowds.

This writer is very appreciative of the warm and courteous reception extended to our girls. And especially do we thank Sue Barnhill and Terry Agin for allowing them to stand on the Main St. stage on Friday night to view the last few minutes of the parade. Their bus arrived quite late at Washington C.H. and the saving of energy resources was forgotten as we blazed the trail from C.H. to Circleville in hopes the girls could see the parade. There was no way they could have made their way through the ten to twelve row deep spectators—hence the generous offer to view from the stage.

Nice gestures like that are what makes Pickaway Countians beautiful.

The late Saturday night snow proved to be exciting and even more so when we were all sitting watching a vampire chiller on TV and the electricity went kaput. I don't think we ever really convinced them it was weather caused.

Papa Bill and Marc had a blast on Sunday driving the girls all around town in their pride and joy—their 1925 Model T. Late in the afternoon our girls (all three insist this is home and we are mama and papa), Dolly Thompson and yours truly headed out for Cincinnati.

It was the ending of a perfectly happy three days. Now we are looking forward to when they will be home a week from Thursday for another three days—they have a bit of a holiday since Nov. 1 is All Saints Day and there will be no classes.

Hey, super fantastic news!!! I am reliably informed that in the very near future we will have a Flo-Lizer plant located in Woodlyn, a suburb of Williamsport. It is encouraging to have an old established firm expand its operation into our area. Welcome, welcome!

Back to Pumpkin Show tidbits—there are readers who might be interested in knowing that Williamsport once again has a real interest in the beautiful part of the festivities. Laurie May, the newly crowned queen, is a granddaughter of Mr. Royal Hamman and the late Doris Hamman. Furthermore, she is a cousin to Cindy Hamman, last year's first attendant. Laurie's mother (Markie May) and Cindy's father (Jim Hamman) are sister and brother. Now, the 1974-75 second attendant, Lisa Creamer is also Cindy's cousin. Lisa's mother (Jerrianne Myers Creamer) and Cindy's mother (Jeanine Myers Hamman) are sisters. Beauty is very much a family affair, wouldn't you agree?

Roger and Marsha Clark and young son Todd of Cridersville reserved a portion of their vacation time just for Pumpkin Show. It was Todd's very first show. While here they stayed with parents Johnny and Doris Reynolds.

Roger (former Westfall chief) and Sue Beck and two blonde images Stacey and Mike journeyed down from Mt. Gilead and overnighed Friday with Marvie baby and Dolly Thompson and their clan, Vicki, Shirley, Brad and German Naranjo. More P.S. visitors.

Happiness is having someone you know and like be the winner of the grand champion Pumpkin Show float. Mucho congratulations Jim and Belle Sowers! May this only be the first of many, many more grand champions.

Jack and Patti Brayshaw, Pete and Pearl Cochenour went from the sublime to the ridiculous weatherwise last week. Thursday they returned Williamsport way from a fabulous

Florida vacation where they had the facilities of a mobile home at their disposal, courtesy of a friend of Jack's. From this Lake Wales base they did all the tourist things including Disney World. They spent time with Jack and Pearl's brother, Bill Brayshaw and his family at Tampa.

To add to the enjoyment of the vacation the foursome traveled one route going and another coming home. After all that gorgeous Florida sunshine they get back here in time for the much talked about October snow. Twenty-two years ago on Saturday night of the Pumpkin Show it also snowed. Papa Bill and I were there.

The Cochenours were pleasantly surprised to have cousin Mrs. Fay Bennett of Oswego, Ill. along with Mrs. Susan Stamp and daughter Christi of Montgomery, Ill. show up on their doorstep over the weekend. The Illini had come in for the world wide attraction.

Viola Adams, a recent patient at Berger Hospital, is thankful to all who remembered her with cards, flowers and visits while she had the misfortune to be hospitalized. She reports she received excellent care from the hospital personnel and Dr. Lutz and is most grateful to them, too. Viola is now at home recuperating but expects to be hospitalized again in the near future.

The upcoming production, "The Sound of Music", to be presented by The Roundtown Players Nov. 6-10 should be of real interest to our villagers. Why? One of the lead roles is portrayed by Katie Schneider, who if memory serves me well, is a sister and sister-in-law of Nathan and Ruth Barnes Wilson; A supporting role is handled by Barbara Kibby, our Westfall band director Jim Kibby's wife; another supporting role went to Dan McCain which is of much interest to us since Dan is Mike's brother and Mike means a lot to our family (special to Becki); a cast member Dawn Morrison is a daughter of Mrs. Lois Morrison and the late Kervyn Morrison; another cast member Lisa McCoy is a daughter of Glenn and Lois McCoy, former residents; and there could very well be more ties that I am unaware of since also appearing will be Larry Blum, Jo Ann Brink in lead roles; Diane Berger, Marilyn Sprenger, Barb Dowd, Judy Fischer, Brad Fisher, Kathleen Higgins, Kaari Blum, Gena Ross, Carrie Teegardin, Rene Saxton, Helen Blum, Gladden Troutman in supporting roles; Barbara Alkire, Jeff Smallwood, Helen Allison, Steve Stevenson, Marty Sharrett, Evelyn Perdion, Pat Stonerock, Bill Allison, Sandy Adams, Max Wagner, Jim Parthemore, Jenny Berger, Paula Kingsley, Beth Hovermale, Janice Perdion, Sherri Fausnaugh, Marilyn Brehmer, Mary Allardyce, Carolyn Capper, Linda Davis, Melinda Perkins, Melanie Shutter, Kathy Fisher, Lois Ann Rustin, Terri Ross, Andrea Downing, Jody Wells and Janet Spring, cast members.

If this production is on the same excellent level of all other Roundtown Player presentations that it has been my pleasure to attend then it will be a time well spent and I urge and encourage each and every reader to purchase tickets as soon as they go on sale. Five performances will be given in The Memorial Hall Theatre. Curtain time is 8 p.m. November 6-9 and a 2 p.m. matinee on Nov. 10.

Clara Teegardin, musical director, will coordinate the vocalists and the 25-piece Circleville Chamber Orchestra. The Rodgers and Hammerstein hit musical is under the direction of Jim Dippel, a well known director in the Columbus area. My thanks to Diane Berger for sending the information to me.

Another happiness is having your sweet, friendly neighbors decide not to go Florida way this winter. We surely do like the idea of having Harry and Emma Puffinbarger remain here this winter instead of going south as they have for the past several years. The corner is always so lonely when they are away but thank goodness that won't be the way it is this winter.

UNICEF Mrs. H. H. (Mary Lee) Stevens reminds all village residents that the youngsters will be knocking on the doors Sunday in the early evening asking for contributions to the United Children's Fund. Your donation goes a long, long way in bringing food to hungry little tummies and medicine and many other useful articles to the deprived children of other nations. So when one of our children appears at your home give with a generous heart.

In past years the children have been accompanied by local adults and I am certain such will be the situation again this year so the workers will be readily identifiable. Remember—Sunday is UNICEF in Williamsport.

Mayor Paul Long has issued a proclamation designating this as UNICEF week. We will be reading the proclamation on WNRE, "What's Happening In Williamsport", this Thursday. The show is on the air 2 p.m. until 3 p.m. so turn the dial and give us a listen. You might like it.

Violinist Succumbs

AMSTERDAM, Netherlands (AP) — David Oistrakh, the world renowned Soviet violinist, died early today in his room at an Amsterdam hotel, a spokesman for the Amsterdam Concertgebouw Orchestra announced.

Oistrakh was 66 and had a history of heart trouble in recent years. The spokesman said the cause of death had not been determined yet, but it was assumed he died of a heart attack.

Oistrakh in recent years had widened his musical activity to include conducting and arrived in Amsterdam on Oct. 7 for a Brahms series with the Concertgebouw. He had conducted six concerts, the last one two days ago, and had been the soloist in three of them.

People who saw the musician in the past few days reported that he looked well and showed no signs of illness, in contrast to his appearance following a series of heart attacks several years ago.

The violinist's wife was with him in Amsterdam, and a spokesman for his Dutch manager said she would take the body to Moscow on an afternoon flight.

Their son, Igor, is also a prominent concert violinist. He often appeared with his father in concerts and on records but never equaled him in the estimation of the critics or the public.

A native of Odessa, on the Black Sea, Oistrakh made his debut while a student at the Odessa Music and Drama Institute in the early 1920s and in 1930 won first prize in the All-Ukraine Violin Competition.

Cincinnati Jaywalker Fined For Assault

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP)—Heinz P. Daschke, 20, of Cincinnati, the first pedestrian arrested in a jaywalking crackdown by police, has been fined $100, but on another charge.

Daschke, angered by the citation after stepping from a Mount Adams section bar into the street, socked Lt. Mike Heinz in the mouth, knocking off the officer's glasses. Daschke said it was an accident.

Daschke, who had no previous record, apologized to the policeman in Hamilton County Municipal Court Wednesday and was fined for the assault.

getting the tickets in advance a considerable savings can be had and who doesn't like to save a buck or two? On Monday, Wednesday and Friday (Nov. 4-6-8) from 10:30 a.m. until 12:30 noon the tickets will be sold at Jackson Elementary. On Nov. 5 and 7 sales will be during the lunch periods at Westfall High School. Bev and Marcia will also happily sell tickets from their homes if you are unable to be at either of the schools on the specified dates. Phone them at 986-6172 (Bev) or 986-6472 (Marcia).

Tigers 'Ready' For Leaders

Friday will be the most important night in South Central Ohio League football this year, at least for the Circleville Tigers.

CHS will do battle with the Blue Lions of Washington C.H. and the winner will be the probable league champion.

WCH, paced by a tenacious defense and the ability to win close games, is 3-0 in the league and 6-1 overall, dropping a 12-10 decision to Portsmouth for its only loss.

The Tigers, meanwhile, are 3-1 in the league and 5-2 overall to remain in a tie with Greenfield for second place. Miami Trace, the other serious contender and the probable co-champion with WCH or the Tigers, is 2-1.

The Panthers play Greenfield tonight and then Washington C.H. next Friday. Circleville's final league game will be with Hillsboro, currently 0-2 in the league.

Is Circleville ready for the game? "You bet," says Coach Larry Cook, who, with his coaching staff, has been preparing all week "for one of our biggest games this year."

The coaches know they "have to win to stay in contention for the league crown," something they have been doing since the loop opening loss to Greenfield.

It'll be the league's leading rusher against the league's leading passer on offense Friday at the WCH field.

Biff Bumgarner, Circleville junior's tailback, has accounted for 600 yards in 92 carries in Circleville's four SCOL games. His closest competitor is Wilmington's Jackie Watson, who has 462 yards in 63 carries.

The league statistics are a tribute to the Tiger defense as CHS stalled Watson with only 29 rushing yards in a 28-12 win three weeks ago. He has 795 yards on the year to lead league rushers in all games.

Close behind in the all-game category is Greenfield's Gary Barr with 793 yards. However, Barr ranks third in SCOL rushing with 386 yards. Circleville derailed him for 62 yards in their only league loss of the year.

And the Tigers did the same job on Miami Trace's Jeff Sagar, who ranks fourth in all-game rushing with 730 yards. The Tigers contained Sagar to just 46 yards in a 14-12 win over the Panthers.

Bumgarner, who got off to a slow start, has 748 yards rushing for the year in 126 carries. That ranks him third among league runners.

In Circleville's four league games, Pat McNaughton has gained 207 yards in 45 carries and Rick Sampill has rushed for 69 yards in nine carries.

In passing, Perry Hoskins is 9 of 51 yards and Phil Roll is 8 of 19 for 116 yards.

Blue Lion running attack is paced by sophomore Leroy Wilson who has 303 yards in 108 carries and 197 in 67 carries in the league.

However, the primary WCH threat rides on the arm of quarterback Jeff Brown, who leads the league in passing.

In three games, Brown has hit 17 of 35 passes for 303 yards. He has been intercepted three times. Overall, he is 29 of 60 for 506 yards and 48.3 performance rating.

The Blue Lions slipped by Bishop Ready and Chillicothe by identical 8-6 scores in their first two games and lost to Portsmouth 12-10.

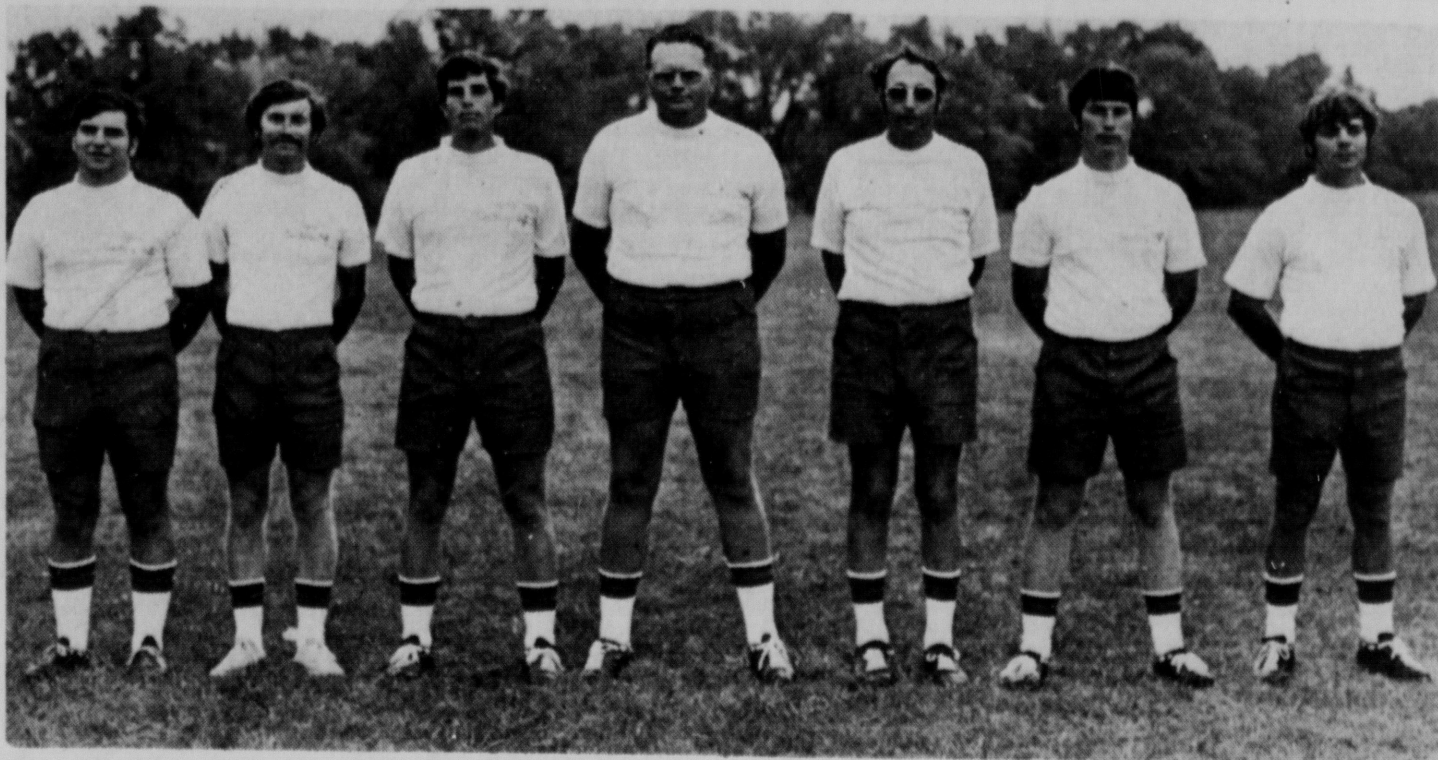

Since then, they have bombed Unioto 31-13, Greenfield 18-0, Wilmington 14-10, and Wehrle 41-0.

The teams have three common league opponents, making for interesting comparisons.

Circleville started off the year by losing to Greenfield 6-0, and then beat Wilmington 28-12 and Unioto 35-0.

In the three games, Circleville rushed for 756 yards and passed for an additional 165 for 921 yards total offense.

WCH rushed for 318 yards and passed for 361 for 679 yards total offense against the common opponents.

CIRCLEVILLE STAFF—Coaches who will be leading the Tigers into Friday's big game with Washington C. H. are, from the left, Tom Cole, Freshman coach; Ron Malone,

Biggest discrepancies are in the Unioto and Wilmington games.

Circleville penetrated Unioto for 346 yards rushing while WCH managed only 106 yards. And against Wilmington, the Tiger ground game accounted for 336 yards while WCH managed only 46.

The Blue Lions handled Greenfield with ease, gaining 166 rushing as compared with only 74 for Circleville.

Both teams scored 63 points against the opponents.

The Blue Lions had the better defense by 20 total yards.

They allowed the three teams 324 yards rushing and 138 passing for 462 total, while the Tigers gave up 351 yards rushing and 131 passing for a 482 total.

The teams scored 23 points against

Jim LeClair Hopes Foot Stops Hurting

CINCINNATI (AP)—"It's hell to sit and watch. It's worse watching on television."

So said Cincinnati Bengals center linebacker Jim LeClair, who is hoping the painful tendonitis in his right foot will ease up finally so he can play Sunday against the Houston Oilers.

"I don't know how I hurt it, but it hurts," said the third year pro from North Dakota. The trouble with a foot injury is it keeps players from doing normal conditioning work, he said.

"The worst part is all the advice everybody has. All the doctors can say is stop running when it starts hurting."

Aggressive and quick, LeClair won his job this year after the Bengals traded Bill Bergey to the Philadelphia Eagles.

LeClair made it clear he wants no comparisons made. "I do my job," he said. "I do it my own way."

LeClair made a reputation for himself as a "head-hunter," an aggressive, pursuing tackler on the Bengals kicking teams for the past two years.

LeClair's right instep became agonizing in the third period of the San Diego game, second of the season, and he came out. Coach Paul Brown attributed the 20-17 loss to the Chargers, in part, on LeClair's loss.

WCH and 18 against the Tigers.

So it would appear the WCH will attempt to exploit the Tiger defense through the airways. Greenfield's Kensinger burned the Tigers for 93 yards on 6 of 9 completions and MT's Riley hit the Tigers for 92 yards on 7 of 15 passes.

"We feel we can stop the Washington running game," Cook said, even though the staff rates Blue Lion fullback Larry Dumford as one of the league's top performers. He has, however, not been used as a runner in many situations.

Quarterback Brown has a "good arm, and is a good runner." He uses the play action to freeze linebackers and rolls out to the play action side for the brunt of the passing attack. Receivers like to run two-man combinations on one side.

Dumford also anchors the 6-1 invert defense, geared to stop the running game, from his middle linebacker post. The Lions use man-to-man coverage in the secondary, a feature Cook feels his team can use to their advantage.

"I can guarantee we'll pass more this week," he said.

Circleville is coming off a well-played game against Unioto, a game that was gratifying for Cook because he had a chance to allow all of his players much game experience.

After reviewing the game films, the staff named Tom England the Tiger offensive lineman of the game; Pat McNaughton the Tiger offensive back; Tim Hartinger the defensive lineman; Perry Hoskins the defensive back; Phil Roll the specialty Tiger of the Week; and Luke Lawhorn the top practice Tiger.

There were 35 black helmet stars awarded.

Only change this week on defense is the insertion of Art Davis as the middle guard.

On offense, the right tackle will be Tom England and the left guard will be Brian Price.

"We're still improving," Coach Cook says. "We've yet to play our best game and have not peaked."

And, in his words, "the best is yet to come."

"He's playing great football," Hill said, "and you can underscore great."

"He's really come along and it couldn't have come at a better time," Hill added.

The 222-pound Thompson went in when Kuhn was hurt in the second quarter against Wisconsin two weeks ago. He was in on 17 tackles in that victory and followed with 11 participations last week against Indiana.

Thompson started his Ohio State career as a quarterback, but recalled, "I was pretty low." He was no better than fifth string when his chance came to join the defense.

Athletic recognition isn't new for the Buckeye sophomore.

A 14-time letter winner in high school, he captained his football, basketball and baseball teams. Most of his career was spent at New Boston Glenwood before he switched to Waverly after his senior football season.

"My parents moved," he explained. "My dad got a new job, superintendent of schools in Pike County so I played basketball at Waverly as a senior."

Quarterbacking and basketball, Hill believes, made Thompson a better linebacker. The Ohio State coach said it helps Thompson understand pass patterns better and has improved his reaction.

NCAA Announces Tourney Pairings

KANSAS CITY (AP)—The National Collegiate Athletic Association has announced firstround pairings for its Division I basketball championship and may select 13 at-large teams to complete a 32-team bracket.

If 13 at-large clubs are selected instead of nine as in the past, there will be 16 firstround games, Tom Scott, chairman of the NCAA Tournament Committee, said Wednesday in announcing the pairings.

Whether 13 at-large teams are picked will depend on the quality of the available clubs.

Automatically qualifying for the tournament will be 15 conference champions from the East Coast, Atlantic Coast, Southern, Ivy Group, Mid-American, Southeastern, Big Ten, Ohio Valley, Southwest, Missouri Valley, Big Eight, Western Athletic, West Coast Athletic, Pacific-8 and Big Sky.

The other four teams will be champions from the four Eastern College Athletic Conference regional tournaments. They also qualify automatically and are bracketed as at-large entrants.

First-round games will be played March 15, regional games March 20 and 22 and the semifinal and final games on March 29 and 31 at San Diego, Calif.

The first-round pairings:

At the Palestra in Philadelphia — The East Coast and Ivy Group champions against at-large teams with Pennsylvania as host. At Charlotte, N.C. — Atlantic Coast and Southern Conference champions against at-large selections with Davidson College as host. The four winners will advance to the East Regional at the Civic Center in Providence, R.I.

At Alabama — Mid-American and Southeastern Conference champions against at-large teams. At Kentucky — Big Ten and Ohio Valley Conference champions against at-large teams. Winners will play in the Mideast Regional at the University of Dayton. At Texas Tech — Southwest Conference champion and three at-large teams. At Oral Roberts University, Tulsa, Okla. — Missouri Valley and Big Eight Conference champions against at-large teams. Winners will play in the Midwest Regional at New Mexico State.

At Arizona State University — Western Athletic and West Coast Athletic Conferences against at-large selections. At Washington State — Pacific-8 and Big Sky Conference champions against at-large teams. Winners will meet in the West Regional at Memorial Coliseum at Portland, Ore.

3 Liggins Brothers Aid Fremont

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Opponents see triple when they clash with Fremont Ross High School's miserly football defense this season.

The Liggins brothers all start for the school's defense that has posted five shutouts in a 6-0-1 campaign.

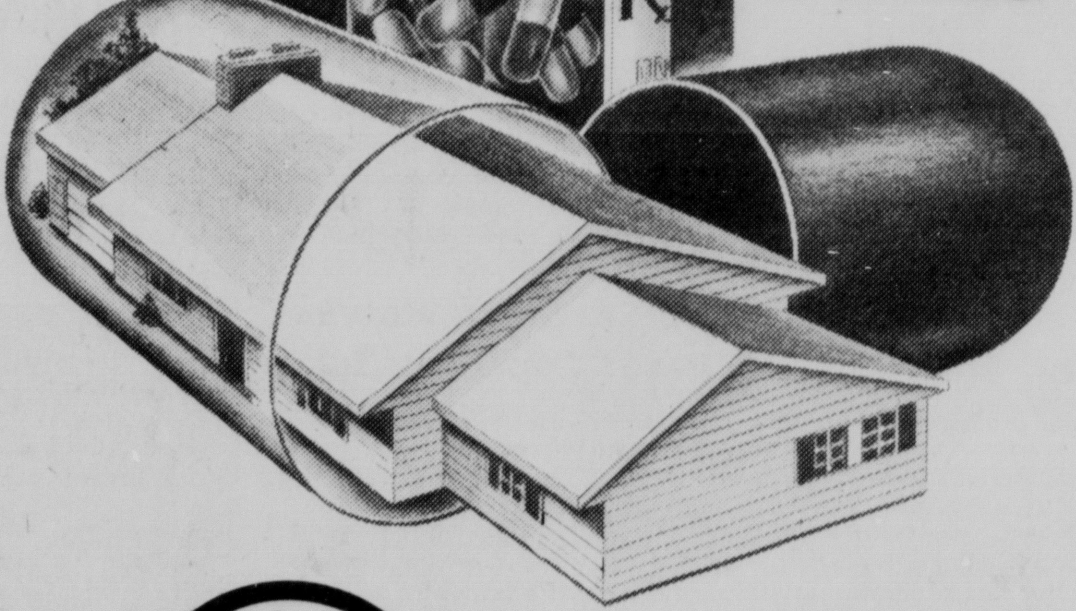

Senior twins Larry and Harry Wiggins rank one-two among Ross' leading tacklers. And their brother, Dave, a junior, is No. 4 in that department.

Larry is a 6-foot-1, 175-pound outside linebacker. Harry has the same dimensions and plays defensive end. Dave is a 5-11, 170-pounder who performs at defensive halfback.

Their brother, Tom, serves as the No. 1 fullback for the University of Cincinnati.

Fremont Coach Tom Hollman said, "the twins have the potential to play bigtime college football as defensive backs. And Dave already is one of our better defensive backs."

AT BOOKS IN THE CHILDREN'S LIBRARY

Do you dread it when your second grader wants you to listen to a book he is reading? Do you still believe that primary grade reading books are terribly dull?

Well, just look at the wide variety of easy readers for your child!

There are some beautiful color photographs in the "What Shall I Be When I Grow Up?" series. A new favorite is "What Can She Be? - A Veterinarian?". There are some touching shots of pet owners as they wait to hear the news of their dog or cat's condition.

Many of the most delightful stories of family life feature animals. Arthur and members of his chimpanzee family have a garage sale, but find it difficult to sell their beloved toys. The title of the book is "Arthur and His Honey Bear." The author has endowed his characters with qualities of generosity, warmth, intelligence and enough pure meanness to be believable.

Mysteries and adventure stories are favorites even in the second grade. There's suspense, a gang snowball fight and a girl who can throw better than the boys in "Binky Brothers and the Fearless Four."

In "The Great Hamster Hunt" Nicholas allows his friends hamster to escape. Naturally there are many anxious moments before his friend returns from vacation.

"Dr. Merlin's Magic Shop" has all the elements of a successful adventure as a boy and his dog are victimized by a tall dark stranger dressed as a magician.

In "The Chocolate Chip Mystery" a boy must stay overnight in an empty store to discover the identity of a thief. There are plenty of chills in this story for good readers.

Walt Disney has created short adventure tales based on his popular movies. All have a vocabulary within reach of primary children. The latest title is "Robin Hood and the Great Coach Robbery." "Snow White" and "Peter Pan and Captain Hook" are also available.

Sesame Street Productions use the same style of nonsense in their "1,2,3 Storybook" as on their television program. The intense color and zooming activity are what sells the book to children.

Another wildly active book is "Ha Ha Ha Hyenas" with a cartoon style of drawing and writing that travels in many directions. It is a little more difficult to read because of its style, but children will be attracted to it.

A new series is "Come To Work With Us in a..." The dairy, an aerospace headquarters and a television are some of the titles. What is unique is that the photographs show children posed actually working at an exciting job. In the aerospace book, the child has on an astronaut's space suit and is conducting experiments.

Come on in - help keep that second grader interested in reading.

Logan Elm Band Third In Competition

The Logan Elm Braves Marching Band placed third in class B competition in the 10th annual West Jefferson Marching Band Competition.

The band's show opened with a block band entrance drill to the sound of "March Grandioso" and continued with a squad drill to the tune of "MacArthur Park".

The feature of the show was a special color guard and display flag presentation to "God Bless America". The conclusion was a special field exit drill to the fanfare from the XX Olympiad.

The Logan Elm Braves Marching Band, much larger than in past years, has a total of 88 members. David Price is the LEHS band director.

The band will present the entire competition show at the Logan Elm-Liberty Union football game.

REHEARSING—"How Can Love Survive?" is musically debated by Elsa (Helen Blum) and Max (Gladden Troutman) in "The Sound of Music." The Memorial Hall curtain will rise at 8 p.m. Nov. 6-9 and at 2 p.m. on Nov. 10.

Commercial Point News

By MRS. ELZENA ALBRIGHT, PHONE 877-4588

The annual all-church conference will be held 7:30 p.m. Saturday at the Concord Church. All are encouraged to participate. Refreshments will follow.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Dingus have been visiting with relatives in Pike County and Waverly due to the death of Mrs. Dingus' brother, Howard Cottle. He passed away Oct. 13, three days after surgery in Veterans Hospital in Huntington, W. Va.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Smith entertained several of their friends Sunday on their 25th wedding anniversary.

The Kupples Klub is having a wiener roast and hayride Sunday at 7 p.m. at Keith and Barb Kauffeld's.

Sympathy is extended to the Renick family at the death of Mildred (Millie). Survivors include her husband Loren and daughters Suzanne and Mrs. Charles (Ruth) Shannon, Orient. Millie was well known in our community as she was a deputy in the Daughters of America for a long time.

Charles Dingus is due to enter Mt. Carmel Hospital for surgery as soon as a room is available.

Otto Ramey has been released from University Hospital.

Emergency Runs

Oct. 15 — Tom Simkins, Route 2, Orient, given first aid for a re-injured finger.

Oct. 16 — Paul Turner, 18, Route 2, Ashville, injured leg and James Legg, 18, South Bloomfield, shock, both taken to Berger Hospital after an automobile accident on Route 762, west of Commercial Point.

Oct. 17 — Ternace Lewis, 17, Commercial Point, taken to Doctors West Hospital for illness.

The Scioto Parent Teacher Organization sponsored the annual open house at Scioto Elementary School on Oct. 14. This affair could have easily been termed "full" house. Many parents commented on the new windows, play-ground equipment, and other accomplishments of the school.

President Edwin McConaughy called the meeting to order. The Reverend John H. Currans, pastor of the Ashville United Methodist Church gave the invocation and also led the Pledge of Allegiance with McConaughy.

UC President Eyes Salary Increases

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP)—University of Cincinnati President Warren Bennis today was expected to propose across-the-board raises for the faculty retroactive to September.

The 1,400 faculty members are scheduled to vote in a bargaining rights election Nov. 7-8. The median faculty salary last year was $13,300.

Elks Singers Present Night Of Harmony

The Elks Singers will present the second annual Night of Harmony 8 p.m. Nov. 2 in the Circleville High School auditorium. Student talent from Logan Elm, Circleville, Teays Valley and Westfall High Schools' music departments will be featured along with the Elks Singers.

Last year's edition of the Night of Harmony was highly successful. The $1,000 which was cleared was distributed to the four school music departments and the Cerebral Palsy Foundation.

Emceeding the program this year is P. J. Ryal with Mayor Frank Barnhill starting the evening with the Pledge to the Flag. Each of the four participating schools will present a musical program.

Concluding the two-hour show will be favorite selections done on the old-time flavor of the Elks Singers.

Ohio Weather

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Unsettled weather will continue over Ohio through Friday with skies occasionally clear and occasionally cloudy and a few widely-scattered showers.

A weak front that moved into the state overnight is responsible for the unsettled weather.

A few light showers fell overnight and fog and haze were reported over much of the state this morning. More fog is forecast Friday morning.

Lows early today ranged from the 30s and 40s north to the 40s and 50s in southern counties.

Highs today were forecast from the 50s to the 70s and lows tonight in the 40s and 50s.

Police Image Seen Good

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Four-fifths of Columbus area residents hold a favorable image of police, a Benchmark study reported.

Only 19 per cent of the 2,401 Franklin County residents interviewed in the study said they have a negative image of police. Thirty-one per cent of the young adults aged 18-24, 37 per cent of inner city residents and 47 per cent of the blacks interviewed said they have a negative image of the police.

Persons aged 65 and over, as well as residents of the north and northwest areas of Columbus, have an exceptionally positive image of the police. Persons earning $15,000 a year also gave police higher marks, the survey showed.

The report is the first of three to be issued in the project by the Academy for Contemporary Problems dealing with attitudes toward the criminal justice system in the area.

Hyperactive Rats Get 'Human' Ulcers

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP)—A Washington-based research scientist believes people, like rats, run themselves to death or suffer from psychosomatic ulcers for no apparent reason.

Dr. William P. Pare, chief of the Pavlovian Research Laboratory at Perry Point, Md., Veterans Administration Hospital, presented his case Wednesday to the American Association for Animal Science convention.

Pare noted that exercise has been recommended for animals as well as people, but an experiment with rats had adverse results seldom mentioned.

Two groups of rats were placed in cages. One group was provided with exercise wheels. The other group was not.

Eighty per cent of the rats with exercise wheels were dead inside of 14 days. Autopsies showed they died of ulcers. The rats without the wheels suffered no ill effects.

"We became extremely interested in this phenomenon," said Pare, adding that the rats were under no compulsion, either for food or electronic stimulation, to work.

The hyperactive rats were found on autopsy to suffer from severe stomach ulcers," he said.

He said experimenters discovered the hyperactive rats had sudden weight loss. They were older or female and underwent severe metabolism change.

Their condition could be compared to that of an extremely active person who neglects to eat well or rest but is not necessarily underfed or ill-treated.

These active rats when removed from their stressful activity needed considerable time to recover, and in many cases their ulcers remained, he

By FRANCIS DRAKE

Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is, according to the stars.

FOR FRIDAY
ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 20): A recently proffered suggestion to which you may not have given much thought could, quite unexpectedly, open new doors to progress. Think about it NOW.

TAURUS (Apr. 21 to May 21): You'll do best now if you cooperate with the plans of others instead of insisting on your own. Some friction possible in the latter case.

GEMINI (May 22 to June 21): An excellent day for all creative activity. Superiors should take an interest in your ideas. You can expect good cooperation from all, so take advantage of this chance to advance your status.

CANCER (June 22 to July 23): A mixed kind of day in terms of work. Your ideas are good, but you can meet with obstacles. There may be more to do than you expected. Take all in stride.

LEO (July 24 to Aug. 23): Consider all new propositions and suggestions carefully before accepting. Some deceptive influences, now prevalent, could lead to unpleasant involvements unless you are alert.

VIRGO (Aug. 24 to Sept. 23): As with Gemini, now's the time to put forth some of your more unusual ideas. Influential persons in your job or business should be extremely receptive.

LIBRA (Sept. 24 to Oct. 23): Correct errors or flaws in your program as soon as you note them. You are keen, so they won't be hard to detect. Don't be overly cautious and lose advantages, however.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 to Nov. 23): Not everything may run as anticipated, but you have the talent for prudent pushing and also for waiting out results, so day should wind up satisfactorily.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 to Dec. 21): A new contact could be exceedingly important to your career aims. Activity increases in areas where you have recently been stymied.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20): Don't commit yourself to an inflexible program. Unforeseen circumstances will demand alterations—which could be better in the long run.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19): You find now that your creative urges are demanding some new form of expression. Don't smother the feelings. Try that new avenue.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20): A fine day for teamwork. Many useful ideas will result from an exchange of views with associates. Some good news indicated in the p.m.

YOU BORN TODAY have been endowed with a dynamic personality, tremendous ambition and outstanding versatility. You are capable of magnificent achievement "on your own" and are equally adept at coordinating your efforts with those of others for forceful, effective results. You like interesting activities and people; constantly search for the meaningful in life, and never let down in your efforts to improve your own lot and that of those dear to you.

Careerwise, your choices are almost limitless—as are your talents. You would make an outstanding business executive, leader of state, educator, writer, actor, artist, musical composer, aviator, architect or engineer. In fact, you name it, get to work on it—and you can get to the top in any line you like. Birthdate of: Adm. Richard E. Byrd, aviator, explorer; Pablo Picasso, renowned Spanish artist; Georges Bizet and Johann Strauss, composers.

Views On Television

NEW YORK (AP) — In many songs under construction, says lyricist Alan Bergman, "there are words on the tips of those notes. All we have to do is find them, that's all."

The other half of "we" is his wife, Marilyn. Together they've written lyrics for a string of hit tunes ranging from the wretched "Yellow Bird" to this year's lovely, Oscar-winning "The Way We Were."

While they've worded the theme songs of five television series, including "Maude," they haven't done much more in TV. But they're waltzing into it in a big way soon with "Queen of the Stardust Ballroom."

The show, which CBS says will air in January, is a dramatic musical written specifically for TV. It stars Maureen Stapleton as a freshly-widowed, middle-aged Bronx woman who finds a new life in ballroom dancing.

"If this had been for a high school theater in Dubuque, we still would have done it because the script was so special," says Mrs. Bergman, a warm, but no-nonsense woman. Like her husband, she's Brooklyn-born.

The casually dressed collaborators, Los Angeles residents the past 20 years, wrote the words for seven songs in the CBS musical, working with composer Billy Goldenberg and scriptwriter Jerome Kass.

The old question: Did the lyrics or music come first? Bergman, a soft-spoken man of 49, grinned.

"Well, we got the book (the script) first," he said. "The four of us talked about where we should spot the songs. In some cases, they were obvious, in others they were not."

While the music came first for six of the tunes, said his wife, collaborating on the answer, "the exception was the first song, which is really a 'book' song with a lot of important information. And that was lyric first."

She said that by "book song" she meant a tune which contains the same kind of plot-related material you'd find in spoken dialogue.

The Bergmans, who've been lyric-writing together for slightly longer than their 16 years of marriage, looked somewhat befuddled when asked how often they fight while in the throes of composition.

"Us?" she asked. "We disagree. But we don't fight." "The one thing you learn as you grow older, hopefully wiser and you write more and more songs, is that the alternatives in putting together a lyric are endless," her husband said.

"So if we aren't satisfied or the composer isn't satisfied, then we find another way to do it."

Many would-be songwriters still in the June-moon-croon stage often seek salvation in rhyming dictionaries. Not so the Bergmans.

"We have one, but we very rarely use it," he said. "By this time, most of it is pretty much in my head."

"We're always looking for an idea," she added. "The rhyme is the least of it."

Hospital Board Discusses Finances; Employs New Director Of Nursing

After the finance report was given to the Berger Hospital Board of Governors at Wednesday's meeting, the members discussed the reasons for running behind last year's profit figure. One of the reasons cited was the reduction of accounts receivable by more than $35,000. Hospital administrator John Reid also pointed out that there were three pay periods during the month in review. The number of births is up ten over last year's figure at this time of year and for the month of September, births were up eight over the same month in 1973. Occupancy is running slightly behind that of 1973 both to date and for the month. Board members also discussed the fact that the average length of a patient's stay in the hospital is down. Betty Jolliffe, 545 Lawnwood Court, was employed as director of nursing at the rate of $12,000 per year. Mrs. Jolliffe had been approved by the medical staff and was highly recommended by both the medical staff and the hospital administration at the Shenandoah Hospital in Virginia where she has worked. She is originally from Adelphi and has returned to the area after her marriage.

Mrs. Jolliffe is to begin in her new position today. Prior experience has included another director of nursing position and nurse-anesthetist.

It was also reported to the board that the $130,000 received so far from the settlement of the Bowsher estate has been placed on interest at the rate of 11.3 per cent.

The board met in a special session on Oct. 16 concerning the settlement of the estate. At that time a letter was approved which was sent to attorney Carl Leist relieving him of any taxes levied on the estate settlement by the internal revenue.

While discussing investments, the board approved the policy of always accepting the highest interest bid for as long as the time limit on the funds would allow.

Reid reported to the board that a total of $2,107.50 had been received from the memorial funds of Floyd Bartley, Helen Bowling, Harry Heffner and Hal Dickinson. This money had been specified for the special care unit and the building fund.

The budget for 1975 will be ready for the finance committee by next month and Reid advised the board members they would see an approximately 20 per cent increase due to inflation. He also said they may be forced to ask for another room rate increase. He pointed out that even with an increase, Berger would remain one of the lowest room rates in the area. If passed, the increase would not go into effect until after the first of the year.

Since only one response had been received from the medical staff, the board of governors decided to table the equipment budget until the next meeting. The budget had been sent to the medical staff for approval and failing to obtain that, the board of governors will wait for further response.

Dr. Emily Lutz had discussed with Reid the possibility of obtaining a fetal monitor and the question was posed at the board meeting. Representing the general guild, Mrs. Robert Liggett advised that the guild had budgeted $4500 toward the payment of a monitor but Reid pointed out that the price would be from $7500 to $9,000. The board felt the item should be sent to the medical staff for approval before any action was taken to purchase the monitor and allowing the guild to make part of the payment.

Mrs. Liggett also reminded the board members that the gift shop sale is scheduled for Nov. 7 and 8 at St. Philip's parish hall and the bazaar will be Nov. 22 at the Lutheran parish house.

A report on construction of the new addition included expenses so far encountered. Only $183,560 has been spent to date however, the projected figure for this time was close to $500,000. Reid stated that had the construction of the facility been on schedule, this figure would have been fairly accurate. The board approved payment of $54,509 which had been submitted this month on the construction costs.

Selection of the bricks and mortar for the exterior walls was also on the agenda. Four samples of brick had been brought to the site for the board to choose one. The feeling as a whole was to select the brick which was similar to the existing building and to have it laid

Auto Chief Claims Recession Here

DETROIT (AP) — Declaring that the auto industry and the nation are in a recession, the chairman of Chrysler Corp. has called for President Ford to work toward easing credit availability and encouraging consumers to spend rather than save their money.

"Recession is here in the automobile industry. Recession is here in the building industry. I would say recession is here in the country," Lynn A. Townsend said at a news conference Wednesday.

He said the President's economic policies are aimed in the wrong direction because recession and slack demand have superseded inflation as the auto industry's key problem.

"Our two problems in this country are inflation and recession. I think inflation has peaked, and very rapidly recession is taking the major spotlight," Townsend said.

"We have been in a program here where apparently the opinion has been

Man Faces Death Penalty For Murder

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — One man faces a possible death sentence and a jury continued deliberations today on the fate of another in the July 17 slaying of a Cincinnati policeman.

A three-judge panel in Hamilton County Common Pleas Court on Wednesday found Ricardo Woods, 24, guilty of aggravated murder of a policeman in the commission of a robbery.

A jury in another courtroom retired for the night after deliberating nine hours in the case of Roland Reaves, 23, charged in the same case.

Patrolman David Cole was shot five times with separate guns when he responded to a holdup alarm at a carryout store in the Walnut Hills section of Cincinnati. The officer fired several shots before he died.

Both defendants live in Cincinnati. They were tried simultaneously in separate courtrooms.

The panel, which included Judges William R. Matthews, William S. Mathews and Robert L. Black, rejected Woods' offer to plead guilty to a lesser charge of murder.

The Ohio Revised Criminal Code now allows the death penalty for the shooting of a policeman in connection with an aggravated robbery.

The defense for both men contended that they had decided against robbing the store and were fleeing when stopped by Cole.

Reaves contended the officer began the shooting and he fired in self-defense.

Woods said at his trial that he attempted to talk to the officer but Reaves pushed past him and began shooting.

Court officials said Woods would face another court hearing before sentence is determined. The court ordered a psychiatric examination and a pre-sentence investigation.

Woods' hearing was scheduled for next month.

Council Rejects Cable TV Hike

HAMILTON, Ohio (AP) — Hamilton City Council unanimously rejected a $1 monthly cable television firm's rate increase request citing the firm's failure to extend service to all the city's, 70,000 residents.

Charles Greiner, attorney for the Hamilton Cable Communications Co., a subsidiary of the Telecommunications Corp., Denver, Colo., said the firm was broke and needed the city's help.

"We are losing money and cannot continue to," he said. The firm now charges $4.95 monthly. Greiner said expansion delays were forced by shortages of money and equipment.

Alfalfa Seed Crop Up 2 Per Cent

WASHINGTON (AP) — The 1974 alfalfa seed crop is expected to total 104.7 million pounds, up 2 per cent from last year, says the Agriculture Department.

The California seed crop is estimated at 29.5 million pounds, up 16 per cent from last year. But Idaho and Washington, the next largest producers, expect to have smaller crops, the Crop Reporting Board said.

Significant increases, however, were estimated for Oklahoma where the 1974 seed crop was put at 6.6 million pounds compared with 4.9 million last year, and in Utah, estimated at 4.42 million against 2.3 million in 1973.

LODGE PLANNED—The Ohio Department of Natural Resources announced today that architects have been named to design a vacation lodge and cabins at Deer Creek Reservoir State Park. The reservoir was built by the U.S. Army Engineers as a part of the Scioto River basin flood control project and was completed in 1968. Recreational facilities already completed by the state include a swimming beach and a camping area as well as boating facilities.

State Names Architects For Deer Creek Park Lodge

Deercreek State Park's development as a full facility recreation area took another step forward today with the announcement by State Representative Myrl H. Shoemaker (D-Bourneville) that Natural Resources Director William B. Nye has selected an architect to prepare a conceptual design for a vacation lodge at the park.

Shoemaker said he has been advised by Nye that the Department of Natural Resources (DNR) will ask the State Controlling Board to release funds to have conceptual designs developed for lodges at both Deercreek and West Branch state parks.

Deercreek, a 7,000-acre park, is in Fayette and Pickaway counties about 20 miles west of Circleville. The 8,002-acre West Branch State Park is near Ravenna in Portage County.

The concept study for the recreation facilities at Deercreek will be done by two Columbus architectural firms, Phillip Markwood Architects, Inc., and Acock, White and Associates, Inc.

The work will include selecting a specific site at the park for a lodge and overnight vacation cabins, and determining the size of the complex and what types of service facilities, such as water and sewage treatment, will be necessary.

The size of the lodge may range from 90 to 120 rooms, depending on the configuration of the land at the site selected. The number of cabins to be built will be determined by the size of the site.

"The study will produce an artist's conception of the lodge and cabin complex, show the type of materials to be used and provide an estimate of the construction costs," Shoemaker said.

Deercreek, where a 232-site Class A camping area was opened last May, "is well on its way to becoming a full-facility park to meet the growing recreation needs of Central Ohio," Shoemaker said.

"The park is easily accessible from anywhere in Central or Southwestern Ohio," he noted. "It's within 50 miles of Columbus, Dayton, Springfield and Chillicothe, and is less than an hour's drive from more than two million Ohioans."

In addition to the camping area, Deercreek has a 1,700-foot sand beach on the 1,277-acre Deercreek Lake. The lake also is a popular fishing and boating spot. The park has two boat launching ramps and there are 123 boat tie-ups available from March 1 through November 1.

DNR recently began accepting reservations for rental of the "Harding Cabin" at Deercreek. The cabin was the summer home of Harry M. Daugherty, a Washington Court House native who was U.S. Attorney General under President Warren G. Harding.

The cabin, on the east side of the lake near the park office, was said to be a secluded gathering place for friends and supporters of Harding.

Shoemaker said the new park facilities will be financed with revenue bonds so the people who use the facilities will absorb most of the cost of building and operating them.

He said the new projects are a continuation of what has been done by the administration of Governor John J. Gilligan since 1970 to improve Ohio's state parks system.

"Nearly 5,000 acres of parkland has been purchased since 1970, and there have been numerous improvements such as additional campsites, cabins, hiking trails, and boating, swimming, and picnicking facilities," Shoemaker said.

The new lodges at Deercreek and West Branch will be the seventh and eighth overnight lodges in the Ohio state parks system. The existing lodges are at Burr Oak, Hueston Woods, Punderson, Salt Fork, Shawnee and Mohican state parks.

Recession Seen By Administration Economic Adviser

WASHINGTON (AP) — The nation is headed toward a recession and the Ford administration might as well admit it, says an administration economics adviser.

"Let's call a spade a spade," said Paul W. McCracken in a telephone interview Wednesday. "I think we are probably in the early stages of what could turn out to be a V type recession."

That means a recession which is sharp but brief and looks like a "V" on a graph, in contrast to prolonged declines in economic activity, McCracken explained. He indicated he thought the worst would be over by mid-1975.

McCracken said unemployment could approach 7 per cent and the decline in economic output about 4 per cent next year. Another administration economic adviser, L. William Seidman, said his best guess on unemployment would be about 6.5 per cent.

McCracken, a former chairman of former President Richard M. Nixon's Council of Economic Advisers, now serves as a part-time consultant to Treasury Secretary William E. Simon. He also recently was named by President Ford to help compile his new economic program after the economic summit meetings.

While McCracken said it was a moot

point to argue whether the economy is in a recession, as President Ford has claimed it is not, "my judgment is that we're probably moving into one."

McCracken, a professor of economics at the University of Michigan, does not rank as an official administration spokesman, and the administration continues to shy away from describing the current economic condition as a recession.

Seidman said in a separate meeting with newsmen Wednesday that it is hard to put a label on the economy at the present time. For some industries, such as furniture and steel, he said there is no recession. For housing, he said there is a deep recession.

"Inflation certainly is the No. 1

enemy, but stagflation is right behind it," said Seidman. "It's better to say we have two problems."

Stagflation is a term currently being used to describe a condition of economic stagnation and inflation. "The current lack of growth in the economy is a problem," said Seidman.

McCracken said his forecast of recession does not mean he is criticizing Ford's economic advisers, who he said are "doing an excellent job." He said he agrees with the administration's economic policies, including the 5 per cent income surtax proposal, but added he does favor a further easing of the tight money policies of the independent Federal Reserve Board.

Nixon Re-Enters California Hospital

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP) — Former President Richard M. Nixon, facing possible surgery, has re-entered the hospital here because home treatment for his phlebitis condition proved ineffective, his doctor says.

Nixon limped slightly but was unassisted as he walked through a rear service entrance to be admitted Wednesday night to Memorial Hospital Medical Center for the second time in three weeks. A spokesman for the hospital in this coastal city bordering Los Angeles said the former president was expected to be released by the end of the week.

Nixon apparently made the 50-mile trip from his San Clemente home to the hospital by car.

There had been no advance announcement that he was returning to the hospital. Jack Weiblen, hospital vice president, said Nixon was brought in after dark to reduce publicity.

"He covets his privacy," Weiblen said of Nixon, who resigned as president last Aug. 9.

Dr. John C. Lungren, Nixon's longtime personal physician, said Nixon was taken to the hospital after anticoagulant drugs proved ineffective in treating inflamed veins in Nixon's left leg.

"For the past few days oral anticoagulation medication has been inadequate," Lungren said in a statement to newsmen late Wednesday night.

He said a diagnostic radiology test called a venogram had been performed on the 61-year-old former president after his arrival and showed a "near total occlusion or blockage of blood flow" in the area of Nixon's left thigh.

Lungren noted that several blood clots were found in the swollen leg, but he added that "these clots could be old or fresh."

Nixon received anticoagulants Coumadin orally and heparin intravenously during his first hospital stay, 12 days ending Oct. 4. But only

Coumadin had been prescribed for him while he was convalescing at his oceanfront villa at San Clemente.

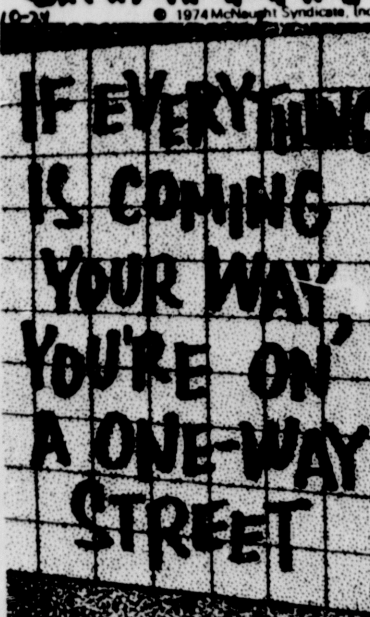

"If we're not capable of proving adequate prophylactic anticoagulation by oral Coumadin, then the possibility of surgical intervention must be considered," said Lungren. He has treated Nixon since 1952.

Lungren gave no indication what the surgery would involve or when it would be performed if results from Nixon's current hospitalization prove unsatisfactory. Other medical spokesmen were not immediately available to comment on the nature of such surgery.

During Nixon's recent hospitalization, a blood clot caused by the phlebitis moved from his left thigh, through his heart and lodged in his right lung. The decision to discharge Nixon from the hospital Oct. 4 was taken after Lungren determined the clot no longer posed a serious danger.

Lungren performed a lung scan on Nixon Wednesday night and concluded that the right lung was stable and "there was no evidence of any new involvement."

Defense Lawyers Hammer At Dean As Opportunist

WASHINGTON (AP) — John Mitchell's defense lawyer in the Watergate cover-up trial focused today on differences between John Dean's trial testimony and what Dean told the Senate Watergate committee 16 months ago.

William G. Hundley reminded Dean that he had testified at the trial about a long telephone conversation he had with Mitchell on June 22, 1972, in which he reported on the progress of the FBI investigation of the Watergate break-in.

In his second day of cross-examining Dean, Hundley noted that Dean never mentioned the Mitchell conversation in his Watergate committee testimony. Mitchell is a former attorney general and is one of five defendants in the trial.

Hundley also pointed out that Dean never mentioned the conversation to a federal grand jury.

Asked by Hundley to explain, Dean said, "The first time I was asked about that was in this courtroom."

Hundley then turned to another conversation Dean had testified he had with Mitchell.

At the trial, Dean said he talked to Mitchell on the telephone on June 28, 1972.

Hundley reminded Dean that he had told the Watergate committee his conversation with Mitchell on the 28th was at a meeting and not on the telephone.

Mitchell later had told the committee he was out of town that day.

Dean said he subsequently recalled that he attended a meeting in Mitchell's office on June 28 but that Mitchell wasn't there and that he had called him later when the former attorney general returned to Washington.

In his cross-examination of Dean on Wednesday, Hundley sought to portray the former White House counsel as ready to sacrifice anyone to save his own skin when the Watergate cover-up began unraveling.

"John Mitchell never asked you to bite the bullet for him," Hundley said to Dean during cross-examination on Wednesday.

Hundley tried to get Dean to admit that he had tried to get Mitchell to step forward to take responsibility for the Watergate break-in.

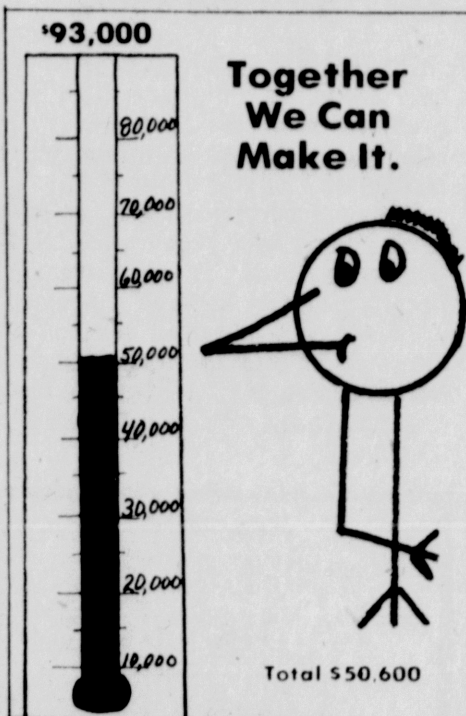

"You didn't have any information that Mr. Mitchell was responsible for the bugging," Hundley told the former White House counsel. "Yet you joined in a plan to have him step forward because that would save you."

Hundley was the second defense lawyer to cross-examine Dean, the leadoff government witness in the trial of five former Nixon administration and campaign aides accused of conspiring to block the investigation of the Watergate break-in.

Markets

NEW YORK (AP) — Stock prices moved broadly lower for the third straight day today amid profit-taking and fear the country was entering a sharp recession.

The Dow Jones average of 30 industrials at noon was off 11.27 at 633.76. Losers swamped gainers, 1,004 to 158 among 1,484 issues traded on the New York Stock Exchange.

Brokers said comments by Paul W. McCracken, economic adviser to Treasury Secretary William E. Simon, that the country was entering a "sharp" recession from which it would not emerge before mid-1975 spurred today's falloff in prices, which already had begun for technical reasons after the previous runup.

On the American Stock Exchange, the market-value index fell .68 to 67.91 as the most-active stock, Giant Yellowknife, a gold stock, advanced 1 1/4 to 13 3/4.

Arraignments Held In Common Pleas Court

Ten persons indicted by the last session of the September Grand Jury appeared before Judge William Ammer in Common Pleas Court for arraignment Wednesday. Five men also appeared during the session of court for sentencing.

Not guilty pleas were entered by Donald Eugene Donaldson, Ashville, for passing bad checks and Michael Eugene Hettinger, Laureville, for felonious assault. Both cases will be heard at a later time but the court did not set a specific date.

Sylvia Denise Jenkins, Columbus, pleaded not guilty to perjury. Miss Jenkins was a juvenile at the time of her alleged crime but was brought to the adult court by Assistant County Prosecutor James R. Kingsley.

Two not guilty pleas were entered by Dennis Lee Boltenhouse charged with the rape and kidnapping of Darlene Sowers.

Donald E. Green, Charles Porter, and Cecil Green, all of Columbus, pleaded not guilty to charges of grand theft and breaking and entering. The men were indicted by the grand jury charged with taking tie plates from the C and O Railroad at Ashville.

Guilty pleas were entered by Pat M. Streitenberger, Route 1, Kingston, for two charges of forgery. The court ordered the adult parole authority to prepare a pre-sentence report of her.

John Thomas Neal also entered a not guilty plea to receiving and concealing stolen property. He will appear for trial at a later time.

Appearing on a secret indictment, John L. Monro, entered pleas of not guilty to all the charges against him for possession of hallucinogens for sale.

Also appearing on secret indictments were Thomas Dreher and Alan Hatcher. Both entered not guilty pleas, Dreher to breaking and entering and Hatcher to grand theft and breaking and entering.

Gary Congrove, charged with grand theft at Reynolds Metals, asked the court for a continuance so he could obtain legal counsel.

A final not guilty plea entered during the arraignment portion of the court session. James Edward Smith, pleaded not guilty to breaking and entering and grand theft. These charges also came from Reynolds Metals.

Appearing for sentencing after a conviction of breaking and entering Dr. R.S. Hosler's office in Ashville was Barry Smith, Route 1, Stoutsville. The court had ordered a pre-sentence report to be prepared earlier and had considered the findings on it before sentencing Smith to six months to five years in the Ohio State Reformatory for Men at Mansfield. The court suspended the prison term and placed the defendant on probation for three years.

After negotiations with county prosecutor Richard L. Gerhardt, William Fugate entered pleas of guilty to four charges of breaking and entering. Gerhardt then agreed to the dismissal of two other charges against Fugate including safecracking and theft. Judge Ammer sentenced Fugate to four concurrent terms of 1-5 years each in the Ohio State Penitentiary.

Melvin Lansing of Fayette County was sentenced to a term of six months to five years in the Mansfield Reformatory for passing bad checks. The court suspended the prison term and placed Lansing on probation for three years and ordered him committed to the Pickaway County Jail for 60 days.

The court ordered a six month to five year sentence on Richard Hensel officially beginning June 25 to coincide with a sentence passed in Montgomery County. Hensel was charged in Pickaway County with a bad check dated July 25, 1970.

A 10-20 year sentence in the Mansfield Reformatory was suspended against William Allison for possession for sale of hallucinogens. Ammer placed Allison on probation for three years and ordered him to serve 30 days in the county jail upon his graduation from high school.

MISS HOLBROOK

Mr. and Mrs. Paul E. Holbrook (Jeanette Leasure), 178 N. Court St., are the prents of a 10-pound 8 1/2-ounce daughter born 2:15 p.m. Wednesday at Berger Hospital.

Thieves Take Various Items

Joe Cottrill, Route 2, Williamsport, told Pickaway County Sheriff's Deputy J. Philip Brown, thieves took an 800-pound heifer from his farm field, sometime between Oct. 12-19.

Value of the farm animal was set at $250.

Guys S. Gulick, Route 1, Orient, told authorities, thieves took tools, a tool box, battery, and gasoline from his residence, between 8 p.m. Tuesday and 11 a.m. Wednesday.

Reported by a co-worker John K. Green, the tools were valued at $357.

A rebuilt engine, belonging to Gary T. Wilson, Route 2, Orient, was reported stolen to Sheriff's Deputy Dan Dewey.

The engine, placed in a friend's garage at the time of the theft, was valued at $337.

Police Charge Motorist With DWI

Carlene Carver, 34, Route 2, Laureville, was arrested for driving while intoxicated following her single car accident 12:55 a.m. Thursday on W. High St.

She was treated at Berger Hospital for facial injuries suffered in the crash.

According to Circleville Police, she was driving east on W. High St. and drove off the railroad tracks attempting to make a right turn onto Western Ave.

Her 1974 model car fell into a deep ditch and sustained extensive damage.

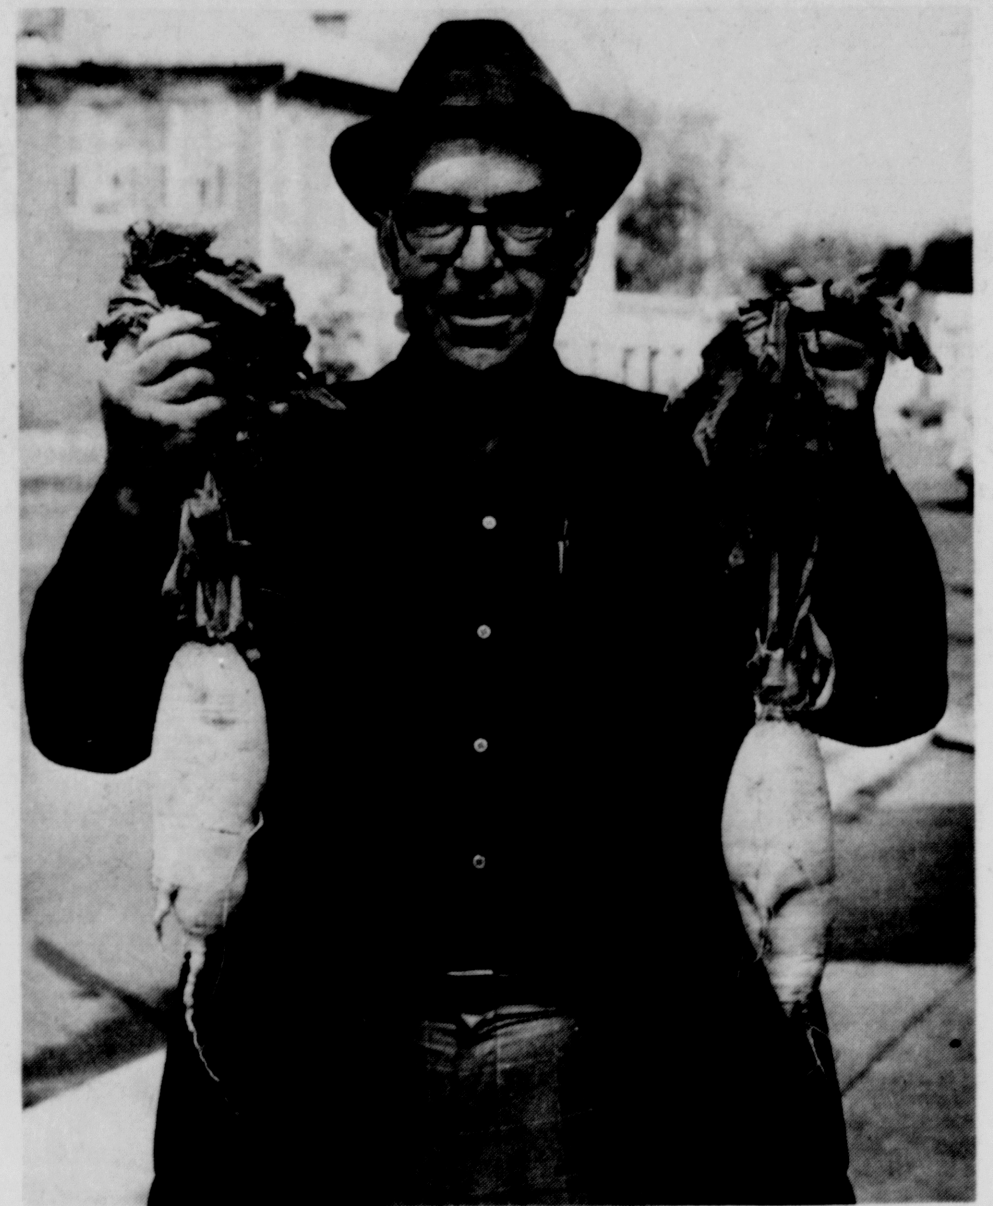

Three Charged With Shoplifting

Three Route 1, New Plymouth, residents were charged with shoplifting by Circleville Police 4:46 p.m. Wednesday after they were found with $67.92 in merchandise apparently taken from the Buckeye Mart.

Police also found merchandise in their car allegedly taken from Murphy's, King's, and Penneys.

The trio were apprehended by Buckeye Mart security personnel after they were seen concealing and leaving the store with the items.

They are Charles, Donna, and Shirley Doherty.

NOT PITHY—David Stoer, Route 1, Williamsport, pulled these two fall radishes from his quarter-acre home garden Tuesday and discovered that they have a combined weight of about five pounds. Stoer sowed them with turnips July 25.

President Takes Campaign Into Heart Of Midwest

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Ford is venturing into America's breadbasket after signing legislation of intense interest to farmers that expands government regulation of the $500 billion-a-year commodities futures exchanges.

Aides said Ford planned to issue a statement today at Des Moines, Iowa, on the bill he signed into law six hours before the Wednesday midnight deadline.

The Iowa capital was the first stop in another day of campaigning for Republican candidates in Ford's effort to avoid what he calls "a veto-proof Congress."

From Des Moines he was heading for Melvin, Ill., and a fairgrounds celebration honoring retiring House GOP Whip Les Arends. After that, he scheduled appearances at two receptions and a Republican fund-raising dinner in Chicago.

The legislation signed by Ford Wednesday night establishes an independent agency topped by a five-member commission to oversee trading of futures contracts. It also brings under regulation contracts that are exempt from various laws but still are subject to the rules of the largely self-governing exchanges.

In commodity future trading, farmers and other producers sell goods for delivery at some future date at a guaranteed price which they think will give them a fair return.

The annual Halloween Carnival, sponsored by the Ashville-Harrison P.T.A., will be held Saturday, in the school auditorium. A jitney supper will be served from 4:30 to 7 p.m.

A carnival will be held from 7:30 to 9 p.m. with games, prizes etc.

There will not be a regular October meeting of the organization. The next meeting will be held Nov. 21.

Saturday evening and overnight guests of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Bumgarner were her nephew and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Young of Bremen, Ind. Other callers were Mr. and Mrs. Carl Bumgarner and Doug. Young reported that this was his first visit to the Pumpkin Show in 42 years and the first visit for his wife.

The October meeting of the Auxiliary of the Ashville Community Post No. 730 of the American Legion was held at the Ashville Coffee Shop on Oct. 14 at 7:30 p.m. The following members were present: Ethel Siegle, Janice Stansbury, Mary Costlow, Ruth Cline, Edith Brown, Jane Wilson, Faye Sowers, Sonya Seymour and Dorothy Courtright.

Guests for the evening were Mrs. Pat Olaker, Seventh District of Ohio President and Mrs. Dorothy Worf. Mrs. Olaker reminded members of several events planned soon. On Nov. 10 at 2 p.m., the Fall Round Table will be held at the Circleville Post.

The "Gift Store" at the Veteran's Hospital will be held on Dec. 4 and 5 at 8 a.m. Their tree lighting ceremony will be on Dec. 9. Money was sent with her to be used for birthday gifts and candy for the Veterans at the Chillicothe Hospital.

At the November meeting each member is to bring a gift to be sent to the hospital as a Christmas gift for a Veteran.

Mrs. Ernestine Craig returned home this past weekend after visiting with her sister-in-law and brother-in-law in Grottoes, Va. A point of interest was the visit to "Walton Mountain". The Hamner Home at Skyler, Va., is the setting for the Waltons television program.

Mrs. Craig talked with Mrs. Hamner, mother of Earl Hamner, creator of the series.

Mrs. Hamner told her over 40,000 people have been there to visit the area. A fence has been installed to prevent the visitors from carrying off mementos of the location. Mrs. Craig was asked by Mrs. Hamner to sign the guest book. Only those asked are privileged to sign the book.

The Harrison Township Emergency Squad made the following runs this past week: Oct. 16, transported Leslie Beathard of Mt. Sterling from 152 Randolph St., in Ashville to Berger Hospital, possible stroke; Oct. 19, examined Charles Kiser of Mansfield at Edie-B Restaurant in South Bloomfield, ill; Oct. 20, traffic crash on US Route 23 one mile south of South Bloomfield, victims refused aid; Oct. 20, examined Kathleen Rainey, Route 2, Ashville, illness.

The Volunteer Firemen made the following runs: Oct. 16, faulty fuel oil furnace at Gene Nitrur home at Gregory Trailer Court, damage estimated at $200., no injuries; Oct. 19, faulty fuel oil furnace at Charles Waugh residence in Duvall, damage estimated at $25.; Oct. 20, short in electric oven at John Payne home in Gregory Trailer Court, damage estimated at $25., no injuries.

The firemen will again be having the annual Spaghetti Supper at the Teays Valley High School cafeteria on Nov. 14 from 5 to 8 p.m. You may purchase tickets from any member of the department.

Gina Carl, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Carl of South Bloomfield, attended a dance workshop, "Take 5", in Columbus on Oct. 20. The all day event featured Mallory Graham a choreographer of many Broadway Shows.

A reminder about the Halloween Parade which will be held Sunday. All masked participants are asked to be at the local Post Office at 2 p.m. Judging will be held in the Ashville Community Park.

Trick or Treat will be held in the Village on Oct. 30 from 5 to 7 p.m.

The Ashville Pythian Sisters met in the K.P. Hall recently for the regular monthly meeting. Most Excellent Chief Gladys Rush presided during the meeting. Members of the Temple will entertain members of Harrisburg Temple on Oct. 29 at 6:30 p.m. with a carry-in dinner. All members are urged to attend.

The District Convention will be held at Circleville Majors Temple on Nov. 13. Dinner reservations are to be made by Nov. 8. Mrs. Rush will serve as the delegate.

Members were saddened by the death of Sister Edith Hudson. Sympathy was also extended to Madge Baum on the death of brother, Charles Rohr.

Past Chiefs Club will meet Thursday, Oct. 24 in the home of Virginia Boyer.

Following the meeting a delicious lunch of salad, sandwiches, nuts and coffee was served by Dorothy Cook, Janet Cline, Judy Lambert and Carol Higgins. The lunch and all decorations in the dining room were in keeping with the Halloween theme.

Mrs. Malcolm Rathburn is a medical patient in Mt. Carmel Hospital, Columbus.

The second annual family gathering took place in Duvall at the home of Mr. and Mrs. McKinley Ross and Ted. Mrs. Ross's brother Weldon (Bill) Wolf, from Franklin, his wife Betty and Larry, Jerry, Steven and Patty arrived early Saturday morning and accompanied Mrs. Ross and her sons and daughters and grandchildren to the Pumpkin Show. Mr. Ross and his son-in-law Clyde Campbell attended the Ohio State football game.

Sunday morning Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Wolf of Middletown, Mr. and Mrs. Fred (Elizabeth) Montgomery of Columbus and their daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Brokaw, Billie and Scott of Columbus arrived. Others enjoying the day were Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Campbell, Matthew, Angela and Adam, Miss Cindy Darrow, Mrs. Janet McNeal and Kelly of Ashville and Mr. and Mrs. Steven Ross also of Ashville.

The occasion is scheduled for this time of year to celebrate the birthdays of Herb Wolf, Elizabeth Montgomery, Clyde Campbell and Bill Wolf, and the anniversaries of Mr. and Mrs. McKinley Ross, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Campbell which all occur before Nov. 9. The afternoon was enjoyed by reminiscing through a collection of old photos.

Lee Stiles and Steve Williams of Ashville and four friends stopped in for a short chat with Ted Ross during the afternoon.

Results of the Ashville Belles Tuesday Morning Housewives Bowling League for Oct. 22 were: high single game, Dolores Messick, 193; high three-game series, Dolores Messick, 512; high team game, Lovely Lady No. 1, 604, and high team series, Lovely Lady No. 1, 1794.

I know this little note is late in being written but my intentions have been good in commenting on the marching band at Teays Valley High School. Naturally we are all proud of the athletic teams of the school and we all should be equally proud of the band. It has really grown in the number of participating students and what a job they do! Not only delightful marching but enjoyable music and presented very well.

To you who have not attended a football game to enjoy both the team and the band, the last home game of the season will be played on Nov. 8

Scholarship Available To Hocking Tech

Hocking Technical College is offering a $250 scholarship for a student desiring to enroll in the Accounting or Retail Management Technology at Hocking Tech.

The scholarship is made available by a donation from Julius Schwartz, CPA, Instructor at Hocking Tech. The scholarship will be awarded on the basis of sincerity and academic ability.

Any interested persons should contact J. William Hill, Director of Financial Aid, concerning further information about admissions and an application for the scholarship.

with Wehrle as the opponent. On Oct. 25 and Nov. 1, they will be traveling to Grandview and Dublin.

Let's all be boosters of both the football squad and the band members, never before have I seen such a reception as the marching band receives when they appear on the field before game time. For a fine evening of entertainment go to the game!

Inflation In Disguise

Newsmen and other westerners stationed in Moscow for any length of time report the Soviet Union also is afflicted with inflation, but in a less obvious way than the West. There are no published indices on gross national product, rate of inflation, unemployment or average workers take-home pay.

As far as officialdom is concerned, there is no such thing as inflation in the Soviet Union. Officially, there are also no periodic shortages of grains and other farm products. But even the central planners must find some way around obvious dislocations in the market place.

One of their favorite inflation-fighting techniques is to eliminate lower-priced items in favor of "improved" — and higher priced

replacements. Thus the cost of living inches up at the same time "posted" prices remained unchanged.

This is not a very subtle game, and no doubt few Soviet consumers are fooled. But the important economic rule in the Soviet Union is that only capitalism is afflicted with ill like inflation. Within the USSR the phenomenon obviously is nothing more than a reflection of a rising standard of living.

Poetic Pause

ON THE LINE
By BOB CONSIDINE

NEW YORK — Mary Brooks, Director of the Mint, sends us this modernistic prayer:

"Slow me down, Lord.
"Ease the pounding of my heart by the quieting of my mind.
"Steady my hurried pace with a vision of the eternal reach of time.
"Give me, amid the confusion of the day, the calmness of the everlasting hills.

"Break the tensions of my nerves and muscles with the soothing music of the singing streams that live in my memory. Help me know the magical, restoring power of sleep.

"Teach me the art of taking minute vacations — of slowing down to look at a flower, to chat with a friend, to pat a dog, to read a few lines from a good book.

"Slow me down, Lord, and inspire me to send my roots deep into the soil of life's enduring values that I may grow toward the stars of my greater destiny."

While we're on this wave band, here is a sobering credo found scribbled on the back of an envelope among the effects of the former chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission Gordon Dean, who was killed in a plane crash:

"LESSONS LEARNED:
"1. — Never lose your capacity for enthusiasm.

"2. — Never lose your capacity for indignation.

"3. — Never judge people, don't type them too quickly; but in a pinch never first assume that a man is bad; first assume always that he is good and that at worst he is in the gray area between band and good.

"4. — Never be impressed by wealth alone or thrown by poverty.

"5. — If you can't be generous when it's hard to be, you won't be when it's easy.

"6. — The greatest builder of confidence is the ability to do something — almost anything — well.

"7. — When that confidence comes, then strive for humility; you aren't as good as all that.

"8. — And the way to become truly useful is to seek the best that other brains have to offer. Use them to supplement your own, and be prepared to give credit to them when they have helped.

"9. — The greatest tragedies in world and personal events stem from misunderstandings. Answer: communicate."

A new record for expressing gratitude may have been set recently when a young San Franciscan, Richard P. Johnson, arrived at Miami International Airport after serving four years in a Cuban prison. He and three others had been released by Castro in the wake of the visit to Cuba by Senators Jacob Javits and Clairborne Pell.

"I can't put into words how good it is to be home," Johnson cried.

They'll Do It Every Time

It was a movingly patriotic declaration, particularly in view of the fact that he had just been handcuffed by the FBI on a 1970 charge of helping to steal a light plane, which ran out of fuel over Cuban territory after a flight from Miami. (The Cuban government charged him and the pilot, Phil Burris, with carrying narcotics.)

Johnson is free on a $25,000 bond posted by his parents. The least the D.A.R. could do would be to provide counsel.

Prof Says America Must Face Reality

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — An Ohio State University professor says the United States is in a temporary stage before finally facing up to the problems of reality following an era of "blind and unthinking materialism."

Dr. Paul G. Craig, professor of Public Administration and Economics, said he is optimistic about the long-range prospects for economic growth in America, despite the present declining standard of living in the U.S.

"There's no reason to think that after a period of adjustment...this country can't continue to grow as it did before," Craig said.

Addressing the Fourth Annual Women's Day at Ohio State University's Fawcett Center For Tomorrow, Craig said, "Americans had a blind faith in our ability to do everything we wanted to do, to get everything we wanted to get."

Craig said the national and world situation—inflation, the devaluation of the dollar, the oil embargo and needed environmental protection programs—have forced Americans to face reality. "The era that is coming is going to be one of less material and more aesthetic concerns," Craig said. But growth, though of a different kind, will continue, he added.

Craig said he based his optimism for long-range growth on the present changing systems, structures and attitudes in world society.

Craig listed several facts that will affect the economic future in the U.S.

The highly productive age structure and nearly zero population growth will allow for greater production and reduced consumption of goods, Craig explained, allowing more goods for fewer people.

Decreased proportional military spending, down from 10 per cent in 1969 to 6 per cent this year, will free that proportion of federal funding for other projects, Craig said.

The decrease in population also affects the state and local budgets, as schooling has been the largest single costly item since World War II, Craig said.

the labyrinth of the brain of Edward A. Hanna, off-beat Mayor of Utica, N.Y. "Utica is a lousy place to live," he exploded the other day, in an angry assessment of the city of 91,000 population. He urged young Uticans to get out, find a fresh start in some happier clime.

He was roundly cheered by his supporters. He calls them, "my little people."

Why doesn't Hanna leave? Maybe it's because the city pays him a salary of $1 a year.

Projects, such as the interstate highways system costing $4 billion a year since the late 1950s, are nearly completed, Craig said, releasing funds for other needs.

Craig explained that all these factors will allow for continued economic growth in the U.S. He added, however, that Americans and the world will have to curb "aspirations beyond attainment."

"It's the greening of almost everyone that has led to world inflation" and other world problems, Craig said.

Thousands Of Lottery Tickets Stolen

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — William Horrigan, head of security for the Ohio lottery, says thousands of lottery tickets have been stolen over the past 10 weeks, and hundreds of persons have won $20 prizes by presenting invalid tickets.

Horrigan said Tuesday he will recommend to the commission the hiring of a security staff of 10 persons to investigate the thefts of a total of 12,848 tickets and the fraudulent ticket claims which careless agents have paid.

Meanwhile, the lottery commission announced that eight persons will participate in the Buckeye 300 drawing in Lima Thursday.

Horrigan said there have been 98 burglaries since the first lottery tickets were sold Aug. 12.

There have been about 100 cases a week of fraud in the claiming of lottery prizes, he said.

The fraudulent claims were estimated at $14,000.

The commission has been reimbursing agents for all the prize money they have paid out, Horrigan said, but eventually all the illegally disbursed prize money will have to be paid back to the commission.

A commission official said there have been 14 instances of ticket number alterations.

And James Skelly, public relations director, said there have been some instances in which ticket agents reported tickets stolen then tried to claim prizes with some of the tickets said to have been stolen.

Horrigan said these cases are still under investigation, and no arrests have been made.

Skelly warned that tickets should be purchased only from authorized sales agents.

"If you buy a ticket from a guy on the corner, chances are it's stolen, and if it's stolen, it's valueless," he said.

Those getting a crack at the $300,000 prize in Thursday's drawing include Robert L. Bailey of Toledo; Joseph Morganstern, Mansfield; Albert John Dvorsack Jr., Maple Heights; Carol Mitchell, Coshocton; Maria Szerencsy, Cleveland; Francis Boyer, Columbus; Emmett H. Wiley, Chesterland; and Daniel L. Deats, Lima.

Prizes of $60,000 and $30,000 also will be awarded, along with the $15,000 minimum each Buckeye 300 participant receives.

Wally Gant, a bachelor fishmonger from Yorkshire, England, officiated as best man for the 50th time in 1964. He first did the honors in 1931.

Today In History

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Today is Thursday, Oct. 24, the 297th day of 1974. There are 68 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: On this date in 1945, the United Nations Charter went into force as the Soviet Union became the 29th nation to ratify it.

On this date — In 1603, James I was proclaimed King of England, Scotland, France and Ireland.

In 1795, Poland was partitioned by Prussia, Austria and Russia.

In 1861, the first telegrams were sent across the United States.

In 1929, prices collapsed on the New York Stock exchange.

In 1952, presidential candidate Dwight Eisenhower said he would go to Korea to end the Korean War if elected.

Ten years ago: The Olympics in Tokyo wound up with the U.S. winning the greatest number of gold medals, 36.

Five years ago: Troops in Lebanon clashed with demonstrators supporting anti-Israel guerrillas, and six persons were killed.

One year ago: A cease-fire between Israel and Egypt in the Yom Kippur war was in effect, but some fighting continued.

Today's birthday: Former pro football star Y.A. Tittle is 48 years old.

Thought for today: Though the mills of God grind slowly, yet they grind exceedingly well — Henry Wadsworth Longfellow, American poet, 1807-1882.

A 43-year-old ex-convict arrested Saturday for window peeping has been linked with the "shallow grave" slaying June 4 of a Columbus man, whose body was discovered along Big Walnut Creek near Ashville by youthful swimmers.

Three people were killed in auto accidents, two in Circleville, during the Pumpkin Show.

A hearing on a petition to clean and straighten Clements county ditch was set by Pickaway County Commissioners. Estimate of the work was $3,646. The ditch starts in Atlanta and ends at a branch of Hay Run.

Circleville Fire Chief Talmer Wise, equipped with a magnet attached to two lengths of women's hose, gathered 12 pounds of scrap metal from Circleville streets following the Pumpkin Show.

He Dug In Those Claws

YUBA CITY, Calif. (AP) — As Mrs. Shirley Cartosdelli, wife of Sutter County under-sheriff Frank C. Cartosdelli, drove down Yuba City streets recently, she wondered why everyone was pointing to her car and waving something other than a hello. When she got to her shopping center she discovered the reason.

In the luggage rack atop the car was the family cat. It was his favorite napping spot, but he didn't count on taking a ride. It took 10 minutes to pry him loose.

LAFF - A - DAY

"The meat prices have really brought out the hunters this year."

Speaking Of Your Health

by Lester L. Coleman, M.D.

In the 30 years that we've been married I don't remember a day that my husband has not taken some kind of laxative.

During the past three months nothing seems to be very effective. I wonder if the laxatives have finally caused some permanent damage to his intestines.

Mrs. E. R., Ohio

Dear Mrs. R.:

Letters from readers constantly reveal misconceptions about bowel habits.

Preoccupation with the need for "regularity" may well be the end result of advertisements.

In the absence of any gastrointestinal disease it is difficult to believe that reliance on laxatives for 30 years was necessary. Even the commercial manufacturers warn that constant dependence on their product should be avoided.

In many sub-cultures, fatigue, headaches, irritability and insomnia are all attributed to constipation.

In most instances, the chronic laxative habit could be avoided by well-balanced meals, sufficient roughage and an adequate amount of water.

I doubt that the dependence on laxatives itself has been responsible for the change in your husband's bowel patterns. Rather, it is necessary to study his intestinal tract to rule out other causes for his new type of constipation.

X-ray studies and sigmoidoscopy (rectal examination) are imperative for his complete safety.

My aunt has been told she needs an air test for her brain. Can you explain this?

Miss H. W., Minn.

Dear Miss W.:

The test is known as pneumo-encephalography. A small amount of air is painlessly injected into the spinal column.

The air diffuses around the brain and outlines it when it is X-rayed.

This test is only one of many highly sophisticated methods of studying the brain.

Scanning devices, especially by EMI, a machine using radioisotopes and X-rays, can now reveal, with great accuracy, changes within and around the brain.

Aging To Become Major Problem

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — "Aging, that is growing old, is a problem in our society," an Ohio State University professor of psychology said Tuesday.

By the year 2000, one person out of six in the United States will be in the group of "older American" said Dr. Dorthy W. Jackson.

More people are living longer, Dr. Jackson said. As a result, the lives of the aged living now are different than those of the past century. The aged and their families must be taught to cope with the resulting differences and problems, she added.

The most significant change is in the marriage relationship, Dr. Jackson said. Couples now spend more years together without children and must learn to re-establish a husband-wife relationship.

Old folks must learn to cope with the physical changes of aging, the changes in role from parent to grandparent, the feeling of a loss of personal power and identity, the fear of loneliness following loss of a mate, the changing world and lifestyles around them, and the fear of senility and the fear of dying, Dr. Jackson said.

Society can cope with these problems, Dr. Jackson said, but only individual personal awareness will change the negative attitudes and myths about the over-65 generation and the process of growing old.

Speaking to a group of women attending the Fourth Annual Women's Day at Ohio State University's Fawcett Center For Tomorrow, Dr. Jackson asked each of them to think about their attitudes towards their aged parents or grandparents.

Dr. Jackson said most Americans picture old folks as sickly, accident-prone and unable to live on their own. She said this negative picture serves as a self-fulfilling prophecy in too many cases.

Conversely, many Americans revere the "golden age myth" which says the "best is yet to be" late in life, Dr. Jackson said.

In reality, neither picture is true, Dr. Jackson stressed. Americans must establish a realistic picture of being old and realize that there are more options available to the aged and their families than those defined by tradition and past relations.

Try To Fight City Hall

BELGRADE (AP) — Franc Cretnik, 64, was not flattered when the Social Security Service ignored 23 years of his life, thus preventing him from obtaining old-age insurance.

He was born in 1910, but a mistake in administration registered his birth year as 1933.

The administration privately confided to him that he looked a bit older than a man in his 40s but explained they had to act on the strength of documents rather than on personal impressions.

A ruling in an official document of the service specified that Cretnik had 30 years and 9 months of proven work period, which rules out the possibility of his getting old-age pension, since he was born in 1933. If he is dissatisfied with the service's ruling he is free to lodge an appeal.

"I would like to have been born later and thus be of age as is written. But the clerk in charge is away and I have to realize my rights without waiting for him, but this seems to be a difficult task," Cretnik says.

DETROIT (AP) — Chrysler Corp. has reported a third-quarter profit of $11.2 million in U.S. and Canadian operations and increased sales revenue worldwide. But the firm wound up losing $8 million for the quarter because of overseas losses.

The North American profits were offset by losses totaling $19.2 million overseas, Chrysler said.

The figures announced Tuesday show Chrysler still in the black for the year so far. The nine-month earnings are $21.4 million, an 88 per cent decline from $181 million a year ago, and a per-share drop from $3.42 to 38 cents.

It was only the second quarter in 3½ years that the nation's third largest auto maker reported a loss. General Motors and Ford Motor Co. plan to report their third-quarter results next week.

The loss came despite record revenues for the period. Sales totaled $2.8 billion, up from $2.3 billion for the third quarter of 1973.

Trading of the firm's stock was temporarily halted on the New York Stock Exchange Tuesday. It closed at 10¼, a low for the year.

Chrysler Chairman Lynn Townsend said the firm has been unable to recover $249 in material and labor costs added for each car since January 1972 despite price increases averaging about $1,000 since 1974 models came out a little more than a year ago.

City Schools Schedule Conferences

Fritz F. Jacobs, Superintendent, announced today that the Circleville City Schools will conduct the first of three scheduled parent-teacher conferences on Tuesday afternoon.

School will be dismissed at 12:10 for elementary and 12:50 for junior high and high school to allow the remainder of the day for scheduled conferences.

Conferences are by appointment only and are scheduled in advance of the conference day. Other parents not scheduled on this date will be scheduled at a later date.

The program is designed to offer the opportunity for direct parent-teacher understanding regarding the individual student's potential and achievement and to create a better understanding of the objectives of the school program.

During the past two years the conferences have been held and have proved to be quite successful.

Other conference days are scheduled for Dec. 4, and March 13, 1975.

Man Relives Gettysburg Battle

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—If the rumor should arise that a restless spirit is roaming the Gettysburg battlefield, believe it not.

That will be Warren Motts pursuing his hobby.

Motts, a professional Columbus photographer, has spent uncounted hours summer and winter, day and night, weekend after weekend for the last four years clicking his camera on the site of the famous Civil War battle.

His goal is a fully documented, illustrated lecture on the three-day battle from the viewpoint of the men who fought it. He figures it will be another six months before he reaches that goal.

It all began when he had to talk to a group of amateur photographers at the Y.W.C.A. "I got this idea of telling them how to photograph their vacations from a different point of view than the usual tourist," Motts said. "I thought of the Gettysburg thing as an example."

Following his own idea to Gettysburg, Motts found a majority of the photographs there "historically beautiful but poor photography." Gettysburg park officials, the Library of Congress and the National Archives officials gave him the same enthusiastic response to his idea of redoing the battle.

"I decided if I was going to do it, it had to be right," Motts said. "I didn't want historians looking at my work and saying it was photographically beautiful but poor history."

Motts read scores of books on the Civil War and checked incidents and locations against the Gettysburg terrain and farmsteads.

Carrying a Union soldier's canteen, wearing "an old pair of combat boots with bad soles" to simulate the footgear of the men who marched to Gettysburg, Motts "started out at sunrise at Marsh Creek, where the battle started."

He walked through the major events of the battle in sequence, moving from the various points at which troops were located. He visited the battlefield in the summer when heat and humidity compared with that the troops faced. He went back in winter when fields were bare to get a better sense of hills and streams and ravines.

"I stopped under a tree and it started to rain—just as one of the soldiers said it did that day."

Motts has no present plan to publish his photographic history.

"My main goal is to put something together to make you feel you were there and something I could leave for my kids and their kids," he said.

Hough Free On Appeal

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — James Hough, the flamboyant intermediary in the return of two stolen Rembrandt paintings, was expected to be released from jail on a $30,000 appeal bond today.

The 1st Ohio District Court of Appeals on Wednesday ordered the bond while Hough's conviction for extortion, harboring a felon and receiving stolen goods is appealed. He was sentenced to 3-20 years in prison.

Hough was found guilty of illegal activity in representing thieves who stole the paintings, valued at $1.5 million, from the Taft Museum last December. The $100,000 ransom was recovered with the arrests of three men.

The three pleaded guilty to lesser charges and testified against Hough.

MR. AND MRS. GEORGE J. LEATHERWOOD

The wedding of Miss Pamela Joan Cook and Mr. George Joseph Leatherwood took place 6:30 p.m., Aug. 24th, in Zion United Methodist Church of Ashville. The Rev. John Currens performed the double ring ceremony for the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Cook, Route 5, Circleville and the son of Mr. and Mrs. George Leatherwood, 133 W. Main St., Ashville.

Mrs. Gary L. Fortner, organist and Mr. Richard Cook, vocalist, presented a program of nuptial selections preceding the ceremony. The altar was adorned with vases of yellow and white pompon mums with smaller matching arrangements on the organ console. Candelabra with bows and greenery flanked the altar and the pews were decorated with white, green and yellow ribbons.

The bride was given in marriage by her father and mother. For her wedding she selected a formal length gown of white organza with a full sleeved empire bodice, delicate pink flowers of Venice lace at the high neckline, wrists and deep crystal pleated flounce on the skirt. The bride's lace edged mantilla of bridal illusion was held by a lace caplet. She carried a cascade arrangement of white miniature carnations, baby's breath, yellow roses and leatherleaf atop a Holy Bible.

Maid of honor, Miss Jody Harris, wore a floor length gown of yellow with short puffed sleeves and lace and ribbon at the empire waist and high neckline. A picture hat matched her gown and she carried a cascade bouquet with miniature white carnations, yellow pompon mums and baby's breath.

Bridesmaids were Mrs. James Smith, sister of the bride and Mrs. Roger Cook, sister-in-law of the bride. They were gowned as the honor attendant in green and carried matching bouquets with green pompon mums.

Flower girl, Miss Brenda Kay Knapp, wore a yellow dotted swiss floor length gown made by the bride. She carried a basket of flower petals. Mrs. Jeffery Singleton, sister of the bride, presided at the guest book.

Mr. Gregg Peck of Circleville performed the duties of best man for his friend. Ushers were Mr. Garry Cotton and Mr. Bill Welsh, both of Ashville. The bride's mother wore a formal length light green gown with long sleeves and white accessories, and a corsage of miniature white carnations with yellow roses.

The bridegroom's mother wore a red, white and blue dress with an empire waist and long skirt, and blue accessories. Her corsage was of red and white miniature carnations and roses.

A reception in the social room of the church immediately followed the ceremony. The four tiered wedding cake was decorated with yellow sweet peas, bride and groom figures placed between layers and topped with yellow and white pompons and a cross. Yellow and white pompons and greenery encircled the cake flanked with silver candleholders with yellow tapers.

Hostesses were Miss Linda Leatherwood, Mrs. Kelly Leatherwood, Miss Cathy Noecker and Mrs. Ralph Willoughby.

For a wedding trip to Tennessee and Kentucky, the bride wore a blue and white printed dress with white accessories. The couple now resides in Circleville.

The bride graduated from Teays Valley High School and Eastland Vocational School of Cosmetology. She is currently employed at Bev's House of Beauty in Ashville.

The bridegroom, also a graduate of Teays Valley High School, is a student at Circleville Bible College.

Special guests at the wedding were grandparents of the bride, Mr. and

National BPW Week

Circleville Business and Professional Women's Club is observing National Business Women's week. In 1928 the celebration was begun by the National Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs, the largest and oldest group organized for working women.

To help salute the combined energy of all working women, the local club has planned two events.

On Thursday at 6:30 p.m. a dinner session will be held at Pickaway Arms with the legislative committee in charge. William A. Stout will be guest speaker. Margaret Remy, chairman, is being assisted by JoAnn Brink and Maxine Wilson.

A brunch scheduled for 10:45 a.m. Saturday will also be at Pickaway Arms.

Halloween Party

Held By Saltcreek

Town, Country Club

Members of Saltcreek Town and Country Club arrived at the home of Edith Everett, Route 1, Laurelville recently in Halloween costume for a party and brief business meeting. Co-hostesses were Beverly Carper and Lois Jones.

Wanda Seimer led the 18 members in the Pledge to the Flag of the United States of America and the Junior Club Pledge. For devotions Beverly Carper read the 23rd Psalm.

Prizes for costumes were awarded to Jean Speakman, Donna Strous, Wanda Seimer and Phyllis Ross.

It was agreed to have a ham and bean dinner on Nov. 23rd at the Saltcreek Twp. School with serving from 4:30-8 p.m. Members voted to make a donation to war veterans for Christmas.

The next meeting will be observance of Guest Night in the home of Mrs. Donald Maxson, Route 4, Chillicothe.

Wedding Vows

Read Oct. 12th

Walter Mansberger and Marie Holiday, both of Lancaster, exchanged wedding vows Oct. 12th in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Paul H. Cornwell, Route 5, Circleville. The Rev. Alonzo Hill officiated the ceremony.

The bride wore a formal length blue gown with long fitted sleeves of lace.

A reception in the Cornwell home followed the ceremony. The bride's table was centered with a three tiered cake decorated with blue roses and topped with bride and groom figurines. Enhancing the table was a fall floral arrangement.

Guests for the dinner and the reception were: Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Murray, Chillicothe; Mr. and Mrs. Paul E. Cornwell, Orient; Mrs. Virginia Cornwell, Circleville, mother of the bride; the Rev. and Mrs. Alonzo Hill, Circleville and Dale Cornwell, and Paul H. Cornwell, Route 5.

Mrs. Roland Cook and grandmother of the groom, Mrs. Edward Leatherwood.

selected a formal length gown of ivory cotton lace in Victorian style with satin ribbon on the sleeves and around the empire waistline with a front bow. Her picture hat was enhanced with a lace brim and veiling falling softly down the back. She carried a dried Williamsburg bouquet of strawflowers and baby's breath accented with blues and browns.

Miss Gail McGee of Columbus, sister of the bride, wore an ivory and blue flowered gown and a blue picture hat. She carried a bouquet of dried flowers predominately blue and green.

Bridesmaids were Miss Debbie Pryce of Columbus and Miss Sandy Myers of Willoughby. They were gowned identically to the honor attendant and carried matching bouquets.

Mr. Robert Clutterbuck, Cleveland, brother of the bridegroom, was best man. Ushers were, Dr. Charles A. Bush, Dr. Charles R. Bush, Dr. H. Craig Slesman and Mr. Scott Andrews, all of Columbus.

A reception at El Rio Restaurant in Warren followed the ceremony. The couple now resides at 584 Stinchcomb Drive, Columbus.

The new Mrs. Clutterbuck graduated in June, 1974, from the Ohio State University. She is employed as a home economics teacher at both the junior and senior high schools of Circleville. Mr. Clutterbuck is a senior in the college of medicine at the Ohio State University.

Wedding Vows Repeated In Ashville Church

MR. AND MRS. CARL C. SCHEIN JR.

St. Paul Lutheran Church of Ashville was the setting for the marriage of Miss Janet Arlene Derr and Mr. Carl C. Schein Jr., 2:30 p.m., Sept. 22nd. The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Alva Derr, Route 1, Ashville and the late Mr. Alva Derr. Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Carl Schein, Route 2, Circleville.

The Rev. H. L. Strauch officiated the double ring ceremony before the altar adorned with a large centerpiece of orange gladioli flanked with candelabra decorated with large orange bows and greenery, orange gladioli, baby's breath and greenery as were the pews. A bouquet of Fuji mums, in memory of the bride's father, was placed on the piano.

Mr. Edwin Hann of Obetz, cousin of the bride, was organist.

The bride was given in marriage by her mother and brother, Mr. Jeffrey T. Derr. For her wedding day the bride made a gown of organza over bridal satin with Irish lace motifs on the long full sleeves, high collar, bodice and skirt. The cuffs and chapel length train were accented with matching lace and organza ruffles. The empire waistline was trimmed with Irish lace. Her headpiece of matching lace motifs held blusher and cathedral length veils. The bride carried a cascade bouquet of white roses, yellow miniature carnations, baby's breath, ivy and sprengeri. Her only jewelry was an opal and diamond necklace, a gift of the bridegroom.

Miss Julie Derr served her sister as maid of honor. She wore a peach colored floor length gown of crepe de chine with a sweetheart neckline, short petal sleeves and A-line skirt with a ruffle at the hemline. She carried an arm bouquet of dried baby's breath, wheat sheaths, peach sweetheart roses and yellow miniature mums.

Bridesmaids were Miss Christy Ranft, cousin of the bride, and Miss Jane Schein, sister of the bridegroom. They were dressed identically to the honor attendant in yellow and carried matching bouquets. The attendants wore opal necklaces, gifts of the bride.

Mr. Mark Schein performed the duties of best man for his brother. Ushers were Mr. Jeffrey Helsner, Mr. Jay Derr and Mr. Jack Derr, brothers of the bride, and Mr. John Schein, brother of the bridegroom.

The bride's mother was attired in a street length dress of crepe in shades of orange, yellow and beige. Her corsage was of white roses, miniature yellow carnations and baby's breath. The bridegroom's mother wore a street length blue knit dress trimmed with gold buttons. Her corsage was identical to that of Mrs. Derr.

A reception in the hall of the church followed the ceremony. An arch decorated with greenery and bells was the background for the bride's table. The four tiered wedding cake was accented with yellow roses and topped with miniature bride and groom figurines. Silver candelabra flanking the cake were enhanced with sprengeri, baby's breath and miniature yellow mums.

Hostesses were Mrs. Barry Fox, Mrs. Gary McDonald, Miss Cathy Miller and Miss Christy Miller, all cousins of the bride.

For a wedding trip to Michigan and Canada the bride wore a street length dress of melon colored knit accented with contrasting collar and cuffs. The couple now resides at 5187 Orchard Court, Groveport.

The bride is a graduate of Teays Valley High School. She attended the Ohio State University and is presently employed as a dental assistant.

The bridegroom graduated from Westfall High School and Wilmington College where he received a BS in agriculture. He is employed by Van Camp Agri-Systems, a division of Van Camp Contracting.

Out-of-town guests at the wedding were from Columbus, Reynoldsburg, Dayton, Hebron, Obetz, New Holland, Piketon and Sabina.

Dear Abby:

By Abigail Van Buren

Old Story With Fancy Words

DEAR ABBY: Chuck and I have been married for 20 years. I was 17 and he was 18 at the time, and we were very much in love. I still am, but I'm not so sure about Chuck.

Recently Chuck expressed the need for less togetherness and more freedom to explore and develop ourselves as individuals. We talked it out and he admitted that his basic need was sexual experimentation. Chuck says he doesn't want to deceive me, but his need has now become an obsession.

We have three children and everything to stay together for. Chuck suggested one night out a week for both of us and no questions asked. I don't want another man, and I'm afraid if I agree to such an arrangement, Chuck might find someone else.

Please advise me.

CHUCK'S WIFE

DEAR WIFE: Chuck has suggested in highfalutin language that you both swing with others. To my way of thinking (and regardless of what married swingers say) this would signal the beginning of the end.

DEAR ABBY: I have had the same beauty operator for about three years. I like her work very much, but she does something that I find very irritating, and I am amazed that somebody hasn't called her on it.

She addresses her patrons by their last names. "Johnston, I'll be with you in a moment. Smith, you're not dry yet. Jones, take the first dryer."

Perhaps most of her customers are either used to it, or they don't mind, but I find it rather rude.

Am I being petty? Or shouldn't a hairdresser address her patrons as either Miss or Mrs.?

CALL ME MRS.

DEAR CALL ME: A hairdresser (and anyone else who performs a personal service) should address clients as "Miss" or "Mrs." unless she is asked to address them in some other way. If it irritates you, tell her. No sense getting hotter under the dryer.

DEAR ABBY: I sure hope you can help me. I am 14, and already I am ruining my life. My problem is I am always lying to impress people, shock them, or just to get attention. I guess. If I tell the truth, I stretch it so much, it's not the truth any more.

I have told some terrible lies that got a lot of people into a lot of trouble. Once I scratched my own face up, and told everyone that my mother did it, just to get people to feel sorry for me.

I don't take drugs or anything like that. I just lie and make up stories. I'm such a good liar I almost believe some of the things I make up. Please help me to stop lying, Abby. I don't have a friend in the world.

DON'T SIGN THIS

DEAR DON'T: Chronic lying is a symptom of a deeper emotional problem. You need professional

Darlene Rathburn Honored With Bridal Shower

A bridal shower honoring Miss Darlene Rathburn was held recently in the home of Mrs. Sharron Rathburn of Ashville. Co-hosting the event attended by 35 guests was Miss Bonnie Rathburn.

Well, now, let me tell you there is no question about it, I fell madly in love during the Pumpkin Show. The object of my adoration is debonair, sparkling eyed, eleven-month-old Jason Paul Lambert who has a smile that walks away with your heart. He has that "downeast" New England charm and charisma of his papa who just happens to be Francis Paul Lambert and mama is our own Norma Louise Easterday Lambert, a very popular Round-towner.

Norma is a former talented baton twirler with the Tiger band. The Lambert trio and daughters Cherie and Lisa Lehman drove in from their Norwich, Conn. digs to be a part of the great Pumpkin Show. They were the house guests of parents Forrest and Leona Easterday from Tuesday until this Monday.

Another heart stealer, little four-year-old Miss Holly Minor of Kingston, our niece and the daughter of Roger and Jackie Easterday Minor, guested with us from Thursday until Saturday and enjoyed all the sights, sounds, fun and games of the big P.S. And we thoroughly enjoyed Holly.

Also our guests for the big show were Maria Martha Arguello (our daughter from Nicaragua), Ana Arguello and Maria Isabella Abir (also from Nicaragua). All three girls are freshman this term at Mount St. Joseph College at Cincy.

The girls had one word to describe the Pumpkin Show and I quote "Delicious". Whatever was made with pumpkin they tried in the true spirit of it all. We sent pumpkin cookies back to school with them for the Sisters and classmates. The girls just couldn't believe their eyes when they saw the tremendous crowds.

This writer is very appreciative of the warm and courteous reception extended to our girls. And especially do we thank Sue Barnhill and Terry Agin for allowing them to stand on the Main St. stage on Friday night to view the last few minutes of the parade. Their bus arrived quite late at Washington C.H. and the saving of energy resources was forgotten as we blazed the trail from C.H. to Circleville in hopes the girls could see the parade. There was no way they could have made their way through the ten to twelve row deep spectators—hence the generous offer to view from the stage.

Nice gestures like that are what makes Pickaway Countians beautiful. The late Saturday night snow proved to be exciting and even more so when we were all sitting watching a vampire chiller on TV and the electricity went kaput. I don't think we ever really convinced them it was weather caused.

Papa Bill and Marc had a blast on Sunday driving the girls all around town in their pride and joy—their 1925 Model T. Late in the afternoon our girls (all three insist this is home and we are mama and papa), Dolly Thompson and yours truly headed out for Cincinnati.

It was the ending of a perfectly happy three days. Now we are looking forward to when they will be home a week from Thursday for another three days—they have a bit of a holiday since Nov. 1 is All Saints Day and there will be no classes.

Hey, super fantastic news!!! I am reliably informed that in the very near future we will have a Flo-Lizer plant located in Woodlyn, a suburb of Williamsport. It is encouraging to have an old established firm expand its operation into our area. Welcome, welcome!

Back to Pumpkin Show tidbits—there are readers who might be interested in knowing that Williamsport once again has a real interest in the beauteous part of the festivities. Laurie May, the newly crowned queen, is a granddaughter of Mr. Royal Hamman and the late Doris Hamman. Furthermore, she is a cousin to Cindy Hamman, last year's first attendant. Laurie's mother (Markie May) and Cindy's father (Jim Hamman) are sister and brother. Now, the 1974-75 second attendant, Lisa Creamer is also Cindy's cousin. Lisa's mother (Jerrienne Myers Creamer) and Cindy's mother (Jeanie Myers Hamman) are sisters. Beauty is very much a family affair, wouldn't you agree?

Roger and Marsha Clark and young son Todd of Cridersville reserved a portion of their vacation time just for Pumpkin Show. It was Todd's very first show. While here they stayed with parents Johnny and Doris Reynolds.

Roger (former Westfall chief) and Sue Beck and two blonde images Stacey and Mike journeyed down from Mt. Gilead and overnighted Friday with Marvie baby and Dolly Thompson and their clan, Vicki, Shirley, Brad and German Naranjo. More P.S. visitors.

Happiness is having someone you know and like be the winner of the grand champion Pumpkin Show float. Mucho congratulations Jim and Belle Sowers! May this only be the first of many, many more grand champions.

Jack and Patti Brayshaw, Pete and Pearl Cochenour went from the sublime to the ridiculous weatherwise last week. Thursday they returned Williamsport way from a fabulous

Florida vacation where they had the facilities of a mobile home at their disposal, courtesy of a friend of Jack's. From this Lake Wales base they did all the tourist things including Disney World. They spent time with Jack and Pearl's brother, Bill Brayshaw and his family at Tampa.

To add to the enjoyment of the vacation the foursome traveled one route going and another coming home. After all that gorgeous Florida sunshine they get back here in time for the much talked about October snow. Twenty-two years ago on Saturday night of the Pumpkin Show it also snowed. Papa Bill and I were there.

The Cochenours were pleasantly surprised to have cousin Mrs. Fay Bennett of Oswego, Ill. along with Mrs. Susan Stamp and daughter Christi of Montgomery, Ill. show up on their doorstep over the weekend. The Illini had come in for the world wide attraction.

Viola Adams, a recent patient at Berger Hospital, is thankful to all who remembered her with cards, flowers and visits while she had the misfortune to be hospitalized. She reports she received excellent care from the hospital personnel and Dr. Lutz and is most grateful to them, too. Viola is now at home recuperating but expects to be hospitalized again in the near future.

The upcoming production, "The Sound of Music", to be presented by The Roundtown Players Nov. 6-10 should be of real interest to our villagers. Why? One of the lead roles is portrayed by Katie Schneider, who if memory serves me well, is a sister and sister-in-law of Nathan and Ruth Barnes Wilson; A supporting role is handled by Barbara Kibby, our Westfall band director Jim Kibby's wife; another supporting role went to Dan McCain which is of much interest to us since Dan is Mike's brother and Mike means a lot to our family (special to Becki); a cast member Dawn Morrison is a daughter of Mrs. Lois Morrison and the late Kervyn Morrison; another cast member Lisa McCoy is a daughter of Glenn and Lois McCoy, former residents; and there could very well be more ties that I am unaware of since also appearing will be Larry Blum, Jo Ann Brink in lead roles; Diane Berger, Marilyn Sprenger, Barb Dowd, Judy Fischer, Brad Fisher, Kathleen Higgins, Kaari Blum, Gena Ross, Carrie Teegardin, Rene Saxton, Helen Blum, Gladden Troutman in supporting roles; Barbara Alkire, Jeff Smallwood, Helen Allison, Steve Stevenson, Marty Sharrett, Evelyn Perdion, Pat Stonerock, Bill Allison, Sandy Adams, Max Wagner, Jim Parthemore, Jenny Berger, Paula Kingsley, Beth Hovermale, Janice Perdion, Sherri Fausnaugh, Marilyn Brehmer, Mary Allardyce, Carolyn Capper, Linda Davis, Melinda Perkins, Melanie Shutter, Kathy Fisher, Lois Ann Rustin, Terri Ross, Andrea Downing, Jody Wells and Janet Spring, cast members.

If this production is on the same excellent level of all other Roundtown Player presentations that it has been my pleasure to attend then it will be a time well spent and I urge and encourage each and every reader to purchase tickets as soon as they go on sale. Five performances will be given in The Memorial Hall Theatre. Curtain time is 8 p.m. November 6-9 and a 2 p.m. matinee on Nov. 10.

Clara Teegardin, musical director, will coordinate the vocalists and the 25-piece Circleville Chamber Orchestra. The Rodgers and Hammerstein hit musical is under the direction of Jim Dippel, a well known director in the Columbus area. My thanks to Diane Berger for sending the information to me.

Another happiness is having your sweet, friendly neighbors decide not to go Florida way this winter. We surely do like the idea of having Harry and Emma Puffinbarger remain here this winter instead of going south as they have for the past several years. The corner is always so lonely when they are away but thank goodness that won't be the way it is this winter.

UNICEF Mrs. H. H. (Mary Lee) Stevens reminds all village residents that the youngsters will be knocking on the doors Sunday in the early evening asking for contributions to the United Children's Fund. Your donation goes a long, long way in bringing food to hungry little tummies and medicine and many other useful articles to the deprived children of other nations. So when one of our children appears at your home give with a generous heart.

In past years the children have been accompanied by local adults and I am certain such will be the situation again this year so the workers will be readily identifiable. Remember—Sunday is UNICEF in Williamsport. Mayor Paul Long has issued a proclamation designating this as UNICEF week. We will be reading the proclamation on WNRE, "What's Happening In Williamsport", this Thursday. The show is on the air 2 p.m. until 3 p.m. so turn the dial and give us a listen. You might like it.

Violinist Succumbs

AMSTERDAM, Netherlands (AP) — David Oistrakh, the world renowned Soviet violinist, died early today in his room at an Amsterdam hotel, a spokesman for the Amsterdam Concertgebouw Orchestra announced.

Oistrakh was 66 and had a history of heart trouble in recent years. The spokesman said the cause of death had not been determined yet, but it was assumed he died of a heart attack.

Oistrakh in recent years had widened his musical activity to include conducting and arrived in Amsterdam on Oct. 7 for a Brahms series with the Concertgebouw. He had conducted six concerts, the last one two days ago, and had been the soloist in three of them.

People who saw the musician in the past few days reported that he looked well and showed no signs of illness, in contrast to his appearance following a series of heart attacks several years ago.

The violinist's wife was with him in Amsterdam, and a spokesman for his Dutch manager said she would take the body to Moscow on an afternoon flight.

Their son, Igor, is also a prominent concert violinist. He often appeared with his father in concerts and on records but never equaled him in the estimation of the critics or the public.

A native of Odessa, on the Black Sea, Oistrakh made his debut while a student at the Odessa Music and Drama Institute in the early 1920s and in 1930 won first prize in the All-Ukraine Violin Competition.

Cincinnati Jaywalker Fined For Assault

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP)—Heinz P. Daschke, 20, of Cincinnati, the first pedestrian arrested in a jaywalking crackdown by police, has been fined $100, but on another charge.

Daschke, angered by the citation after stepping from a Mount Adams section bar into the street, socked Lt. Mike Heinz in the mouth, knocking off the officer's glasses. Daschke said it was an accident.

Daschke, who had no previous record, apologized to the policeman in Hamilton County Municipal Court Wednesday and was fined for the assault.

Tigers 'Ready' For Leaders

Friday will be the most important night in South Central Ohio League football this year, at least for the Circleville Tigers.

CHS will do battle with the Blue Lions of Washington C.H. and the winner will be the probable league champion.

WCH, paced by a tenacious defense and the ability to win close games, is 3-0 in the league and 6-1 overall, dropping a 12-10 decision to Portsmouth for its only loss.

The Tigers, meanwhile, are 3-1 in the league and 5-2 overall to remain in a tie with Greenfield for second place. Miami Trace, the other serious contender and the probable co-champion with WCH or the Tigers, is 2-1.

The Panthers play Greenfield tonight and then Washington C.H. next Friday. Circleville's final league game will be with Hillsboro, currently 0-2 in the league.

Is Circleville ready for the game? "You bet," says Coach Larry Cook, who, with his coaching staff, has been preparing all week "for one of our biggest games this year."

The coaches know they "have to win to stay in contention for the league crown," something they have been doing since the loop opening loss to Greenfield.

It'll be the league's leading rusher against the league's leading passer on offense Friday at the WCH field.

Biff Bumgarner, Circleville junior's tailback, has accounted for 600 yards in 92 carries in Circleville's four SCOL games. His closest competitor is Wilmington's Jackie Watson, who has 462 yards in 63 carries.

The league statistics are a tribute to the Tiger defense as CHS stalled Watson with only 29 rushing yards in a 28-12 win three weeks ago. He has 795 yards on the year to lead league rushers in all games.

Close behind in the all-game category is Greenfield's Gary Barr with 793 yards. However, Barr ranks third in SCOL rushing with 386 yards. Circleville derailed him for 62 yards in their only league loss of the year.

And the Tigers did the same job on Miami Trace's Jeff Sagar, who ranks fourth in all-game rushing with 730 yards. The Tigers contained Sagar to just 46 yards in a 14-12 win over the Panthers.

Bumgarner, who got off to a slow start, has 748 yards rushing for the year in 125 carries. That ranks him third among league runners.

In Circleville's four league games, Pat McNaughton has gained 207 yards in 45 carries and Rick Sampsis has rushed for 69 yards in nine carries.

In passing, Perry Hoskins is of 9 for 51 yards and Phil Roll is 8 of 19 for 116 yards.

Blue Lion running attack is paced by sophomore Leroy Wilson who has 303 yards in 108 carries and 197 in 67 carries in the league.

However, the primary WCH threat rides on the arm of quarterback Jeff Brown, who leads the league in passing.

In three games, Brown has hit 17 of 35 passes for 303 yards. He has been intercepted three times. Overall, he is 29 of 60 for 506 yards and 48.3 performance rating.

The Blue Lions slipped by Bishop Ready and Chillicothe by identical 8-6 scores in their first two games and lost to Portsmouth 12-10.

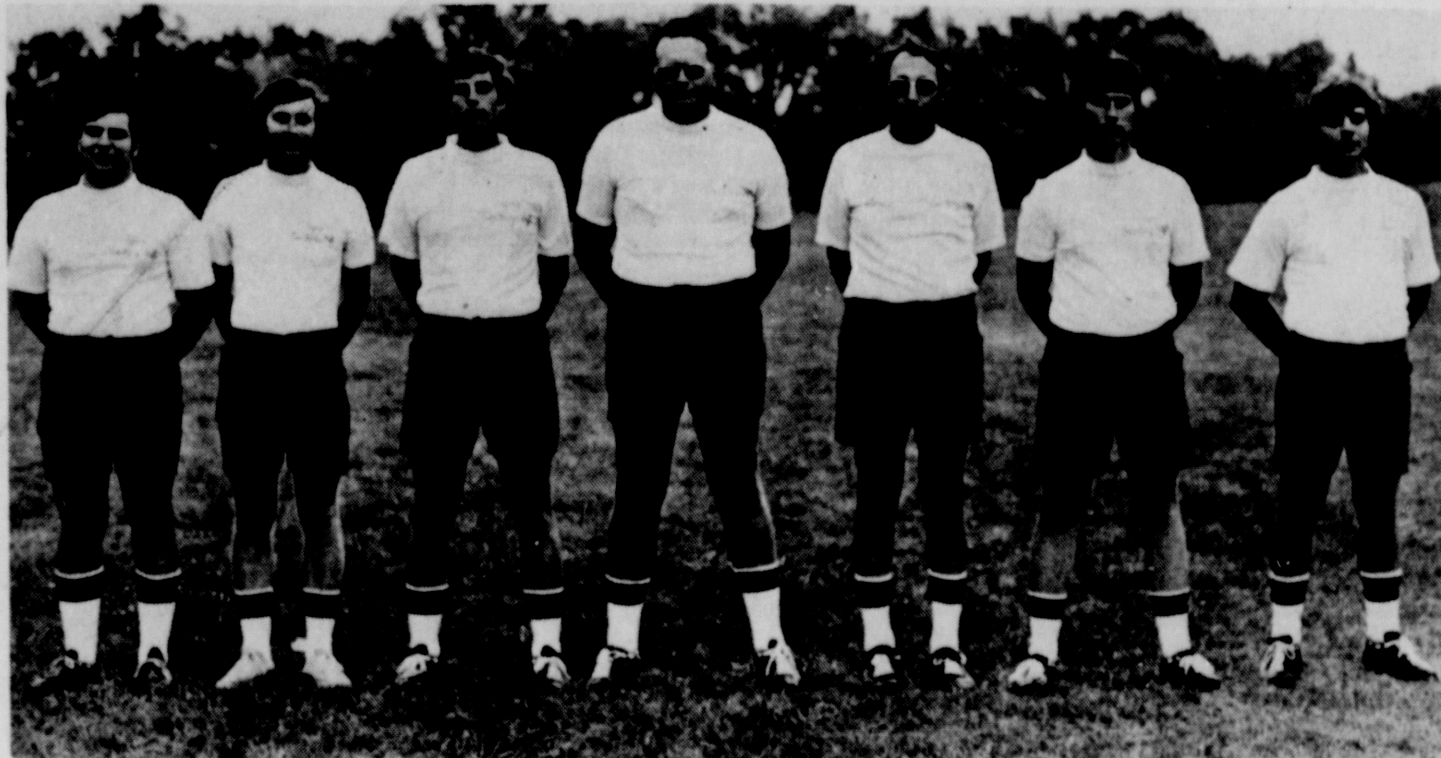

Since then, they have bombed Unioto 31-13, Greenfield 18-0, Wilmington 14-10, and Wehrle 41-0.

The teams have three common league opponents, making for interesting comparisons.

Circleville started off the year by losing to Greenfield 6-0, and then beat Wilmington 28-12 and Unioto 35-0.

In the three games, Circleville rushed for 756 yards and passed for an additional 165 for 921 yards total offense.

WCH rushed for 318 yards and passed for 361 for 679 yards total offense against the common opponents.

CIRCLEVILLE STAFF—Coaches who will be leading the Tigers into Friday's big game with Washington C. H. are, from the left, Tom Cole, Freshman coach; Ron Malone,

Biggest discrepancies are in the Unioto and Wilmington games.

Circleville penetrated Unioto for 346 yards rushing while WCH managed only 106 yards. And against Wilmington, the Tiger ground game accounted for 336 yards while WCH managed only 46.

The Blue Lions handled Greenfield with ease, gaining 166 rushing as compared with only 74 for Circleville.

Both teams scored 63 points against the opponents.

The Blue Lions had the better defense by 20 total yards.

They allowed the three teams 324 yards rushing and 138 passing for 462 total, while the Tigers gave up 351 yards rushing and 131 passing for a 482 total.

The teams scored 23 points against

WCH and 18 against the Tigers.

So it would appear the WCH will attempt to exploit the Tiger defense through the airways. Greenfield's Kensinger burned the Tigers for 93 yards on 6 of 9 completions and MT's Riley hit the Tigers for 92 yards on 7 of 15 passes.

"We feel we can stop the Washington running game," Cook said, even though the staff rates Blue Lion fullback Larry Dumford as one of the league's top performers. He has, however, not been used as a runner in many situations.

Quarterback Brown has a "good arm, and is a good runner." He uses the play action to freeze linebackers and rolls out to the play action side for the brunt of the passing attack. Receivers like to run two-man combinations on one side.

Dumford also anchors the 6-1 invert defense, geared to stop the running game, from his middle linebacker post. The Lions use man-to-man coverage in the secondary, a feature Cook feels his team can use to their advantage.

"I can guarantee we'll pass more this week," he said.

Circleville is coming off a well-played game against Unioto, a game that was gratifying for Cook because he had a chance to allow all of his players much game experience.

After reviewing the game films, the staff named Tom England the Tiger offensive lineman of the game; Pat McNaughton the Tiger offensive back; Tim Hartinger the defensive lineman; Perry Hoskins the defensive back; Phil Roll the specialty Tiger of the Week; and Luke Lawhorn the top practice Tiger.

There were 35 black helmet stars awarded.

Only change this week on defense is the insertion of Art Davis as the middle guard.

On offense, the right tackle will be Tom England and the left guard will be Brian Price.

"We're still improving," Coach Cook says. "We've yet to play our best game and have not peaked."

And, in his words, "the best is yet to come."

Jim LeClair Hopes Foot Stops Hurting

CINCINNATI (AP)—"It's hell to sit and watch. It's worse watching on television."

So said Cincinnati Bengals center linebacker Jim LeClair, who is hoping the painful tendonitis in his right foot will ease up finally so he can play Sunday against the Houston Oilers.

"I don't know how I hurt it, but it hurts," said the third year pro from North Dakota. The trouble with a foot injury is it keeps players from doing normal conditioning work, he said.

"The worst part is all the advice everybody has. All the doctors can say is stop running when it starts hurting."

Aggressive and quick, LeClair won his job this year after the Bengals traded Bill Bergey to the Philadelphia Eagles.

LeClair made it clear he wants no comparisons made. "I do my job," he said. "I do it my own way."

LeClair made a reputation for himself as a "head-hunter," an aggressive, pursuing tackler on the Bengals kicking teams for the past two years.

LeClair's right instep became agonizing in the third period of the San Diego game, second of the season, and he came out. Coach Paul Brown attributed the 20-17 loss to the Chargers, in part, on LeClair's loss.

son Jr., as the university record does.

Call him Ed Thompson, as his coaches and teammates do.

But he's "Welcome" Thompson to George Hill, the defensive coordinator for the nation's top-ranked college team.

The 19-year-old sophomore from Waverly, Ohio, will make his second successive start Saturday at Northwestern, filling in for injured regular Ken Kuhn.

"He's playing great football," Hill said, "and you can underscore great. He's really come along and it couldn't have come at a better time," Hill added.

The 222-pound Thompson went in when Kuhn was hurt in the second quarter against Wisconsin two weeks ago. He was in on 17 tackles in that victory and followed with 11 participations last week against Indiana.

Thompson started his Ohio State career as a quarterback, but recalled, "I was pretty low." He was no better than fifth string when his chance came to join the defense.

Athletic recognition isn't new for the Buckeye sophomore.

A 14-time letter winner in high school, he captained his football, basketball and baseball teams. Most of his career was spent at New Boston Glenwood before he switched to Waverly after his senior football season.

"My parents moved," he explained. "My dad got a new job, superintendent of schools in Pike County so I played basketball at Waverly as a senior."

Quarterbacking and basketball, Hill believes, made Thompson a better linebacker. The Ohio State coach said it helps Thompson understand pass patterns better and has improved his reaction.

NCAA Announces Tourney Pairings

KANSAS CITY (AP)—The National Collegiate Athletic Association has announced first-round pairings for its Division I basketball championship and may select 13 at-large teams to complete a 32-team bracket.

If 13 at-large clubs are selected instead of nine as in the past, there will be 16 first-round games, Tom Scott, chairman of the NCAA Tournament Committee, said Wednesday in announcing the pairings.

Whether 13 at-large teams are picked will depend on the quality of the available clubs.

Automatically qualifying for the tournament will be 15 conference champions from the East Coast, Atlantic Coast, Southern, Ivy Group, Mid-American, Southeastern, Big Ten, Ohio Valley, Southwest, Missouri Valley, Big Eight, Western Athletic, West Coast Athletic, Pacific-8 and Big Sky.

The other four teams will be champions from the four Eastern College Athletic Conference regional tournaments. They also qualify automatically and are bracketed as at-large entrants.

First-round games will be played March 15, regional games March 20 and 22 and the semifinal and final games on March 29 and 31 at San Diego, Calif.

The first-round pairings:

At the Palestra in Philadelphia — The East Coast and Ivy Group champions against at-large teams with Pennsylvania as host. At Charlotte, N.C. — Atlantic Coast and Southern Conference champions against at-large selections with Davidson College as host. The four winners will advance to the East Regional at the Civic Center in Providence, R.I.

At Alabama — Mid-American and Southeastern Conference champions against at-large teams. At Kentucky — Big Ten and Ohio Valley Conference champions against at-large teams. Winners will play in the Midwest Regional at the University of Dayton. At Texas Tech — Southwest Conference champion and three at-large teams. At Oral Roberts University, Tulsa, Okla. — Missouri Valley and Big Eight Conference champions against at-large teams. Winners will play in the Midwest Regional at New Mexico State.

At Arizona State University — Western Athletic and West Coast Athletic Conferences against at-large selections. At Washington State — Pacific-8 and Big Sky Conference champions against at-large teams. Winners will meet in the West Regional at Memorial Coliseum at Portland, Ore.

3 Liggins Brothers Aid Fremont

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Opponents see triple when they clash with Fremont Ross High School's miserly football defense this season.

The Liggins brothers all start for the school's defense that has posted five shutouts in a 6-0-1 campaign.

Senior twins Larry and Harry Wiggins rank one-two among Ross' leading tacklers. And their brother, Dave, a junior, is No. 4 in that department.

Larry is a 6-foot-1, 175-pound outside linebacker. Harry has the same dimensions and plays defensive end. Dave is a 5-11, 170-pounder who performs at defensive halfback.

Their brother, Tom, serves as the No. 1 fullback for the University of Cincinnati.

Fremont Coach Tom Hollman said, "the twins have the potential to play bigtime college football as defensive backs. And Dave already is one of our better defensive backs."

New Philly Computer Leader

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — New Philadelphia has scrambled back into a Class AAA regional lead this week in the Ohio High School Athletic Association computerized football ratings.

New Philadelphia, with seven successive victories, earned 75.16 points to replace Canton McKinley, also 7-0, as the Region 3 pacesetter.

Despite a victory over Dayton Roth, McKinley fell to fifth place in its region.

The ratings are based solely on victories and losses and a team's schedule strength. The OHSAA uses them to determine its semifinalists for the postseason playoffs.

Otherwise, it was status quo in Class AAA. Warren Harding, Upper Arlington and Cincinnati Elder remained No. 1 in their respective regions.

The Class AA ratings had the biggest shakeup, with new leaders in three of the four regions. Only Norwalk kept its top billing.

The new Class AA pacesetters are Wellington, Ironton and Dayton Jefferson.

The only change in Class A sent Newark Catholic to the top, joining Windham, Montpelier and Middletown Fenwick.

The OHSAA top tens by regions:

Hawaiians Rip Chicago

By HOWARD SNER
AP Sports Writer

After grabbing three touchdown passes during the World Football League scoring explosion by the Hawaiians, John Isenbarger made a startling disclosure. He enjoys running and catching the ball.

Randy Johnson threw for four touchdowns Wednesday night to lead the Hawaiians to a 60-17 victory in Chicago against the hapless Fire.

"I like playing wide receiver and catching the ball," said Isenbarger after the game. "The passes were right on target."

In the other WFL games Wednesday night, Florida beat Charlotte 15-11, Shreveport blanked Birmingham 31-0 and Philadelphia topped Southern California 45-7. Tonight, it's Memphis at Portland in the league's nationally televised contest.

A five year veteran who began the season with the National Football League's San Francisco 49ers, Isenbarger caught 10 passes for 135 yards — scoring on aerial plays of 28, 8 and 7 yards.

Johnson, a quarterback jumper from the NFL's New York Giants, completed 22 of 29 passes for 304 yards against Chicago before leaving the runaway contest midway in the third quarter.

Coach Mike Giddings of the Hawaiians got revenge for an earlier 53-29 loss to Chicago by handing the Fire its eighth straight defeat.

Leading 46-10, the Hawaiians made an onside kick, recovered the ball and scored another touchdown just five plays later.

It was all downhill for the 20,203 Chicago spectators after a spectacular 52-yard field goal by Allan Watson gave the Fire a brief 10-8 edge against the Hawaiians in the opening period.

The Hawaiians and Fire are both 7-10 with three games remaining.

Blazers 15, Hornets 11

With Florida's Tommy Reamon rushing 35 times for a total of 189 yards, the Blazers triumphed on a pair of second-half scoring passes from Bob Davis to Greg Latta — 19 yards — and Jim Strong — eight yards.

The Blazers, 12-5, boosted their WFL Eastern Division lead over the runnerup Hornets, 10-7, before 23,613 spectators in Charlotte.

Steamer 31, Americans 0

Shreveport, 6-10-1, upset Birmingham, 12-5, by gaining a total of 529 yards — 326 rushing and 203 passing — and keeping the ball for 20 minutes in the first half and another 20 in the second half.

Shreveport's Jim Nance, who scored on an eight-yard plunge for the first touchdown, rushed for 126 yards to join J.J. Jennings of Memphis and Reamon of Florida in the WFL's 1,000-yard Club.

Bell 45, Sun 7

Quarterback King Corcoran fired three touchdown passes and scored on a one-yard dive to give Philadelphia, 7-10, an upset against Southern California, 12-5, already the WFL's Western Division champion.

Corcoran, who hit on 13 of 26 passes for 174 yards, threw scoring tosses of 32 yards to Don Shanklin, 25 yards to Ron Holliday and 10 yards to Claude Watts.

Philadelphia's John Land became the fourth WFL running back to gain more than 1,000 yards. He rushed for 84 yards in 18 carries for a total of 1,001 this season.

Van Green Doing Well With Browns

CLEVELAND (AP)—When cornerback Van Green reported to the Cleveland Browns training camp as a rookie, the general feeling among the coaches was that he would become a star in the National Football League—if he survived.

The coaches weren't talking about his surviving the cut in his rookie year. They were referring to his physical survival.

Green is 191-pounds, 6 foot 1 and is one of those athletes who plays the game the way Coach Nick Skorich likes to see it played—"with reckless abandon."

Green made his mark last season as a rookie on the specialty teams when he repeatedly was the first defender to hit the ball carrier.

He got his defensive linebacking start late in the season when free safety Thom Darden and strong safety Walt Sumner were injured.

Skorich has been using him as a starter this season and when he needed improvement in the cornerback spot, Skorich moved Green from safety to the corner.

"Green helped solidify our defense," Skorich said after Green's performance in last weekend's 20-16 loss to the Pittsburgh Steelers.

Green hit a Steeler kick off receiver hard enough to cause a fumble. The Browns recovered on the Steeler 12 and could have given the Browns the impetus for victory, but the play was nullified by a penalty.

Mileti's Coliseum To Open Saturday

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Nick Mileti's $25 million sports palace opens Saturday night, and he can't even think of an "old Sicilian saying" for the occasion.

"I'm obviously ecstatic and very hyped," said Mileti, who has become famous for throwing out one-liners for every big occasion and then attributing it to his ancestors. "I'm addicted to the joint."

The joint—more politely known as The Coliseum—is the new home of the National Basketball Association's Cleveland Cavaliers, the World Hockey Association's Cleveland Crusaders, the World Team Tennis' Cleveland Nets, numerous college sporting events and entertainment specials of all kinds.

Chicago Black Hawks Defeat Capitals, 3-2

By FRANK BROWN
AP Sports Writer

It wasn't known immediately whether Wednesday night's Washington Capitals-Chicago Black Hawks game ended or if the teams simply declared a cease-fire with the score 3-2 in Chicago's favor.

The contest wasn't as much of a battle on the ice as it was off the surface when the final buzzer sounded. The Black Hawks bombed Washington goalie Michel Belhumeur with 42 shots to just 12 for the expansion Capitals, then losing coach Jimmy Anderson blasted a volley at the officials.

Bevly And Scott Top MAC Players

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio quarterback Rich Bevly and Toledo linebacker Ed Scott have been named the MidAmerican Conference players of the week for their efforts last Saturday.

Bevly was a one-vote winner over Ball State tailback Dave Blake, while Scott's selection was almost unanimous.

Wilbur Wood has put together four straight season of 20 or more wins for the Chicago White Sox.

Mideast Receives Big Farm Imports

WASHINGTON (AP) — Farm exports to the Middle East and North Africa may soar to $2 billion this fiscal year, accounting for nearly 10 per cent of total U.S. farm sales overseas, says the Agriculture Department.

The region, stretching from Morocco to Iran, bought $1.4 billion worth of U.S. farm products in the year ending last June 30, up from $521 million in 1972. Officials said oil revenues have been a major factor.

"Demand for food was strong before this major change occurred, but foreign exchange shortages limited food imports for some countries in the area prior to 1973, particularly Egypt," the department said.

The analysis was included in a monthly report, Foreign Agricultural Trade of the United States, published by the department's Economic Research Service. It was written by John B. Parker Jr. and Michael E. Kurtzig of that agency.

Although all the countries in the regions do not have oil, the flow of capital from those that do — including Saudi Arabia, Kuwait and Abu Dhabi — have helped others build up their foreign exchanges.

"U.S. farm exports to the area could reach $2 billion in fiscal 1975, mostly because of larger sales of wheat to Iran, Turkey and Egypt, and rising sales of rice to Iran, Iraq and the Arabian peninsula," the report said.

Also, the report said, sales of a wide variety of processed U.S. food to the Arabian peninsula countries are still thriving, including tomato products, canned fruits and juices, canned peas and beans, honey and popcorn.

Wheat exports in 1974-75 could reach five million metric tons for a total value of $900 million, compared with 4.2 million tons valued at $687 million last season, the report said.

Rice exports are expected to total more than 450,000 tons worth $300 million, up from 156,407 tons valued at $90 million last fiscal year.

Total U.S. farm exports to all countries are expected to be around $21 billion for the year ending next June 30, about the same as the record value set in 1973-74.

While quantities of some major items are expected to decline this year — including smaller total exports of wheat and corn — higher prices are pushing up the overall values.

During the first two months of the current fiscal year, for example, the total export value was $3.08 billion, up 14 per cent from July-August 1973

AT BOOKS IN THE CHILDREN'S LIBRARY

Do you dread it when your second grader wants you to listen to a book he is reading? Do you still believe that primary grade reading books are terribly dull?

Well, just look at the wide variety of easy readers for your child!

There are some beautiful color photographs in the "What Shall I Be When I Grow Up?" series. A new favorite is "What Can She Be? - A Veterinarian?". There are some touching shots of pet owners as they wait to hear the news of their dog or cat's condition.

Many of the most delightful stories of family life feature animals. Arthur and members of his chimpanzee family have a garage sale, but find it difficult to sell their beloved toys. The title of the book is "Arthur and His Honey Bear." The author has endowed his characters with qualities of generosity, warmth, intelligence and enough pure meanness to be believable.

Mysteries and adventure stories are favorites even in the second grade. There's suspense, a gang snowball fight and a girl who can throw better than the boys in "Binky Brothers and

the Fearless Four."

In "The Great Hamster Hunt" Nicholas allows his friends hamster to escape. Naturally there are many anxious moments before his friend returns from vacation.

"Dr. Merlin's Magic Shop" has all the elements of a successful adventure as a boy and his dog are victimized by a tall dark stranger dressed as a magician.

In "The Chocolate Chip Mystery" a boy must stay overnight in an empty store to discover the identity of a thief. There are plenty of chills in this story for good readers.

Walt Disney has created short adventure tales based on his popular movies. All have a vocabulary within reach of primary children. The latest title is "Robin Hood and the Great Coach Robbery." "Snow White" and "Peter Pan and Captain Hook" are also available.

Sesame Street Productions use the same style of nonsense in their "1,2,3 Storybook" as on their television program. The intense color and zooming activity are what sells the book to children.

Another wildly active book is "Ha Ha Hyenas" with a cartoon style of drawing and writing that travels in many directions. It is a little more difficult to read because of its style, but children will be attracted to it.

A new series is "Come To Work With Us in a . . ." The dairy, an aerospace headquarters and a television are some of the titles. What is unique is that the photographs show children posed actually working at an exciting job. In the aerospace book, the child has on an astronaut's space suit and is conducting experiments.

Come on in - help keep that second grader interested in reading.

Logan Elm Band Third In Competition

The Logan Elm Braves Marching Band placed third in class B competition in the 10th annual West Jefferson Marching Band Competition.

The band's show opened with a block band entrance drill to the sound of "March Grandioso" and continued with a squad drill to the tune of "MacArthur Park".

The feature of the show was a special color guard and display flag presentation to "God Bless America". The conclusion was a special field exit drill to the fanfare from the XX Olympiad.

The Logan Elm Braves Marching Band, much larger than in past years, has a total of 88 members. David Price is the LEHS band director.

The band will present the entire competition show at the Logan Elm-Liberty Union football game.

Woman Pleads Guilty In Manslaughter Case

CANTON, Ohio (AP)—Annette Kelley, 32, of Canton pleaded guilty to a reduced charge of voluntary manslaughter in the stabbing death of a Canton man Wednesday.

She was originally charged with aggravated murder in the death last month of 23-year-old Lemiel Flowers. She faces 4-25 years in prison.

despite a 6 per cent decline in actual quantities shipped.

The July-August export value of wheat was $4.24 per bushel, compared with $2.90 during the same two months last year, according to USDA records. Rice was 23 cents per pound, compared with 16 cents a year earlier.

President Edwin McConnaughey called the meeting to order. The Reverend John H. Currens, pastor of the Ashville United Methodist Church gave the invocation and also led the Pledge of Allegiance with McConnaughey.

UC President Eyes Salary Increases

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP)—University of Cincinnati President Warren Bennis today was expected to propose across-the-board raises for the faculty retroactive to September.

The 1,400 faculty members are scheduled to vote in a bargaining rights election Nov. 7-8. The median faculty salary last year was $13,300.

Elks Singers Present Night Of Harmony

The Elks Singers will present the second annual Night of Harmony 8 p.m. Nov. 2 in the Circleville High School auditorium. Student talent from Logan Elm, Circleville, Teays Valley and Westfall High Schools' music departments will be featured along with the Elks Singers.

Last year's edition of the Night of Harmony was highly successful. The $1,000 which was cleared was distributed to the four school music departments and the Cerebral Palsy Foundation.

Emceeding the program this year is P. J. Ryal with Mayor Frank Barnhill starting the evening with the Pledge to the Flag. Each of the four participating schools will present a musical program.

Concluding the two-hour show will be favorite selections done on the old-time flavor of the Elks Singers.

Ohio Weather

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Unsettled weather will continue over Ohio through Friday with skies occasionally clear and occasionally cloudy and a few widely-scattered showers.

A weak front that moved into the state overnight is responsible for the unsettled weather.

A few light showers fell overnight and fog and haze were reported over much of the state this morning. More fog is forecast Friday morning.

Lows early today ranged from the 30s and 40s north to the 40s and 50s in southern counties.

Highs today were forecast from the 50s to the 70s and lows tonight in the 40s and 50s.

Police Image Seen Good

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Four-fifths of Columbus area residents hold a favorable image of police, a Benchmark study reported.

Only 19 per cent of the 2,401 Franklin County residents interviewed in the study said they have a negative image of police. Thirty-one per cent of the young adults aged 18-24, 37 per cent of inner city residents and 47 per cent of the blacks interviewed said they have a negative image of the police.

Persons aged 65 and over, as well as residents of the north and northwest areas of Columbus, have an exceptionally positive image of the police. Persons earning $15,000 a year also gave police higher marks, the survey showed.

The report is the first of three to be issued in the project by the Academy for Contemporary Problems dealing with attitudes toward the criminal justice system in the area.

Hyperactive Rats Get 'Human' Ulcers

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP)—A Washington-based research scientist believes people, like rats, run themselves to death or suffer from psychosomatic ulcers for no apparent reason.

Dr. William P. Pare, chief of the Pavlovian Research Laboratory at Perry Point, Md., Veterans Administration Hospital, presented his case Wednesday to the American Association for Animal Science convention.

Pare noted that exercise has been recommended for animals as well as people, but an experiment with rats had adverse results seldom mentioned.

Two groups of rats were placed in cages. One group was provided with exercise wheels. The other group was not.

Eighty per cent of the rats with exercise wheels were dead inside of 14 days. Autopsies showed they died of ulcers. The rats without the wheels suffered no ill effects.

"We became extremely interested in this phenomenon," said Pare, adding that the rats were under no compulsion, either for food or electronic stimulation, to work.

The hyperactive rats were found on autopsy to suffer from severe stomach ulcers," he said.

He said experimenters discovered the hyperactive rats had sudden weight loss. They were older or female and underwent severe metabolism change.

Their condition could be compared to that of an extremely active person who neglects to eat well or rest but is not necessarily underfed or ill-treated.

These active rats when removed from their stressful activity needed considerable time to recover, and in many cases their ulcers remained, he

Pare said that while the phenomenon is not completely understood, the experiments represent a worthwhile research technique whereby the effect of psychosomatic ulcers can be investigated.

Your Horoscope

By FRANCIS DRAKE

Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is, according to the stars.

FOR FRIDAY
ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 20): A recently proffered suggestion to which you may not have given much thought could, quite unexpectedly, open new doors to progress. Think about it NOW.

TAURUS (Apr. 21 to May 21): You'll do best now if you cooperate with the plans of others instead of insisting on your own. Some friction possible in the latter case.

GEMINI (May 22 to June 21): An excellent day for all creative activity. Superiors should take an interest in your ideas. You can expect good cooperation from all, so take advantage of this chance to advance your status.

CANCER (June 22 to July 23): A mixed kind of day in terms of work. Your ideas are good, but you can meet with obstacles. There may be more to do than you expected. Take all in stride.

LEO (July 24 to Aug. 23): Consider all new propositions and suggestions carefully before accepting. Some deceptive influences, now prevalent, could lead to unpleasant involvements unless you are alert.

VIRGO (Aug. 24 to Sept. 23): As with Gemini, now's the time to put forth some of your more unusual ideas. Influential persons in your job or business should be extremely receptive.

LIBRA (Sept. 24 to Oct. 23): Correct errors or flaws in your program as soon as you note them. You are keen, so they won't be hard to detect. Don't be overly cautious and lose advantages, however.

satisfactorily.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 to Dec. 21): A new contact could be exceedingly important to your career aims. Activity increases in areas where you have recently been stymied.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20): Don't commit yourself to an inflexible program. Unforeseen circumstances will demand alterations—which could be better in the long run.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19): You find now that your creative urges are demanding some new form of expression. Don't smother the feelings. Try that new avenue.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20): A fine day for teamwork. Many useful ideas will result from an exchange of views with associates. Some good news indicated in the p.m.

YOU BORN TODAY have been endowed with a dynamic personality, tremendous ambition and outstanding versatility. You are capable of magnificent achievement "on your own" and are equally adept at coordinating your efforts with those of others for forceful, effective results. You like interesting activities and people; constantly search for the meaningful in life, and never let down in your efforts to improve your own lot and that of those dear to you.

Careerwise, your choices are almost limitless—as are your talents. You would make an outstanding business executive, leader of state, educator, writer, actor, artist, musical composer, aviator, architect or engineer. In fact, you name it, get to work on it—and you can get to the top in any line you like. Birthdate of: Adm. Richard E. Byrd, aviator, explorer; Pablo Picasso, renowned Spanish artist; and also for waiting out Strauss, composers.

Views On Television

NEW YORK (AP) — In many songs under construction, says lyricist Alan Bergman, "there are words on the tips of those notes. All we have to do is find them, that's all."

The other half of "we" is his wife, Marilyn. Together they've written lyrics for a string of hit tunes ranging from the wretched "Yellow Bird" to this year's lovely, Oscar-winning "The Way We Were."

While they've worded the theme songs of five television series, including "Maude," they haven't done much more in TV. But they're waltzing into it in a big way soon with "Queen of the Stardust Ballroom."

The show, which CBS says will air in January, is a dramatic musical written specifically for TV. It stars Maureen Stapleton as a freshly-widowed, middle-aged Bronx woman who finds a new life in ballroom dancing.

"If this had been for a high school theater in Dubuque, we still would have done it because the script was so special," says Mrs. Bergman, a warm, but no-nonsense woman. Like her husband, she's Brooklyn-born.

The casually dressed collaborators, Los Angeles residents the past 20 years, wrote the words for seven songs in the CBS musical, working with composer Billy Goldenberg and scriptwriter Jerome Kass.

The old question: Did the lyrics or music come first? Bergman, a soft-spoken man of 49, grinned.

"Well, we got the book (the script) first," he said. "The four of us talked about where we should spot the songs. In some cases, they were obvious, in others they were not."

While the music came first for six of the tunes, said his wife, collaborating on the answer, "the exception was the first song, which is really a 'book' song with a lot of important information. And that was lyric first."

She said that by "book song" she meant a tune which contains the same kind of plot-related material you'd find in spoken dialogue.

The Bergmans, together for slightly longer than their 16 years of marriage, looked somewhat befuddled when asked how often they fight while in the throes of composition.

"Us?" she asked. "We disagree. But we don't fight." "The one thing you learn as you grow older, hopefully wiser and you write more and more songs, is that the alternatives in putting together a lyric are endless," her husband said.

"So if we aren't satisfied or the composer isn't satisfied, then we find another way to do it."

Many would-be songwriters still in the June-moon-croon stage often seek salvation in rhyming dictionaries. Not so the Bergmans.

"We have one, but we very rarely use it," he said. "By this time, most of it is pretty much in my head."

"We're always looking for an idea," she added. "The rhyme is the least of it."

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE — Here's how to work it:
A X Y D L B A A X R
is LONGFELLOW

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophes, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

Hospital Board Discusses Finances; Employs New Director Of Nursing

After the finance report was given to the Berger Hospital Board of Governors at Wednesday's meeting, the members discussed the reasons for running behind last year's profit figure. One of the reasons cited was the reduction of accounts receivable by more than $35,000. Hospital administrator John Reid also pointed out that there were three pay periods during the month in review. The number of births is up ten over last year's figure at this time of year and for the month of September, births were up eight over the same month in 1973. Occupancy is running slightly behind that of 1973 both to date and for the month. Board members also discussed the fact that the average length of a patient's stay in the hospital is down. Betty Jolliffe, 545 Lawnwood Court, was employed as director of nursing at the rate of $12,000 per year. Mrs. Jolliffe had been approved by the medical staff and was highly recommended by both the medical staff and the hospital administration at the Shenandoah Hospital in Virginia where she has worked. She is originally from Adelphi and has returned to the area after her marriage.

Mrs. Jolliffe is to begin in her new position today. Prior experience has included another director of nursing position and nurse-anesthetist. It was also reported to the board that the $130,000 received so far from the settlement of the Bowsher estate has been placed on interest at the rate of 11.3 per cent.

The board met in a special session on Oct. 16 concerning the settlement of the estate. At that time a letter was approved which was sent to attorney Carl Leist relieving him of any taxes levied on the estate settlement by the internal revenue.

While discussing investments, the board approved the policy of always accepting the highest interest bid for as long as the time limit on the funds would allow.

Reid reported to the board that a total of $2,107.50 had been received from the memorial funds of Floyd Bartley, Helen Bowling, Harry Heffner and Hal Dickinson. This money had been specified for the special care unit and the building fund.

The budget for 1975 will be ready for the finance committee by next month and Reid advised the board members they would see an approximately 20 per cent increase due to inflation. He also said they may be forced to ask for another room rate increase. He pointed out that even with an increase, Berger would remain one of the lowest room rates in the area. If passed, the increase would not go into effect until after the first of the year.

Since only one response had been received from the medical staff, the board of governors decided to table the equipment budget until the next meeting. The budget had been sent to the medical staff for approval and failing to obtain that, the board of governors will wait for further response.

Dr. Emily Lutz had discussed with Reid the possibility of obtaining a fetal monitor and the question was posed at the board meeting. Representing the general guild, Mrs. Robert Liggett advised that the guild had budgeted $4500 toward the payment of a monitor but Reid pointed out that the price would be from $7500 to $9,000. The board felt the item should be sent to the medical staff for approval before any action was taken to purchase the monitor and allowing the guild to make part of the payment.

Mrs. Liggett also reminded the board members that the gift shop sale is scheduled for Nov. 7 and 8 at St. Philip's parish hall and the bazaar will be Nov. 22 at the Lutheran parish house.

A report on construction of the new addition included expenses so far encountered. Only $183,560 has been spent to date however, the projected figure for this time was close to $500,000. Reid stated that had the construction of the facility been on schedule, this figure would have been fairly accurate. The board approved payment of $54,509 which had been submitted this month on the construction costs.

Selection of the bricks and mortar for the exterior walls was also on the agenda. Four samples of brick had been brought to the site for the board to choose one. The feeling was a whole was to select the brick which was similar to the existing building and to have it laid

Auto Chief Claims Recession Here

DETROIT (AP) — Declaring that the auto industry and the nation are in a recession, the chairman of Chrysler Corp. has called for President Ford to work toward easing credit availability and encouraging consumers to spend rather than save their money.

"Recession is here in the automobile industry. Recession is here in the building industry. I would say recession is here in the country," Lynn A. Townsend said at a news conference Wednesday.

He said the President's economic policies are aimed in the wrong direction because recession and slack demand have superseded inflation as the auto industry's key problem.

"Our two problems in this country are inflation and recession. I think inflation has peaked, and very rapidly recession is taking the major spotlight," Townsend said.

"We have been in a program here where apparently the opinion has been that we can control inflation by dampening down consumer purchasing.

"I think it has gotten to the point that we should direct our efforts at stimulating the economy through consumer purchasing, rather than further depressing it."

The news conference came one day after the nation's No. 3 automaker announced an $8 million loss on third quarter sales. Chrysler showed an $11.2 million profit in U.S. and Canadian vehicle sales, but that was offset by a $19.2 million loss in overseas sales.

Chrysler raised its prices an average $415 in September, and Townsend said Wednesday there is "no doubt" another price increase will be put on 1975 Chrysler vehicles in the "near-term future."

Townsend confirmed that Chrysler is considering closing its Jefferson Avenue plant here, which builds full-sized and luxury models and employs 5,000 workers, as an economy move.

The firm's auto sales are down 18.4 per cent so far this year. Industrywide sales were off 28 per cent in mid-October from levels a year ago. For the year, sales are off 21 per cent.

Man Faces Death Penalty For Murder

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — One man faces a possible death sentence and a jury continued deliberations today on the fate of another in the July 17 slaying of a Cincinnati policeman.

A three-judge panel in Hamilton County Common Pleas Court on Wednesday found Ricardo Woods, 24, guilty of aggravated murder of a policeman in the commission of a robbery.

A jury in another courtroom retired for the night after deliberating nine hours in the case of Roland Reaves, 23, charged in the same case.

Patrolman David Cole was shot five times with separate guns when he responded to a holdup alarm at a carryout store in the Walnut Hills section of Cincinnati. The officer fired several shots before he died.

Both defendants live in Cincinnati. They were tried simultaneously in separate courtrooms.

The panel, which included Judges William R. Matthews, William S. Mathews and Robert L. Black, rejected Woods' offer to plead guilty to a lesser charge of murder.

The Ohio Revised Criminal Code now allows the death penalty for the shooting of a policeman in connection with an aggravated robbery.

The defense for both men contended that they had decided against robbing the store and were fleeing when stopped by Cole.

Reaves contended the officer began the shooting and he fired in self-defense.

Woods said at his trial that he attempted to talk to the officer but Reaves pushed past him and began shooting.

Court officials said Woods would face another court hearing before sentence is determined. The court ordered a psychiatric examination and a pre-sentence investigation.

Woods' hearing was scheduled for next month.

Council Rejects Cable TV Hike

HAMILTON, Ohio (AP) — Hamilton City Council unanimously rejected a $1 monthly cable television firm's rate increase request citing the firm's failure to extend service to all the city's, 70,000 residents.

Charles Greiner, attorney for the Hamilton Cable Communications Co., a subsidiary of the Telecommunications Corp., Denver, Colo., said the firm was broke and needed the city's help.

"We are losing money and cannot continue to," he said. The firm now charges $4.95 monthly. Greiner said expansion delays were forced by shortages of money and equipment.

Alfalfa Seed Crop Up 2 Per Cent

WASHINGTON (AP) — The 1974 alfalfa seed crop is expected to total 104.7 million pounds, up 2 per cent from last year, says the Agriculture Department.

The California seed crop is estimated at 29.5 million pounds, up 16 per cent from last year. But Idaho and Washington, the next largest producers, expect to have smaller crops, the Crop Reporting Board said.

Significant increases, however, were estimated for Oklahoma where the 1974 seed crop was put at 6.6 million pounds compared with 4.9 million last year, and in Utah, estimated at 4.42 million against 2.3 million in 1973.
